

ROAD MAP CHANGE IS VOTED BY HOUSE

Bill Recognizing Route in Malheur Passed.

TWO-FOLD PLEA WINS

Measure Recognizes Jordan Valley-Ontario Unit as State Highway; Ballot Is 51 to 4.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—What the state highway commission declined to do, the house did today when it added a route from Ontario to Jordan Valley in Malheur county, to the state road map.

It is too late, probably, for Benton, Washington, Yamhill, Columbia, Deschutes and other counties to press their representatives to also add county roads to the state road map, but with the precedent established by house bill No. 4, a drive of bills of this character can be expected when the regular session opens in 1921.

In a way, the Malheur county road bill can be construed as a criticism of the policy of the highway commission, for the commission declined repeatedly to place this route on the state map, just as it had declined other applications.

In the opinion of the commission the original road map of 1917 gave them all the state roads that they will be able to locate after several years to come.

Two-Fold Plea Made in House. The commission has admitted that some of the roads in the counties wished on the state map, are important, but the commission hesitated about letting down the bars.

The plea that enabled the bill to pass the house today, however, was two-fold. In the first place, assurance has been given that this road, once on the state map, will be paid for by money raised in Malheur county.

The second point is that owing to irrigation development and the opening of a rich territory in Jordan Valley and vicinity, it is essential to provide a road, which business will be diverted to Idaho, instead of remaining in Oregon.

According to Representative Gallagher, sponsor of the measure, it is estimated that $10,000 will build the road. The county has $50,000 of its road bonds set aside for that route, and in addition has $40,000 from its general road fund to be applied, making $100,000 of the money.

Elmore Makes Only Protest. The county, it was explained, hesitated to have the route surveyed as a county road for fear that in the future, when a state road is declared in that vicinity the state road may not follow the route the county selects and the county's money will be thrown away.

By declaring it a state road, it was argued, the county's money can be used on a road which will be permanent.

On rollcall, 51 votes were cast for the bill and four against it. Mr. Elmore made the only protest, stating that the highway commission has power to add this road or others to the state road map if the commission deems it advisable, and he thinks the matter should rest with the commission.

HOUSE PASSES BOND ISSUE

Resolution to Cut Interest on Indebtedness of Counties Adopted.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Counties are authorized under a resolution introduced by Representative Burdick and adopted by the house today, to issue refunding bonds to care for warrant indebtedness. Representative Burdick spoke on the floor in favor of the passage of this resolution, which, he said, would result in a great financial saving to many of the counties of the state.

At present, he said, the counties were paying from 6 to 7 per cent interest on outstanding warrants, while under the resolution they would be able to float bonds necessary to liquidate the state debt at an interest not to exceed 5 per cent. Before issuing these bonds it first will be necessary for the counties interested to submit the proposition to a vote of the people.

WASCO POST ROAD PROPOSED

Eastern and Central Oregon Interested in Wright Bill.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Designating as a post highway certain roads beginning at a point on the Columbia river highway and extending south through Wasco county to the southern line of Sherman county, is proposed in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Wright. It is also provided in the bill that the construction of the highway so designated as a post road should proceed under the present laws providing for joint federal aid.

Members of the eastern and central Oregon delegations particularly are interested in the success of this bill, which has been referred to the joint roads and highways committee for consideration.

TRAINING FARM PLAN HEARD

Senate Adopts Pierce Resolution to Investigate Feasibility.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Appointment of a legislative committee to investigate the feasibility of establishing a state training farm for juvenile delinquents, which shall be operated on the cottage plan, was approved by the senate today in the adoption of a resolution introduced by Senator Pierce.

It is proposed to purchase a farm of about 200 acres for this work in order to give youngsters an opportunity to direct their talents toward agricultural and livestock work, as a means of bringing about permanent reformation. The resolution was transmitted today to the house for approval.

SENATE DEBATES 2 BILLS

card, and good progress was made. Before the close of the session for the first time was in position to consider the accumulation of bills which have been passed by the senate and which are in the house for action.

Road matters received attention from the house more than any other subject, with the exception of a plan for curbing amendments to the constitution. The proposed amendment, which is to increase the indebtedness of the state from 2 to 4 per cent for roads, was quickly passed by the house and when the bill was presented authorizing the highway commission to issue $10,000,000 of road bonds if the amendment carries at the May election, only three votes were cast against it. The three opponents were Hughes and Weeks, of Marion county, and Schuebel of Clackamas county.

Malheur Road Bill Carried. The first successful attempt to change the state road map of Oregon was made when the Malheur county road bill making a state road from Ontario to Jordan valley carried. A measure asking for a similar privilege for Sherman county was promptly introduced by Representative Wright.

