Our 50c Mexican Pinoche Pound 39c

Just received—a new shipment of the genuine Mexican pinoche sugar.

Enough to make this one more "grand" special before the Christmas candy rush is on.

Packed in pound folding boxes. Many people will want to lay it away for Christmas because pinoche keeps fresh as long as almost any candy we know.

Pinoche made in the MEIER & FRANK candy kitchen adjoining the candy store is "different."

Perhaps you saw the candy-makers combining it. First they took the moulded Mexican pinoche sugar which looks like maple sugar from New England, next they added pure cane sugar, sweet cream, butter, pecans and walnuts. It cooked just so long and then was poured out into the proper pans and cut into the required size.

Pure—delicious—everybody likes it! 39c while any remains.
