

RIGHT TO USE COURT IS NOT DENIED ALIEN

Request for Directed Verdict in Damage Suit Denied.

CASE IS AGAINST POLICE

Ex-Judge McGinn, in Prosecuting $5000 Action, Alleges Department Is Full of Corruption.

The fight of an alien enemy to prosecute a damage action in the courts of Oregon was sustained by Circuit Judge Morrow yesterday over the vigorous objection of Stanley Myers, deputy city attorney, when he refused to direct a verdict in a suit brought by an alien who admitted he had escaped military service by making the use of the courts, as had his two well-set-up and healthy brothers who testified in the case with him.

Mr. Myers asked the court to direct a verdict in favor of the defense in the suit of George Christ against Isaac Darrow and Alpha E. Burkhardt, police officers, in which false arrest is alleged, on the ground that the plaintiff was not entitled to come into court, on his own declaration that he was an alien enemy.

"There have been considerable labor and money spent on this case, which is drawing to a close," replied the judge. "We are here and are going through to the end. I do not favor any motion which would deprive anyone of the use of the courts, irrespective of his nationality."

Similar Cases Cited. Judge Morrow quoted cases in which aliens were permitted to sue in the courts of the United States. Mr. Myers contended that the jurist made no distinction between non-resident aliens and enemy aliens.

Case Involves Arrest. The case involves the arrest of George Christ at Fourteenth and Marshall streets, June 7, 1919. He declares the arrest to be entirely unprovoked and asks $5000 damages from the arresting officers, who beat him, he says. The defense is that Christ was with his brothers, Kooste Christ and Maladin Christ, the former a convicted bootlegger, and that he was injured when roasting arrest, following the purchase of a suspicious package from a suspicious person.

Moral Squad Called Mockery. "This moral squad is a delusion, a mockery, and an insult to the law," he said. "We all hold our noses at it. We all know it is an dishonest as the coinage of hell. We enforce the law, but not lawbreakers to enforce it."

S. C. PANDOLFO ON STAND FALSE ENTRIES IN FISCAL AGENCY BOOKS ADMITTED. Stock Sale Transaction Is Bared. $112,000 Spent Without Getting Vouchers, He Says.

CHICAGO, Dec. 4.—Cross-examination of S. C. Pandolfo, witness and defendant in the Pan Motor fraud trial, was nearly finished today. Only the reading of one report remained. Pandolfo is the last of the 13 officials of the St. Clair (Mich.) corporation to take the stand.

He admitted today that false entries had been made in the fiscal agency books of the company to show his income to be less than it really was. "I did this to cover any chance losses which might occur," he explained, "such as the theft of money by a stock salesman or the like."

That was money I spent during the early days of the company in 1916 and 1917 and for which never took the trouble to get vouchers," said Pandolfo. A book written more than 1000 years ago mentions two breeds of poultry still being raised in China, while incubators now used are the same in principle as those employed in Egypt 4000 years ago.

BUNGALOW IN WOODS DREAM OF WINIFRED BYRD, PIANIST

Oregon Musician Visits Father in Salem on Way to Portland, Where She Will Appear in Recital Sunday Afternoon.

SALEM, Or., Dec. 4.—(Special).—The secret of success, whether it be in mastering any of the difficulties and trials attendant to the thousands of other higher attainments of life, requires hard work, diligent and painstaking study, and above all, a determination to reach the goal, according to Winifred Byrd, the latest American pianist sensation, who arrived in Salem today after a triumphal tour, which took her as far east as New York, through the southern states, San Francisco and other Pacific coast centers. She will pass today and tomorrow the home of her father, Dr. W. H. Byrd, of this city.

Miss Winifred Byrd, Oregon piano star, plays in concert, Alcazar theater, Sunday 3 P. M.

Miss Winifred Byrd is a wisp of a girl, with steady, clear blue eyes that look straight at you from out a shock of thick and wavy, bobbed hair. Yes, she is more than that, she is an Oregon product, and a pianist in miniature may be one's first impression as this young artist seats herself at the piano. The "little devil of the keyboard," however, is sure to be the echo at the conclusion of her renditions, which have charmed many an audience since she became complete master of her art.

Individuality Is Asset. "You see," said Miss Byrd, "piano playing is not a matter of technique alone. I believe absolutely that every student of music, after he has reached a certain stage of development, should go to his own individual way."

Energy Is Unusual. Winifred Byrd's tremendous energy and seemingly impossible strength for so small a body have impressed upon many more than her admirers.

low in the woods. I want to be all around me anywhere—just to have the woods and cut-of-doors for inspiration and not the ugly brick walls, disgusting chimneys and fire escapes of the big city.

Health Important Issue. "I believe health goes hand in hand with legitimate art. Health should be made the important issue. I shall learn to allow a student to keep his muscles. I shall swim to develop muscle. To come out and conquer an audience, you must be in fine physical condition, never weaker than those for whom you are playing. I dread to go on the platform if I am not up to the mark. It was only will power that brought me through some of my most triumphal concerts."
