

ALL CITY TO FEAST AND WORSHIP TODAY

Portland Churches to Hold Union Services.

GRIDIRON CLASH LISTED

Eric V. Hauser to Be Host to Newsboys at Dinner at Multnomah Hotel; Day to Be Quiet.

EX-SERVICE MEN AVAILABLE AS THANKSGIVING DINNER GUESTS.

Listed at Liberty Temple are 100 ex-service men without work, who might appreciate an invitation to Thanksgiving dinner. The day of festal celebration will dawn in stately fashion for most of these boys, unless someone asks them out to eat turkey and treats them like regular fellows, as Portland did one year ago today.

By HEN HUR LAMPMAN.

There's a great deal to be thankful for—though "fun" is rather high—there's still abundant sunshine—and fleecy realms of sky—and, if you haven't turkey—as may befall some folk—why, chicken is a really bird adversary in a job—and, best of all, not one of us—however fat we deal—is somewhere out in Russia—at a Bolshevik meal.

Thanksgiving comes to Portland today, to the big hotels and the little cottages, with a quieter message than that of last season—when the echoes of the cannon had scarcely ceased in France, and all America gave to Providence the gratitude for deliverance from further strife and for the victory that had been granted to the flag, less than a year ago this year, this morning, but with most of her sons home again, the day in Portland is without special observance, other than the reunions and bountiful tables that always mark the festival.

Newsboys to Eat Turkey.

Union services will be held in some churches, with special Thanksgiving services in practically all of the city's houses of worship. At noon today in the Multnomah hotel the newsboys of Portland will be the guests of Eric V. Hauser, as they have been in former years, with a turkey dinner served in the Arcadian garden, Maxon Block and other citizens, whose hearts are warm for the "newsies" will sit at the festive board and make brief addresses.

Union Services Announced.

Union services will be held this morning at 10:45 o'clock at the First Methodist Episcopal church, with the congregations of the First Congregational church, the English Lutheran church and the Epworth Methodist Episcopal church participating. The following is the order of service: Doxology, congregation and choir; Thanksgiving proclamation, Rev. Joshua Stanfield, D. D.; harvest hymn "I'm Tired," congregation; prayer, Rev. W. E. Bingham; quartet, "I Shall Dwell in the Land"; Scripture reading for giving day, response, page 32, Rev. J. Stanford; Memorial Thanksgiving offering; solo, "Thanksgiving," Miss Josie Peterson; sermon, Rev. W. T. McElveen, Ph. D.; hymn "O, America," benediction, Rev. W. E. Brinkman.

Union Thanksgiving services will be held at Temple Beth Israel at 11 o'clock this morning, with the Unitarian and Jewish congregations of Portland joining in the observance. There will be prayer by Rev. William G. Elliot, scripture reading by Rev. E. Abrahamson, reading of the president's proclamation by Rabbi Jonah B. Wise and a sermon by Rabbi Arthur Modatz, with special music by the choir and a benediction chorus. Services at Trinity Episcopal church will open at 11 o'clock with special music and a brief address by Dr. A. A. Morrison.

Rev. E. H. Sawyer to Speak.

The services at the First Presbyterian church will be held at 10:30 this morning. Rev. Howard Agnew Johnston will deliver a sermon on "Thanksgiving Day, Its Inspirations and Its Character" in the special musical programme the regular church quartet will be assisted by a double quartet.

The First Christian church and its kindred congregations will hold union services at 10 o'clock, with Rev. E. H. Sawyer, pastor of the East Side Christian church, delivering a message on "America, the Hetr of the Ages." An especially fine musical programme will be given.

Special Thanksgiving services will also be held at 10 o'clock, with Rev. E. H. Sawyer, pastor of the East Side Christian church, delivering a message on "America, the Hetr of the Ages." An especially fine musical programme will be given.

BEAUTY SPECIALISTS TELLS SECRET

A Beauty Specialist Gives Home-Made Recipe to Darken Gray Hair.

Mrs. M. D. Gillespie, a well-known beauty specialist of Kansas City, recently gave out the following statement regarding gray hair: "Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water, add a half-ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 4 ounces of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at a very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."—Adv.

Liberty.

