The new International league club owners will be first to gather, going into session tomorrow with David L. Fultz, president, in the chair. One of the most important actions of the magnates will be the transfer of the Newark club franchise to some other city. Syracuse, N. Y., apparently is favored.

On Tuesday the National league will hold its annual meeting. The directors will formally award the 1919 pennant to the Cincinnati club and conrant to the Cincinnati club and consider the 1820 schedule which, it is understood, probably will consist of 154 games. The question of a new agreement with the minor leagues also may come up. A new board of directors will be elected, but John A. Heydler, president, will hold over.
