In December, the month of shortest supplies, we deliv-ered more than 52,000,000 pounds and during the first 12 days of January delivered more than 14,000,000

In the resolution adopted it was stated that "the national master has decided that the triple alliance is a political party and that any effort on the part of grange leaders to align embers with this or any other political party is a violation of the rules of the organization; that the campaign being waged by Mr. Bouck to align the grange with the triple alliance is detrimental to the grange and to the interests of farmers generally; that by indersing the methods and principles of radical leaders whose speeches and literature are dangerously near to anarchy and re bellion, the grange is brought into disrepute, and also that shorter hours, more pay and cheaper food for labor

"This and the anarchist thought running through much of their literature leads sober-minded people to fear what would occur if they got control. That a meeting held in control. That a meeting held in Grand Rapids, in which Mr. Bouck took an active part, the body voted over-whelmingly that farmers and labor organizations have nothing in com-mon." It was resolved by Washing-ton grange No. 82 "that we disapprove of your efforts along this line and we suggest that since you are out of harmony with true grange spirit and find the company of radical labor more to your liking, that you resign

The resolution committee included W. H. Chilson, R. B. Phipps and A. H. Griner. Metta D. McCafferty is master of the Washington grange and Mrs. Joseph Bersch is secretary.

POWER PLANT IS FOUGHT

W. H. Wehrung Asks Court to Prevent Use of Funds for Work.

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 12.—(Special.)—William H. Wehrung filed suit in superior court today against the Washington and Idaho Water, Light and Power company, the Sherman County Light & Power company, E. B. Montgomery and A. Welch, to enjoin the construction of a power plant at Centralia with certain funds. wehrung alleges that he owns stock to the par value of $100,000 in the first named corporation and that Montgomery and Welch have wrongfully transferred from this company to the Sherman County Light & Power company of Portland a franchise to maintain a power plant in Chehalis. The court is asked to restrain the defendants from using the funds of the plaintiff's corporation in Centralia.

Presiding Judge Frater set argument for a temporary injunction for January 22.