TO FALL in love with her husband was the calamity which overtook Judith Rouleux, pretty heroine of "Her Kingdom of Dreams," starring Anita Stewart, which is playing this week at the Liberty theater. "Fatty" Arbuckle shares honors in this week's bill at the Liberty. He is seen in "The Hayseed," a picture full of laughs, each one as big as the comedian himself.

Perhaps the plot of "Her Kingdom of Dreams" is slightly melodramatic, but who does not get a real thrill out of well staged, played and directed "melodrama"? Marshall Neilan, director of Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long Legs," and other now famous productions, is probably the man responsible for the genuine strength of "Her Kingdom of Dreams." Mr. Neilan was in Portland only last Tuesday. He accompanied by his manager, William Bomb, Marjory Day and Lewis Stone, spent about five hours in the city during which time they stayed at the Benson hotel and decided without stirring from that hostelry that Portland had no scenery of beauty within its limits or nearby and so took the train back to California.

The plot of "Her Kingdom of Dreams" deals with a small town girl who craves the adventures of city life. She has the excitement her soul desired. Working from the position of secretary she becomes the private secretary of a man who believes in her so thoroughly that when his will is read it is found that he has left her his entire estate with the request that she marry his son. The request is fulfilled and in a spirit of fair play the girl turns her property to her husband, to whom she is rightfully betrothed. Then she considers her part of the bargain has been filled. The outcome of the story is decidedly novel although entirely satisfying.

Screen Gossip.

Doris Dawn, who has just completed her work in "The Tower of Ivory," has been cast as Florry in the Will Rogers feature "The Strange Boarders," being made by Clarence Badger. B. F. Blinn has been allotted a role in "The Blooming Angel," the George Kennedy starring vehicle, taken from a Saturday Evening Post story and being directed by Victor Schertzinger.

The cast of Mary Roberts Rinehart's "Dangerous Days," being and at the First Church of the United Brethren, East Fifteenth and Morrison streets, where Rev. Ira Hawley will deliver the sermon.

Special Thanksgiving services will be held at 10:30 this morning at Westminster Presbyterian church, East Seventeenth and Schuyler streets. Rev. E. H. Pence, pastor, will deliver a sermon on Americanization problems and the assimilation of aliens. Special music will form a portion of the service.

Up to the very verge of the holiday Thanksgiving fowl have held the lofty perch that was predicted by the sagacious commission merchants long ago. Turkeys were selling last night at 55 cents a pound—far above the lowly chicken, duck or goose. The Christmas fowl, were offered at from 10 to 15 cents less than the Thanksgiving gobblers.

BOYS COMMIT BOLD DAWLIGHT ROBBERY

Railroad Automobile Held Up and Occupants Searched.

$10.65 OBTAINED BY BAND

Brush and Timbers Are Placed on Track Near Milwaukie to Stop Machine; Cheap Guns Carried.

Four headless youths, none of whom appeared to be more than 17 years of age, held up the Carver railroad automobile at a point two miles east of Milwaukie yesterday morning and relieved the conductor, O. M. Cable, and the two passengers of $10.65 in silver. One of the passengers was H. G. Gutz of Coullville, who was en route to Clackamas station to visit with relatives for Thanksgiving. The other was E. Frankenhauser of Portland.

The youths had piled brush and heavy sticks upon the rails in a deep cut of the road near a heavily wooded section, and when the driver stopped to clear the track three of the boys jumped from the brush and armed Cable to "stick 'em up." They lined up the two passengers and made a hurried search of their clothing.

Cheap Revolvers Carried. Two of the boys were equipped with cheap nickel-plated revolvers and wore handkerchiefs as masks. The third, who was unarmed and unmasked, searched the passengers and motorman in an armed youth held the victims at bay. The boys were rank amateurs at the business, said the passengers, as they made no attempt to thoroughly search the men. They took what silver was found without attempting to locate bill cases or purses.

After completing the robbery the boys jumped from the car and scrambled up a steep bank along the right-of-way. After the train had proceeded for a short distance the boys returned to the railroad track and walked into the wooded area, where all trace of them was lost.

Although four of the youngsters ventured forth on the escapade, but three of them actually took part in holding up the passengers. The fourth is believed to have lost his nerve at the crucial moment, as he rejoined his companions after the robbery had been completed.

