

THE STRIKE IS OVER!

With This Week's Number The Literary Digest
Resumes Its Regular Method of Publication

120 Pages—Many Entertaining Pictures

ABOUT nine weeks ago the pressmen employed in the publishing business in New York City presented demands to their employers for increased pay, and other conditions so radical that they were necessarily refused. The employing printers offered a temporary increase of $6.00 a week in wages, instead of the $14.00 asked for, and expressed a willingness to submit all demands, including that of wages, to arbitration. This was refused by the pressmen and a general walk-out ensued. A few days afterward, the typesetters, in sympathy with the striking pressmen, left their employment ostensibly upon a "vacation." The result was a tie-up of practically every magazine published in New York City with the exception of THE LITERARY DIGEST, which, as an emergency measure, resorted to the photo-engraving process of publication, and the magazine has appeared ever since in typewriter type face.

Now, the compositors and pressmen have returned to work upon the terms originally offered by the employing printers—the submission of all demands to arbitration.

Consequently, THE LITERARY DIGEST, commencing this week, December 13, resumes its old familiar appearance.

It is interesting to know that the "Digest's" experiment in typeless printing has started more than two score inventors to work along this line to perfect methods that may make typesetting superfluous and render Guttenberg's famous invention of moveable types an outworn device. Some of the interesting news-articles in this week's "Digest" are:
