

MULTNOMAH TO HOLD PREP BASKET MEET

Winged M Will Provide Way to Settle Superiority.

GAMES SET FOR MARCH

Club Plans to Invite Unbeaten Hoopers to Take Part in Elimination Series.

The first state interscholastic basketball championship tournament which was staged under the auspices of the University of Oregon last year will not go into the discard as the result of the rule adopted that none of the colleges hold high school championship meets.

It is the present plan of George A. Anderson, basketball chairman of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, to invite all of the undefeated state interscholastic teams to compete in a tournament which will be staged in conjunction with the first annual Pacific association basketball championship tournament at Multnomah club some time in March.

The University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural college scheduled various state interscholastic events in 1918 and the first of this year out of which arose quite a squabble over slight unpleasantness.

The state basketball tournament would be a great success if the Multnomah club would take the event over and provide a good show.

Basketball practice at the various high schools and prep schools of the city is rapidly getting under way. The coaches are anxious to get a line on the prospects for the coming year and have been putting the hoopers through preliminary workouts.

The Hill military cadets commenced their practice the first of the week. Dr. Harry Estes, an overseas service man and a graduate of an eastern college, is coaching the cadets.

Kearns said he had telegraphed east for "Bill" Tate, the champion's sparring partner, to come to Los Angeles at once.

Goulet and Madden led in the point score for the sprints with 122 points.

REED CLASS PLAY STARTS

SENIORS DEFEAT JUNIORS IN BASKETBALL CONTEST.

Freshmen Are Victorious Over Sophomores by Score of 36 to 32; Both Games Fast.

Basketball play started at Reed college yesterday afternoon with games between four class teams. The veteran senior quintet cleaned up on the juniors by an overwhelming score of 32 to 11 and the "frosh" were victorious over the "sophs," 36 to 32. The younger players won the latter game in the last two minutes of play through the stellar work of Rockey.

The senior-junior game started with the older team in the lead, but springing a surprise on the juniors as well as spectators by the display of finished team work in the first game. Swett was the big gun in the first half, with six field baskets, and Captain Irie a close second with four.

The juniors made only three points during the first half. The second period went heavily to the seniors. The team's passing was the best seen at the Reed gym for some time. Foley, Robinson and Workman worked hard for the losers. Brockway, the juniors' reliable center, went out of the game with a dislocated finger. Irie was high point man with 13 while Swett looped 18.

The freshmen-sophomore game was a close contest to the last. The "sophs" obtained a lead in the first period and maintained it through the work of Stone, Beach and Kelly. Rockey went in for the freshmen as forward during the last half and saved the game by piling up an individual score of 17. Piluso and Weinstein shone for the winners and Beich for the losers.

The lineups follow: Seniors (32): Peterson, Henry, Robinson, Swett, Foley, Rockey, Workman, Irie, Beich, Elsworth, Wainstein, G. G. Sophomores (36): Piluso, Stone, Weinstein, Beach, Kelly, McIndoe, Cunningham, Substitutions: Spearman for McIndoe, Rockey for Swett. Referee, Shumway.

CHRISTMAS CONTEST OFF CORVALLIS AUTHORITIES OPPOSE NOTRE DAME GAME.

Players Would Be Required to Keep in Training During Examination Period, Say Faculty.

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis, Dec. 3.—(Special)—The Oregon Aggies' football team will not play the Notre Dame eleven in Portland on Christmas day. This was the edict of the college authorities regarding the contemplated post-season game as announced today. No opposition, it is said, would have been forthcoming from the college authorities had the game been played as originally intended Saturday, December 6, but on the condition of the classic on Christmas day, thereby resulting in members of the Aggie eleven being kept in training during the period when examinations are in progress, especially after having been in training since September 15, did not appeal to the college authorities.

Immediately after the Aggies' defeat of Washington State college in Portland, November 23, an invitation was extended to three of the eleven in the country to give battle to the Corvallis lads in Portland, December 6. The candidates were the university of Illinois, Syracuse and Notre Dame, Illinois, by virtue of a rule of the big ten conference, is not allowed to participate in post-season games and declined the invitation. Syracuse also was unable to accept. Notre Dame advised it was unable to play on the day designated by the Aggies, but suggested the game be played on Christmas day.

Members of the team will meet this week at which time a captain for the 1920 season will be selected.

NOTRE DAME, Ind., Dec. 3.—No word of cancellation of the football game between Notre Dame and Oregon Agricultural college eleven scheduled for Christmas day at Portland has been received here, other than that contained in an Associated Press dispatch. It was stated tonight by Coach Rockne of Notre Dame that when official notice of the cancellation is received, negotiations for a game at Pasadena, Cal. on Christmas day, may be started.

OAKS' UNWELLED TO HAVE 3 NEW FACES

Rollie Zeider to Play Second on Revamped Outfit.

WISE SLATED FOR THIRD

Rodgers in Market for High-Grade First Baseman.

Three new infielders are to gambol in Oakland costumes next season. To be more exact two of them will be new and the other one will be Rollie Zeider, who will bring back to the league the same old nose, but an assortment of buntions that he didn't have when he went away.

Zeider is slated to play second base and get himself ready to take the job of manager when Del Howard gets ready to quit and be a rich, but honest farmer.