A long-distance call was received by Sheriff Hurlburt nearly an hour after the robbery had occurred, and Deputy Sheriff Schirmer, Hurlburt, Lamont, Wilson, Kendall and Rexford hurried to the scene in an automobile. They traced the robbery into Milwaukie, where it is believed they boarded an electric train back to Portland. It is believed the youths live in the vicinity of the robbery as they seemed thoroughly familiar with all conditions and the schedule of the train.

Home of Japanese Visited. The four youngsters stopped at the home of a Japanese a short time before the robbery and had an argument with the owner of the home. When the owner threatened to get a Clackamas county milkman likewise saw them shortly before the robbery, walking down a road toward where the train was held up.

According to the conductor of the car, which is an automobile equipped with railroad car wheels, and the passengers, the boys appeared to be highly nervous and after they left the train they were in plain view of the men for several minutes. Had either the conductor or passengers possessed a gun, the young bandits easily could have been shot.

Boishevik Plot in Java Foiled. THE HAGUE, Nov. 24.—The Dutch East Indian government has ended what is alleged to have been an extraordinary bolshevik plot in Java and other Dutch East Indian colonies under the guise of an anti-Japanese boycott.

Photoplay fans who remain true to their old favorites will be interested in the announcement that Marguerite Snow, long recognized as a screen beauty of exceptional appeal, has returned to action pictures after an absence of several years. She is playing an important part in support of Pauline Frederick in "The Woman in Room 13," the A. H. Woods stage success, which Frank Lloyd is converting into a photoplay. Among others in the remarkably strong cast assembled for this drama are Sidney Alinsworth and Emily Chichester.

Wanganui falls, a nature study of remarkable beauty, taken in a picturesque part of New Zealand, was before listed by a motion picture cameraman, is accorded the title position in the new Photoplay, to be released December 7. Other subjects in this issue are one of the "Master Minds of America" series, being compiled by the East Indian colonies cartoon of the type that has become so popular among the followers of the best in screen entertainment.

A photodrama based on Gouverneur Morris' novel, "The Penalty," will be the first production by the eminent author and the sixth in the series of Eminent Authors' pictures. "The Penalty" contains some of the most amazing characters and situations in American fiction and was released December 7. Other subjects in this issue are one of the "Master Minds of America" series, being compiled by the East Indian colonies cartoon of the type that has become so popular among the followers of the best in screen entertainment.

observed here by the closing of industries, the schools, business houses and a complete suspension of business and Union services on the various churches of the city will be held at the Presbyterian church in the morning, where the Thanksgiving sermon and benediction will be given by Rev. E. R. Lockhart of the Methodist Episcopal church.

A football game between Eugene and Marshfield high school teams at Marshfield will be the principal amusement feature of the afternoon, and a concert and dance at the Fireman's hall will furnish entertainment for the evening.

The Dalles Firm Entertains. THE DALLES, Or., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—The local canning and preserving plant of Libby, McNeill & Libby showed its employees a real Thanksgiving today and will close all day tomorrow. RUSSIANS WANT TO GO 12,000 IN AND NEAR SEATTLE ASK TO LEAVE COUNTRY.

Chairman Confers With Federal Officials—Matter Is Taken Up With Washington.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 26.—(Special.)—Twelve thousand Russians now living in and around Seattle want to go back to Russia. Paul Grib, chairman of the committee appointed by the Russians to make arrangements for the departure of those who wish to return to Russia, said Wednesday that the names of 7,000 men, in many lines of work and business, were on the lists of those who want to return to the bolshevik territory. With the wives and children of these, a total of 12,000 is reached, Grib claims.

Following a mass meeting on November 18 a committee headed by Grib called upon United States officials in an effort to arrange for passports. They were told by Immigration Commissioner White to see officials of the department of justice. Following this advice, they say, they went to United States District Attorney Robert C. Saunders, presenting their petition to him. Mr. Saunders said that he had taken the matter up with Washington, D. C. He said that he saw no reason why the Russians could not return to their native land if they mean what they say. They will be given every assistance toward making the start by the federal officials, he said.
