

CLOTHING PRICES TO SOAR NEXT SPRING

Samuel Rosenblatt Says Demand Is Greatest Ever.

FACTORIES ARE HELPLESS

Portland Merchant Finds Country Is Exceptionally Rich and is Spending More for Clothes.

"There never was so much prosperity in this country of ours as there is right now."

Samuel Rosenblatt, of the local clothing firm of Samuel Rosenblatt & Co., is authority for the foregoing statement.

"The enormous demand for good clothing is all the proof this statement needs," said Mr. Rosenblatt yesterday.

"Prices have advanced greatly in the last few months and apparently are going even higher. This is due to the unprecedented demand and the shortage in certain supplies.

"I found clothing manufacturers making great preparations to meet the increased demand."

"It's the same way with the makers. There just isn't enough factory capacity and there aren't enough workers to turn out clothes fast enough."

"The fact that something like three million men have come back into civilian clothes has helped to do with the enormous demand. Then, too, workmen everywhere are getting higher wages and millions of men who never bought good clothing before are buying it now."

"Another thing that impressed me is the fact that a large share of the money that used to be spent for intoxicating liquors before prohibition went dry is now going into wearing apparel for men, women and children."

"This has an important effect on the demand for good clothes, and it's not a temporary effect, either. It's bound to last."

"There have been some big style changes for spring. We are feeling the effect of English and French styles more than ever before. That, of course, is because so many of our young fellows have been abroad and have seen what they are wearing over there."

"Sport Suits More Popular." "The great popularity of what is known as the sport suit is due largely to the fact that well-dressed young men have these sport clothes for outdoor occasions in addition to their regular business and dress clothes. They are good looking and convenient, and they're destined to have even better success in the future."

"Coats will be longer next spring and the waist line lower. There will be some noticeable changes in pocket and lapel treatments. The collars will be longer and the buttons lower too and the peak lapel has a tendency to cut away to a lower collar."

"The new styles are most attractive. The changes which are being made are all in the direction of next spring's showing of men's clothing will be the most pleasing that we have seen for many seasons."

NEW CONFERENCE BEGINS

CAPITAL-LABOR PEACE MISSION IS ORGANIZED.

Secretary Wilson Chairman and Herbert Hoover Vice-Chairman. Executive Session Held.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Under the permanent chairmanship of Secretary of Labor Wilson, another attempt to harmonize relations between capital and labor was begun today with the opening of the second national conference, called by President Wilson, Herbert Hoover was elected permanent vice-chairman and Stanley King of Boston, temporary secretary.

The second conference began behind closed doors after newspapermen present had been asked to leave. Speaking for the conference when the first session adjourned after more than three hours of discussion, Mr. King said executive sessions would be continued "for the present" and that the question of opening the doors had not yet come before the delegates, several of whom are understood to favor utmost publicity.

Secretary Wilson explained before he called the delegates to order that he believed executive sessions advisable to permit frank discussion, while allowing the delegates to keep their minds open until a decision was reached. He declared their ideas should not be "chained" to first expression of opinion before hearing what other delegates had to say.

In opening the conference Mr. Wilson recited the general situation which required new deliberations by delegates, all of whom have been prominent in public life and few of whom have been identified with either side in industrial controversies of the past.

The general field of activities to be covered and the best methods of dealing with each subject were discussed without a decision being reached. The cost of living, collective bargaining and other problems of the day entered into the talk.

None of the delegates would venture an opinion as to when the conference would finish its task.

PHONE TENDER REJECTED

ELECTRICAL WORKERS REFUSE TO ACCEPT OFFER.

Oregon, Washington and Nevada Unions Vote Against Strike; Federation Is Recommended.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—Results of the recent referendum of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in Oregon, Washington, Nevada and California, announced today, showed the less than 50 per cent of the membership voted on questions at issue, and the question of calling a strike was rejected.