"Red" Wise, purchased from Toledo, will succeed Rod Murphy at third base for the Oaks. Rod having been sold to Seattle. Louis Guisto is to return to Cleveland and right now Cal Ewing is grappling after a first baseman. He has a deal pending, which he hopes to close within a few days, involving the trading of Billy Lee, the outfielder, who was sent to Omaha last season.

If Lee does not figure in this trade he will be used in another deal designed to bring a catcher to the Oaks. Rowdy Elliot is up on the auction block. If nobody wants to buy him he may go on the chopping block, it being certain that as far as the Oaks are concerned Rowdy's head will come off.

Ewing figures that he has plenty of outfielders and he is satisfied with Sammy Bohne at short. Four men will complete his team—first baseman to succeed Guisto, a catcher to divide the backstop work with Mitze and two regular he-pitchers.

"Judge" McCredie has found it impossible to secure waivers on Pitcher Carroll Jones and Outfielder Jack Farmer, all of which is important if true. Jones helped the Beavers but little last year as his salary arm was forward during the last half and saved the game by piling up an individual score of 17. Piluso and Weinstein shone for the winners and Beich for the losers.

The deal for "Babe" Pinelli, former third baseman for Sacramento, who was drafted by the New York Americans to go to Detroit, has just been completed. It would not be altogether surprising if "Babe" finally landed with the Beavers again, whence he got his first start several seasons ago. Manager Walter McCredie can use a good infielder and has one coming from Detroit. If "Babe" does not work up to snuff in the big show look for him with Portlan. The Yankees owed Detroit a player for sending Willie Mitchell to the Vernon club.

Zinn Beck, Vernon third sacker, has just about concluded arrangements in the east to handle a club in the South Atlantic league. He will have to get his release from Vernon and it looks as if the Tigers may get an option on that club for turning Beck over.

"Vinegar" Bill Essick, manager of the Vernon 1919 champions, has signed a young Seattle semipro—named E. Blossom. Bill saw Blossom work when he was a bud in Seattle and thinks highly of the youngster.

Charley Graham, manager of the San Francisco Seals, has announced the signing of Roy Corhan for field captain for next season. The latter is one of the greatest infield veterans of the league, and around third base and shortstop there are none better than Roy in the minor leagues. Graham also has announced that Justin Fitzgerald will be used only as a pinch hitter next season. "Fitz" is a great batter and always has finished above .300 in the Coast league. In running bases he is far better than the average player, but his arm has held him back from being valued as a big leaguer.

President Klepper and Manager Wares of the Seattle team seem to be enthused about going east to pick up players for the Sitwash club. Charley Graham and J. Cal Ewing were in the east attending the baseball gathering of minor league managers, but as yet nothing more than one or two deals have been announced. Ballplayers are not so easy to find as Klepper and Wares may believe.

The report that Harry Wolter may be traded by the Sacramento team has been taken seriously by many of the Sacramento fans and sporting writers of the Pacific coast. The scribbles say if Rodgers want to trade Harry he can do it in a minute as almost every team in the league would be glad to step out of their way to get a batsman who slugged his way to a .329 clip last season. Wolter is rated as one of the smartest players in the Coast league and the baseball critics look to see the managers of the league rush with fancy offers after the season ends.

There is much objection voiced to the trading of Wolter. Harry is a favorite hero and his hitting and throwing won many games for the Senators last season. Should Wolter go next season it will break up the team regarded as the best outfit of the league last season, in Middleton, Eldred and Wolter.

GRESHAM LOSES ONE CONTEST Hood River Alone Defeats Team During 1919 Season.

GRESHAM, Or., Dec. 3.—(Special)—The Gresham high school finished its football season by defeating Canby last night. The Gresham high turned out in five years the most successful team in this year. The team won six games out of seven, defeating the High School of Commerce (Wash.), twice, Washington, Forest Grove and Canby high, and losing to Hood River. Gresham's rival, Estacada, would not play the Gresham team this year. Whether Gresham is too strong for Estacada is not known.

Gresham had a strong and heavy team this year, the average weight being about 160 pounds. The quartet of Forest Grove and Canby high were reported to be practically depleted of fish and need restocking badly. The work in that direction in the past year has accomplished some good, but more planting is held necessary.

A government announced that a government hunter and trapper will work in the Santiam national forest next spring to try and rid the forest of predatory animals. He will begin work in March or April.

The report of Mr. Hall showed that grouse are plentiful in the woods of Linn county and that bear are plentiful in the mountains. There are also from 12 to 20 elk in the limits of the Santiam forest.

In his address Mr. Shoemaker announced that the state fish and game commission had adopted a policy of holding all birds raised on the state game farms near Corvallis and Eugene until spring, instead of turning them loose at the end of the hunting season as was formerly the case. The birds accordingly will not have to forage for themselves in the winter months. He said that the first 500 birds ready to be liberated next spring would be turned loose between Albany and Harrisburg.

Why? The answer is "just enough Turkish" Fatima steadily outsells the straight Turkish cigarettes because in Fatima's famous blend the heaviness of "too much Turkish" is entirely absent. Even if a man smokes more than usual, Fatimas taste right and leave him feeling right. In a word, Fatima contains neither too much nor too little, but "just enough Turkish." Prove it for yourself. Try smoking just enough Turkish.
