"Let's Be More Careful"

Do you realize the real reason why there are so many accidents on Fortland's streets?

Most people are careful, but not careful enough, especially when crossing the street.

If everyone would seriously stop and admit that "too much haste" or "neglect to stop and look," when they are exposed to passing vehicles, is the real cause of accidents the real cause of accidents the real cause of accident, everyone wants to avoid it, both for themselves and for others. The only way to accomplish satisfactory results in this campaign is for you and everyone to not only be careful as usual, but to especially observe the word "more" in

"Let's Be More Careful"

When crossing the street, stop or slow down more than usual and look, look, LOOK in all directions before going forward, Umbrelias carried by pedestrians are dangerous unless unusual care in looking is observed by the one who carries it. Side curtains on automobiles are dangerous, especially at night, when it is difficult for the driver to see in all directions. These and many other dangers that threaten you, when crossing the street—exposing you to accident and perhaps death—should be kept constantly in mind, especially during the holiday rush, this month; therefore, join the campaign whose slogan is

"Let's Be More Careful"

Christmas Sale of Furs

All our women's fur coats, fur capes, fur coatees, fur collars, throws, scarfs and stoles are now being offered at reduced prices. No wonder people are seizing upon the opportunity to buy for themselves and gifts.

It's very pleasant to hear what customers are saying about the furs. Just the other day someone told us that a French Seal coat priced $190, reduced to $170, in another shop, was exactly the same as one here originally priced at $165, now reduced to $140. Not only was the fur the same, but even the lining was identical. Perhaps such comparisons are to be found more or less frequently. We have observed that many customers have returned recently and chosen their furs here after inspecting what could be had in other places. -Meier & Frank's: Fourth Floor. (Mail Orders Filled.)

THERE'S NO END TO DANCE LURE, SAYS DUNCAN GIRL

"Once an Intelligent Person Begins There's No Telling Where She-or He-Will Stop," Declares Heilig Entertainer.

BY LEONE CASS BAER. E an intelligent and enterprising individual goes in, as no telling where she-or he-will stop," said Anna Duncan at the Benon yesterday. Anna's name isn't Duncan any more than mine is. She told me what it was but it's Swiss and I've forgotten it. She and the five other girls who dance with her took the name of Duncan 16 years ago when they joined Isadora Duncan ago when they joined Isadora Duncan and became her pupils and protregees. For 16 years the six have danced under Miss Duncan's guidance and after this tour they plan to return to Paris and teach in the Isadora Duncan School of Dancing.

They have danced all over Europe and this is their first American tour. They started on a tour before, and got as far as cultured Boston, when the mayor there stopped their appearance because the six slim maidens danced in their bare feet. Which only goes to prove again that morals are a matter of geography.

Anna Duncan said someone had told
