

MRS. TABOR'S DEATH LAID TO HEMORRHAGE

Ex-Undertaker Admits Marriage to Woman Victim.

ANALYSIS IS COMPLETED

Testimony Submitted by Michigan University Pathologist Dismisses Murder Theory.

LAWTON, Mich., Dec. 10.—Maud Tabor, former school teacher whose body was found concealed in a trunk ten days ago, came to her death as the result of hemorrhage during child birth, in the opinion of Dr. A. S. Wartin, University of Michigan pathologist, who today submitted a report of his laboratory analysis of the woman's vital organs. The expert testimony was accepted by officials as disposing of the murder theory, but when asked if other charges might be lodged against the woman's mother, Mrs. Sarah Tabor, and her brother, Walter Tabor, whose extradition is being sought from California, or others connected with the case, they refused to divulge any further plans they might have. Dr. Wartin stated that apparently Miss Tabor, who was 18 years old, had been attended by a person with some technical skill, that the body had partially been embalmed and that there were no signs of disease that might have caused death. J. C. Virgo, a former undertaker of South Bend, Ind., recalled to the stand, changed his previous testimony and admitted that he was married to Miss Tabor at Lagrange, Ind. in 1915. He also told of his five other marriages.

GIRL WHOSE DEAD BODY WAS FOUND PACKED IN SALT IN TRUNK IN HER MOTHER'S HOME.

MISS MAUDE TABOR.

The body of Maude Tabor of Lawton, Mich., was found packed in a trunk full of salt in her mother's home, by her sister, Mrs. Florence Tabor Critchlow, who occupied the house. Examination of the body showed an unborn infant of eight months. Maude Tabor disappeared more than three years ago. Her mother said she had gone to Colorado Springs and died there. Discovery of the body set the machinery of the law at work. Mrs. Tabor and her son Walter were traced to the Pacific coast, to Freewater, Or., thence to Yreka, Cal., where they were arrested and are now awaiting the arrival of officials of Van Buren county, Michigan, with requisitions for their return. Joseph Virgo, an undertaker of South Bend, has also been arrested. It is believed he knew of Miss Tabor's condition prior to her death and also of the disposal of her body.

districts last night tried out the sleeping facilities of the city jail. It was a case of the lion and the lamb, rather the patrolman and the crook lying down together.

About 50 officers who were stranded for the night were accommodated at the station. Some slept in the emergency hospital, others in the club rooms and others in the jail itself. Police Captain Inskeep staked out his claim on the top of a table in an office adjoining police desk and considered himself fortunate. The automobile patrol wagons were superseded yesterday by a bob-sled and a sleigh, both horse drawn, and the garage at the station was converted into a stable. One of these vehicles was used for hauling the mayor and commissioners home last night from the city hall.

The Drama League's first offering of the season will be given by Miss Ellen Van Volkenburg, in her dramatic impersonation of Barriette "Alice-Sit-by-the-Fire," at the Little theater Friday evening, December 12, at 8:15.

Though seldom giving anything but her impersonations, Miss Van Volkenburg has consented to speak for a few minutes on the beginnings of the Chicago Little theater, which at this time should be of great interest to all having an interest in the Portland Little theater, which is again open for public performances after being closed for two years.

MAN TAKES POISON, DIES

Act Attributed to Jealousy of Wife's Love for Parents.

Jealousy is believed to have prompted Harry Campbell, 28, to take poison at the home of his father-in-law, F. Little, at 62 Ella street, yesterday afternoon at 3:30, as the result of which he died. According to Dr. John R. Steagall, who was called to attend him, the young man took 30 grains of the poison, a two-grain dose of which is enough to kill. The young man is said to have been jealous of the affection of his wife for her parents. He and his wife had recently been living at Oak Grove. Tuesday the girl's father said to have gone out there and taken them to his home on Ella street.

It is thought that the present snow storm will have disappeared by Saturday and Republicans in the county and in other cities in the county will be able to attend.

YAKIMA CONFERENCE HEARS CANDIDATES

Republican Policies Urged to Combat Radicalism.

CALL FOR FUNDS IS MET

All Speakers Denounce Tri-Partite Organization Plan to Take Possession of Party.

