BROWN TO DRAFT BILL

APPROPRIATION TO AID CRIPPLED WORKERS SOUGHT.

Investigators Favor Establishment of Physio-Therapy Department by State.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—A bill providing for an appropriation to establish methods for physical and vocational rehabilitation of industrial cripples, in connection with the operation of the state industrial accident commission, has been referred to Attorney-General Brown for drafting. It is expected, according to members of the commission, that the bill will be completed and in shape for introduction in the legislature soon after the special session convenes.

At a meeting held in Portland yesterday a subcommittee of the special committee named recently by the governor to make recommendations to the legislature pertaining to increased compensation rates, unanimously indorsed a proposed law authorizing the commission to set aside $100,000 of its present funds and 2 1/2 per cent of its annual income to establish this service for crippled workers. Members of the subcommittee attending yesterday's meeting are G. B. McLean of the Crown Willamette Paper mills, Oregon City; C. L. Ryerson of the Portland Labor Press, Portland, and Dr. T. Tharaldsen.

In the event the legislature grants the request of the commission a part of the original $100,000 will be used in equipping a complete physio-therapy department in order to guard against unnecessary expenditures erecting a building at the present time, but will carry on its work through the state school for the blind, Benson Polytechnic school and other state and private institutions.

Recent experiments have convinced the accident commission, according to reports filed with the governor, that a physio-therapy department will not only save the state considerable money, but will restore to usefulness many persons who otherwise would be permanently disabled.

Grand Army of the Republic, of this city and the other officers who will serve the post during 1920 as a result of the annual election this week are:

Senior vice-commander, A. H. Simpson; junior vice-commander, R. Richardson; quartermaster, Edward P. Sox; chaplain, W. P. Small; officer of the day, Robert Barrachman; officer of the guard, W. S. Linn; surgeon, Dr. Joseph Meyer; adjutant, Cyrus H. Walker; patriotic instructor, Maxwell Phillips; quartermaster, Maxwell Phillips; quartermaster, Maxwell Phillips; sergeant-major, C. J. Lawson.

BAD END LONG EXPECTED

News of Former Chinook, Wash., Boy's Trouble No Surprise.

CHINOOK, Wash., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—News of the arrest of Chester Clark at Marysville, Cal., on a murder charge recalled to residents here incidents of his childhood days spent at this place. Chester and his older brother Roy were left orphans in Chinook some 15 years ago on the death of both of their parents. For a while the boys were wards of the local lodge of Redmen, which provided for them until they were taken to a grandfather in Washington county, Or.

The boys became leaders of a number of adventurous youths who built a cabin in the woods and "played robbers." The cabin came to be known as "Robbers' Roost," and was frequently the scene of roast chicken feasts. It is not known that any of the deprecations committed were of a criminal nature, but there are some in Chinook who read the account of Chester's career and declare they knew "how it would end."

Babcock Requisition Issued.
SALEM, Or., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—Governor Olcott has issued a requisition on Governor Stephens of California for the return to Oregon of C. E. Babcock, who is wanted in Portland on a charge of perjury. Mr. Babcock is under arrest in Oakland, Cal., according to information filed with the governor. An officer will leave Portland for Oakland in quest of the prisoner.

POULTRY FARM GROWS

NEW INDUSTRY AT CHERALIS SHOWS GOOD RETURNS.

Average of $30 to $40 Daily Is Recorded With Output at Only 50 Per Cent.

CHEHALIS, Wash., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—Cherhalis has a new industry that today is returning its owners from $30 to $40 daily with immediate prospects of very greatly increasing the earnings. Recently the Evergreen Poultry company filed articles of incorporation in Lewis county, J. Swayne, a veteran poultry raiser and egg producer of this neighborhood being at the head of the organization. The other directors in the company are Ralph Swayne, a son of J. Swayne, who is manager; Lewis Wisner, and H. C. Kunselman. The poultry farm is located on Coal creek, adjoining Cherhalis to the east, on the home of J. Swayne. At present the farm has 1500 birds and under adverse weather conditions, moulting, etc., is getting about a 50 per cent egg production. Housing facilities are now available for 3000 birds and during the coming spring and summer additional poultry houses will be built with a capacity of another 3000 birds, making 6000 when the installation is complete. The poultry houses are equipped with all modern conveniences, including electric lights.

OREGON CITY, Or., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—The county court has announced the tax levy for the ensuing year. The levy will be 22.2 mills, which will be sufficient to raise a total of $650,437.50 to run the county's business for the next year.

While practically all the prices submitted at the recent meeting of the board of control show a slight increase, corn, which is used in large quantities in the various institutions, shows a drop of from $2.76 to $1.68 a dozen cans. There also is a slight reduction in the price of cheese, salmon, tapoca and tomatoes. Comparative prices for commodities, for which contracts already have been awarded by the board of control, follow:

PROFIT CHARGE DENIED

Roseburg Officials Say No Gain Was Made on Army Stores.

ROSEBURG, Or., Jan. 1.—(Special.)—Charges that the city of Roseburg, in purchasing and reselling army supplies procured from the army retail store at Portland, disposed of the goods at a profit, were made by the officer in charge of the store to City Recorder Whipple. The charges were absolutely without foundation, according to information sent by the city officials to the manager of the government store, and were undoubtedly made by persons who object to the city's method of combating high living costs. The manager refused to make known the name of the person who supplied him with the information.