No more bills can be introduced in the house without unanimous consent, and before this move was adopted 14 bills were popped into the hopper. Bills on third reading were quickly disposed of in the house and shot over to the senate, where they must await the end of the debate before they are taken up. The same fight in the senate was so attractive that repeated calls of the house had to be made to maintain a quorum to transact business, and, as one member exclaimed, "the members who are so anxious to adjourn Saturday night, the men who are listening in the senate."

Voting Measure Important. Of more than common importance is the measure in the house which provides that no amendment to the constitution can be adopted by the people unless it receives a majority of all the registered voters. If the measure runs the gauntlet of the legislature and is adopted by the people it will make it almost impossible to add more amendments to the constitution unless the free and sovereign voters of Oregon attend the polls in greater numbers than they have been doing in recent years. Politically considered, this is the most important measure which has yet made its appearance in the special session.

Prelude to battle and indicating the controversy between the Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Oregon are two measures which were offered late today. One is fostered by Senator Patterson, providing for a six-tenths of 1 mill levy for the Oregon Agricultural college. Representative Kubli offered a like measure in the house calling for 1 mill to be split 50-50 between the two institutions. Active lobbyists have been in Salem from both institutions all week on this question.

DEB. LIMIT EXTENSION UP

Joint Resolution Asks Amendment on Road Construction.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Renewal of the efforts of Wheeler county, providing for an amendment to the constitution extending the road construction indebtedness limitation from two to four per cent, based on the assessable property of the state, was adopted by the house today, with Representatives Hughes and Weeks of Marion county, dissenting. In case the resolution is adopted by the senate, the amendment will be referred to the people at the special election to be held in conjunction with the primary election next May.

It also is provided in the resolution that the representatives and two senators shall be named by the presiding officers of the two houses to prepare and file with the secretary of state arguments in support of the proposed constitutional amendment and that the same shall be printed in the voters' pamphlet.

The success of this amendment at the hands of the voters will place into operation the proposed $10,000,000 road bonding bill which is now before the legislature for consideration.

BILL TO AID EX-SERVICE MEN

Proposed Act Would Permit Free Recording of Discharges.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—A measure of protecting ex-service men who might lose or displace their discharge papers, Senators Ritter and Shanks today introduced a bill providing that these papers can be recorded by county clerks without cost.

It was explained that in the future these discharge records might prove of great value to many ex-service men, and the free recording of the papers as legal instruments is designed as a permanent protection to those former soldiers who desire to take advantage of the bill.

$1500 Rise for Engineer Urged.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Increasing the annual salary of the state engineer from $3000 to $4500 is urged in a bill introduced in the house today by Representative Gallagher.

Sale by Fruit Union Reported. ROSEBURG, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—After a conference between J. O. Holt of Eugene, manager of the building department of the Oregon Growers' association, and the several directors of the local plant here today, complete transfer was made of the Empire Valley Fruit union to the state association. The deed for the property in this city was valued at $26,280.

PAVEMENT BILL BEATEN

ANTI-ROYALTY MEASURE GOES DOWN IN SENATE.

Senators Lachmund and Thomas Muster Only Nine Votes in Favor of Changing Present System.

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 15.—(Special.)—Renewal of the efforts of Senators Lachmund and Thomas to launch a legislative fight against the Warren Construction company met with sudden and decisive termination in the senate today when the Lachmund bill to prohibit the payment of royalties on any patented pavement was indefinitely postponed by a vote of 29 to 9.

Bithulithic and anti-bithulithic oratory consumed practically all of the morning session of the senate, with Senators Thomas, Lachmund, Pierce and Strayer leading the fight against the patented paving. Senators Hurley, Handley, Moser and Ira S. Smith advanced arguments against the bill.

Opponents of the measure argued pointedly and forcefully to the effect that the open records of the state highway commission show that out of 47 contracts awarded to the Warren Construction company during the past year—even with the royalties on the patent included—the state had saved more than $250,000 to the people of Oregon by accepting the low bids on the patented bithulithic pavement.

The vote on the bill follows: For passage—Eddy, Farrell, Lachmund, La Follette, Pierce, Strayer, Thomas, Vinton, Eberhard—9. Against passage—Saidwin, Banks, Ball, Gill, Handley, Howell, Huston, Hurley, Jones, Moser, Nickelsen, Norblad, Orton, Patterson, Porter, Ritner.

Shanks, Smith of Coos and Curry, Smith of Josephine, Wood—20.
