WEDDING OF much interest to the smart sets of Portland and Seattle took place here Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, when Miss Gladys Bolton became the bride of Edwin James Frohman at St. Mary's parish house, in the presence of the families. The service was read by Father Campbell.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. George Bolton of Seattle and the bridegroom is a son of Mrs. I. Frohman of this city and brother of Miss Stella Frohman.

The young couple left for California, where they shipped their car, and will tour California for a month.

Mrs. Lee Hoffman was a charming hostess for luncheon yesterday at her apartment, 765 Davis street, when she entertained the Arts and Crafts society.

An interesting group of young married people will leave tomorrow by motor for Gearhart, to remain over New Year's. They will have Mrs. Henry McCracken's cottage in the party.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Dolph and Mr. and Mrs. William Lines have taken Mrs. Frohman's cottage at Gearhart for the month of January. They will motor down tomorrow.

Maxine Stout, Virginia Umbdenstock, Leonard Irwin and Charles Carr will entertain about 500 of their young friends with a dancing party at the Irvington club tonight.

A pretty double wedding was celebrated at 2 P. M. Christmas at the residence of Dr. E. Lavalley, 338 East Twenty-eighth, North. Rev. Oswald Taylor of the Episcopal church officiating.

The bridal parties were the doctor's eldest son, Leslie E. Lavalley, and Miss Violet Frahm and Sylvester Peterson and Miss Violet Larsen. The bride was attended by Miss Margaret Taylor of the Episcopal church officiating.

Miss Leonora Pillsbury, daughter of Mrs. A. Paulsen of this city, and Everett B. Higgins were married at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday, December 24, Dr. Levi Johnson officiating.

Mrs. George A. Chipman was a charming hostess for a Christmas dinner at her residence 887 Sherman street. The house and table were most artistically decorated with the season's greens and colors, the main feature being a tree, from which Claud Shipman delivered gifts for the guests, with a little speech for each one.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Parker of Seattle are in the city for a few days and are staying at the Benson hotel. Mrs. Parker was Miss Katherine Woolsey of this city.

Miss Elizabeth Peacock was another charming hostess last night for a dance at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Peacock, on Lovejoy street, in honor of Miss Helen Honeyman and Arthur Brown, whose engagement was announced recently.

Miss Margaret Cook and Miss Susanna Caswell were two charming young hostesses last night at the Waverly country club, when they entertained about 150 of their young friends. The club was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the affair was one of the most festive and enjoyable dances of the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Caswell received with their daughters.

The Christmas college ball was a great success last night. The affair was given at the Multnomah hotel, where they had taken both ballrooms, and several hundred members of the college set made merry. Many of Portland's most prominent women were patronesses and assisted with the punch bowls.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Dec. 29.—(Special.)—One of the gayest parties of the year was held here Friday night when Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Keir gave a dancing party in honor of their nephews, Arthur, Louis and James Fenemora. The former is just home from a service of two years and

"Acid-Mouth" Starts Those Tooth Cavities

You must have teeth filled from time to time because unfavorable acids are constantly at work in your mouth.

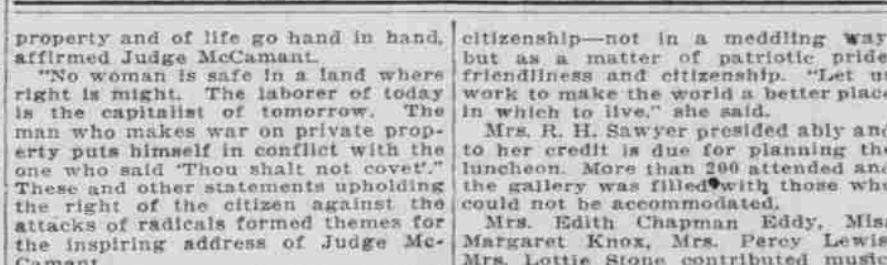

It is estimated that 95% of all people have "Acid-Mouth" and that it is the chief cause of tooth decay.

The best preventative is to go regularly to your dentist, and use Pebeco Tooth Paste twice a day.

PEBECO TOOTH PASTE

Counteracts "Acid-Mouth" Pebeco stimulates the healthy, alkaline flow of saliva, the most natural counteractant of "Acid-Mouth."

Pebeco whitens and brightens the teeth, and makes your whole mouth feel years younger.

property and of life go hand in hand, affirmed Judge McCamant. "No woman is safe in a land where right is might. The laborer of today is the capitalist of tomorrow. The man who makes war on private property puts himself in conflict with the one who said 'Thou shalt not covet.' These and other statements upholding the right of the citizen against the attacks of radicals formed themes for the inspiring address of Judge McCamant.

Judge Roseman of the municipal court said that one out of every 12 or 13 persons was arrested and he cited reasons for various accidents. The responsibility of the pedestrian as well as that of the auto driver formed an important part of his address.

He said that at East Eighty-second street and the Powell Valley road there is a dangerous crossing, but to keep the number of bills and amount of legislation down as much as possible, encouraging rather movements and work that will create a public co-operation in enforcing some of the good laws already on the statute books.

ADDRESSES that inspired, made us artistic and exercises by young people from the Washington school for the deaf in Vancouver made up the programme for the luncheon of the Portland Women's Research club at the Hotel Benson yesterday.

Judge Wallace McCamant, who spoke of the right to private property, said that three principles on which this country was founded—the right to personal security, personal liberty and to own private property—are the incentives that urge the individual on, that insure homes and safety of the community. The right to acquire, enjoy and transmit property should not be taken away by the radicals, suggest, said Judge McCamant.

He said these rights are enjoyed by millions who could not be called capitalists. He declared that in the hands of private owners the railroads, telegraph and telephone companies had rendered a service far greater and more efficient than when held under government control.

"Who will work if the fruits of his labor are liable to be seized by someone else?" asked the speaker. He spoke of the results of the enactment of the homestead laws in 1862 and the mineral entry law in 1872. He declared that the laws that drew men westward was the faith in the law and order assured them by the federal constitution. He said the public credit is wholly dependent. Property is created by the combined efforts of labor and capital, he stated, and neither will do its part except as the right of private property is recognized. Protection of

Thomas Clark of Washington school for the deaf demonstrated yesterday the women with a cordial greeting and an address on the opportunities of club life. She spoke of the opportunity to take a part in civic life, in matters that pertain to the public health and in training for

FEMALE DISORDERS

Chronic Constipation, Nervous Exhaustion, Gout, Tumor, Rupture, Hemorrhoids, Lumbago, Sciatica, Rheumatism and many other diseases are cured by correcting spinal lesions.

WHY?

Study the photographs taken of normal and abnormal spines. Note in the abnormal spine the contraction or settling of bases of vertebrae.

LOOK AT THE RESULTS: the nerves which conduct vital energy to all organs of the body are impinged or pinched between the vertebrae at the places where they leave the spinal canal and cord. The organs supplied by the affected nerves can no longer functionate correctly, their supply of vital nerve energy is obstructed, they become INACTIVE, PARALYZED, DISEASED.

Don't Say Your Case Is Hopeless and Incurable

Correction of spinal lesions has resulted in curing diseases that were at one time thought incurable. My life has been devoted to scientific investigation of this subject. The reward for my efforts is yours. THIRTY MINUTES ARE RESERVED IN GIVING TREATMENTS, WHICH ARE PAINLESS, INVIGORATING.
