IN THREE YEARS 10,000 TRIALS HELD.—A very strange coincidence, the beginning of the series of circuit court cases—which run 10,000 to a series—was on December 19, 1916, and the H series started yesterday, December 18, 1919, three years later to the day.

STATE'S GREAT DEVELOPMENT.—PUBLISHED IN THE OREGONIAN ANNUAL. The Oregonian annual edition, which will be issued January 1, will be a complete, detailed exposition of the remarkable progress that has been made throughout Oregon during the past two years. Owing to the war, no annual edition was published last year, there being a shortage of paper, so that in this issue there will be a full resume of the development for 1918 and 1919. There has been expansion in every line of business throughout the state, commercially and industrially, and Oregon's products now command the attention of the whole world. Articles on various phases of development, illustrated with photos and pictorial maps, will be features of the annual edition.

This means that in three years' time exactly 10,000 suits have been filed in the circuit courts in law and equity or a fraction over 3333 a year. There are approximately 203 judicial days in the calendar year which would make the daily rate of cases exactly 1. SHIPWORKER ACCUSED OF THEFT.—Gene B. Price, 17, shipworker, was arrested yesterday at Sixth and Washington streets, by Detectives Coleman and Morak, charged with having prowled in apartment 9 in the Todd apartments, 2127 and 2129 1/2 street, and taken jewelry and other articles valued at $85. He was taken to Emanuel hospital by the Arrow Ambulance company.

His bail was set at $500. He will be tried on a charge of larceny in the municipal court today.

Action to make Portland streets safer for pedestrians was taken at the East Side Business Men's club's monthly dinner on Wednesday night when the club, after being addressed by Traffic Captain H. A. Lewis on accident prevention, endorsed strongly the movement for traffic regulation in this city. A resolution was passed by the club calling upon legislators to make any necessary changes in the laws to safeguard citizens. E. E. Indorsement of the movement was given by the club.