The proposal of the telephone company, Oregon, Washington and Nevada unions voted against the agreement and also against calling a strike. California unions voted against accepting the agreement, but in favor of the strike by a small majority. The entire vote on the strike was:

For the strike 356, against 352. By a vote of 243 the electrical workers decided in favor of forming a "telephone federation" to handle the grievances.

The proposal of the telephone company, voted down by the unions, offered some wage increases, but not as much as had been asked by the unions.

SUIT FOR $87,500 FAILS

Company's Title to 50,000 Acres Upheld Against Claim.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 1.—The right of the Sound Lumber company to retain 50,000 acres of timber land in King county, Washington, against the claim of W. F. Hayes, executor of the company, was affirmed by the United States circuit court of appeals here today.

Hayes originally sued for $87,500 as the result of certain work in perfecting leaseholds on the company's land. Although directors telephoned to several who have criticized the manner in which school money has been handled and expressly invited them to appear, the only outsiders present were reporters.

Utter lack of interest was shown in the session and it was necessary to send an automobile to locate enough directors to form a quorum before the budget could be acted upon.

"Apparently the budget pleases everybody," said R. H. Thomas, clerk, in commenting on the adoption of the budget. "Had this not been the case, we would certainly have had a houseful this morning. The Taxpayers' league, which has been most persistent on the heels of the board, was requested to send a representative in, but failed to do so."

The increase over last year's fund amounted to $224,006, and in order to raise the needed amount a tax levy of 8.5 mills will be required.

The budget was: George B. Thomas, A. C. Newmill and George Orton. O. M. Flummer is out of the city and Dr. E. A. Sommer was unable to leave a surgery case in one of the hospitals.

SCHOOL BUDGET ADOPTED

LACK OF INTEREST SHOWN BY ABSENCE OF OBJECTORS.

Increase Over Last Year $224,006. Tax Levy of 8.5 Mills Will Be Required.

Objectors to the school board's handling of district funds failed to put in an appearance yesterday morning at the public meeting held in the courthouse for the purpose of adopting the $2,468,000 budget for 1920. Although directors telephoned to several who have criticized the manner in which school money has been handled and expressly invited them to appear, the only outsiders present were reporters.

EARLY DAY SETTLER DIES

MRS. SAVANNAH WHITNEY PASSES AT GOLD HILL.

Woman Who Saw Middle West and Northwest as Undeveloped Country Succumbs.

GOLD HILL, Or., Dec. 1.—(Special.)—With the passing away of Susanah Whitney, this community has lost a citizen whose memory covered the greatest progress and development not only in the northwest, but in the middle west as well. Mrs. Whitney witnessed interesting incidents in the days when the great Mississippi valley was largely an undeveloped region.

Mrs. Whitney was born in Kent, England, August 15, 1822. She came to the United States and for 25 years was a resident of Ohio. She saw Chicago when it was known as Fort Dearborn, then a comparatively small and unimportant town of the west.

In 1855 she moved to Medford, Or. For a number of years she had lived with her daughter, Mrs. John W. Short, at Gold Hill, where she passed away on last Friday in her 98th year.

YOUTH SAVES COMPANION

Plucky Man Swims Half Mile, Towing Friend.

NORTH BEND, Or., Dec. 1.—(Special.)—H. E. Bowen, Erick Smith, Walter De Weese and Lloyd Smith of this city narrowly escaped death from drowning yesterday morning, when a gasoline launch in which they were crossing the bay caught fire forcing them to jump overboard half a mile from shore.

The gasoline feed pipe was disconnected to remove an obstruction and escaping gasoline became ignited from a lantern in the bow of the boat. An explosion resulted which soon enveloped the launch in flames.

Bowen, who is a good swimmer, divested himself of his clothing and with a life preserver assisted De Weese to safety by swimming to the boom of the North Bend mill, a distance of nearly half a mile. Erick and Lloyd Smith managed by the aid of life preservers to keep above water until a boat reached them and they were brought ashore.

The courage, cool-headedness and endurance displayed by Bowen in assisting De Weese to reach shore safely at the risk of his own life has been the subject of much praise and commendation here.
