

TRADES UNION FEELS BIG HALL CIRCUITS Business May Pick Up as Season Draws Nearer. NATIONAL NEEDS TALENT

Pirate Dicker With Branch Rickey Falls Through—Ruth Deal Big Noise in American Circles.

NEW YORK, Jan. 19.—Trading or selling in the major leagues so far during the current season has been lighter than in several years. With the training season rapidly drawing near the magnates, especially those in the national league, may soon get busy and complete a few deals.

Most of the clubs in the older organization are in search of new talent and it is almost a certainty that when the moguls meet in Chicago next month the fans will learn of deals involving well-known athletes. It is generally believed that Branch Rickey has played his last game as a giant and his future is the cause of much speculation among the local rosters.

The pilots of six national league aggregations are looking for players who will be ready to start in the spring. Managers Moran, of the champion Reds, and Mitchell, of the Cubs, are the leaders who will not obtain new talent before the coming season starts.

The only player in the National league to be purchased by another club in the circuit was Roy Sanders, who was sold a few weeks ago by Barney Dreyfus to the Philadelphia Athletics.

President Grant of the Braves a few weeks ago announced the release of Jim Thorpe to the Akron club of the International league, the Giants have sent Blair to the Rochester club of the same circuit, and Ebbets last week informed the World that Jimmy Hickman will play in the American association next season as a member of the Toledo club, owned by Roger Bresnahan.

While trading in the National league has been slow, in the American league there has been a sale of Babe Ruth by the owner of the Red Sox to the Yankees. Previous to that thriller the only trade made involved the Red Sox and Senators.

The Red Sox have figured in the only two trades made in the major leagues this season. It is probable that they will be involved in another before the club starts for its training camp in Hot Springs next month.

The owner of the Red Sox received $130,000 for Ruth, and in order to make the Boston fans forget the passing of the home-run king he is anxious to purchase a consistent 300 swatter from another club. He tried to get an outfielder from the Tigers recently, but was not successful.

Yankees Want Twieler. When the details of the Yankees announced the purchase of Babe Ruth they said that a well-known twieler would soon be added to their staff of pitchers. The twieler had not yet been obtained by the Yankees, but it is believed they are after Scott Perry of the Boston club.

What Saliva Means to Your Teeth

Its play between and about the teeth and gums is normally a means of protection, because it washes away food particles, helps to prevent protein plaques, tartar, and other harmful deposits. And it neutralizes unfavorable mouth acids because it is alkaline.

Pebecco counteracts "Acid-Mouth" —said to be the chief cause of tooth decay —because it stimulates the healthy flow of normal, alkaline saliva. Nothing better to whiten and brighten the teeth, and endow the gums and whole interior of the mouth with the exhilaration of KEEN health.