YAKIMA, Wash., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Out of the conference of republican workers of Yakima, Benton, Franklin and Kittitas counties, just concluded here, has come a demand for concerted action in the state of Washington to rid the government of every destructive element that is contributing to conditions of unrest prevalent throughout the nation. The conference was in the nature of a challenge to radicalism backed by a united party determined to turn back the government to the patriotic and constructive guidance of republican statesmen. The Yakima conference was strong in performance. Chairman A. B. Stewart of the republican state finance committee made a check for $500, and the necessity of co-operating with the republican national committee in combating the huge democratic fund of $5,000,000 and forthwith the meeting subscribed approximately $6000 for state and national campaign purposes, pledging an additional sum later. The Wapato delegation sent up a check for $500, and Franklin and Benton counties gave assurances that they would subscribe whatever amount is allotted by the state committee. The west is to be the political battleground next year. It is no longer mere fighting ground, and the republican state committee who were present at the Yakima conference hammered hard on this point. The importance of republican success to the future welfare of the nation was emphasized by all speakers, and found instant response from the large audience of men and women present. The Yakima conference favored the old-fashioned political rally. The parade of gubernatorial aspirants was not the least interesting feature of the programme, and three candidates took advantage of the opportunity to speak their little pieces, and they did it well. Governor Earl's letter announcing his candidacy for re-election was hardly in the nature of a surprise to the candidates who were on the ground. Criticism by Hervey Lindley of Seattle of Governor Hart's policy in handling the coal strike was the dramatic feature of the meeting and furnished the real thrill. Senator E. T. Coman of Spokane and Senator George B. Lamping of Seattle, introduced as candidates, made no specific announcement of their intentions, but left the thought that they expected to file. Colonel Rolan H. Hartley of Everett spoke as an active candidate for the republican nomination. The principal speech of the evening was made by Carl E. Croson of Seattle, who exposed the plot whereby the leaders of the triple alliance hope to move in and take possession of the republican party next year. The conditions the place would have remained open, and all of the speakers denounced the motives back of the tri-partite organization.

GLACKAMAS POLITICS BOIL

ELECTION MAY BE CALLED TO FILL SENATORIAL VACANCY.

Representation Problem Results If Governor Olcott Decides to Call Special Legislative Session.

OREGON CITY, Or., Dec. 10.—(Special.)—Governor Olcott's action in announcing a special session of the Oregon legislature may precipitate a special election in Clackamas county for the purpose of filling the vacancy caused by the death of State Senator Walter A. Dimick. Under ordinary conditions the place would have remained open, as the vacancy would have been filled at the general election in November of next year in time for the newly elected senator to take his seat in the legislature at the regular session in January, 1921. The constitution provides that in the event of a vacancy in the legislature the governor shall issue a writ to the district affected for a special election to fill such vacancy. The governor said today over long-distance telephone that his attention had just been called to the matter and that he had given it no thought and would later determine what course to pursue. Should he call the special session upon ten day's notice, as was done by Governor Chamberlain, there would be no time to issue a call for a special election. In the event of a special election, the vacancy in the house due to Mr. Schuebel's resignation would also have to be filled.

JONAH STORY ATTACKED

BIBLICAL ACCOUNT BRANDED MYTHICAL COMEDY.

Dr. Richard Green Moulton Says Narrative Devoid of Truth.

King James Version Hit.

Copyright by the New York World. Published by Arrangement.

LONDON, Dec. 10.—(Special Cable.)—The Biblical story of Jonah and the whale is a mythical comedy, according to Dr. Richard Green Moulton, chief of the department of literature in the University of Chicago. Professor Moulton, an Englishman by birth, yesterday addressed a gathering of Wesleyans at Bath, where he was educated as a boy.

"The story of Jonah and the whale, upon which so many sermons have been based, is utterly devoid of truth," Dr. Moulton said. "It was a commentator who introduced the narrative of the whale into the book of Jonah. He wrote it in his manuscript by way of a book note and as a commentary."

"The King James version is not the true Bible. It lacks entirely the distinction of literary form. The King James translators made a bad job of it. A series of texts. They gave us a chapter of beads, but a chaplet with the string broken. It gives strings of broken miscellaneous topics of eratory."

TELL OTHERS OF VALUE OF MENTHO-LAXENE

COLD AND COUGH SYRUP

Mrs. M. Luding, 138 Beacon avenue, Jersey City, N. J., writes:

"I find the Mentho-Laxene just fine and would not be without it. It has been in our home for three years, and I hope your Free Health Book is as good as the Mentho-Laxene, etc."

With very little advertising, hundreds of thousands of bottles of Mentho-Laxene are sold every year by druggists, and each year the sales grow larger. Get a 3/4-ounce bottle, concentrated, and mix with simple syrup to make a full pint. Directions and guarantee of satisfaction are with each bottle. A pint lasts a long time for the whole family. It is cheaper and better than ready prepared medicines, but easy to mix.—Adv.
