

ENGAGEMENT OFF?
VOLHEIM UP TO COURT
Girl Alleges, Accused Denies,
Breach of Promise.
SUIT BROUGHT FOR $32,000

Status of Miss Eleanor Volheim and Gail Reingold, Jeweler, Puzic for Judge McCourt.

Denial that he broke off his engagement to Miss Eleanor Volheim on the day she filed her $32,000 breach of promise suit or at any other time was voiced by Gail Reingold, Portland jeweler, during the taking of a deposition before President Judge McCourt yesterday morning.

Up to the morning after the last evening you were out with Miss Volheim and upon that morning when you left the Volheim residence, you and she were engaged?" the witness was asked.

"Yes," replied Mr. Reingold. "That was a couple of days before the suit was filed."

"The day before, I think."

"Subsequent to that you declined to marry her?"

"No, sir."

"You never have declined to marry her?"

"No, sir."

The witness was not asked if Miss Volheim broke the engagement or if he still considered himself engaged.

In her damage action, Miss Volheim asserts that she was greatly humiliated by the alleged refusal of Mr. Reingold to marry her after she had spent more than $2,000 on her trousseau. Wedding invitations had been engraved and presents for the bride-to-be already in hand.

Miss Volheim asserted, after the filing of the suit.

SPENT MOST OF HER TIME IN BED

Would Still Be Unable to Get About But for Tanlac, States Tacoma Woman.

"During the past six months I have spent most of my time in bed. My nerves had it not been for Tanlac I would still be unable to get around," said Mrs. Caterina Anderson, 1401 N. Fortieth street, Tacoma, Wash., recently.

"A little over a year ago I had a severe attack of flu which continued Mr. Ambrose, and while I had stomach trouble before this attack of flu it got a great deal worse, and I became so badly run-down, I had pains all through my body. I had no appetite and I was never actually without a pain of some sort in my stomach, no matter what or how little I ate. After every meal I suffered in misery, and have great difficulty in getting my breath. I suffered from constipation and my kidneys troubled me a great deal. There was always such severe pains across the small of my back I could hardly bend over. My head would ache until I could hardly see, and at times I became dizzy. In addition to my other troubles I had rheumatism in my right arm. My nerves were in a terrible condition, so that the least little thing upset me, and I scarcely slept any at all, but could just roll and toss on one side of the bed to the other all night long and in the morning would be completely exhausted. I lost so much weight and so was weak it was all I could do to get about at all and it was simply impossible for me to do any of my household work. I could hardly believe any medicine could do me any good, so you can imagine my surprise when I began to get better while taking the first bottle of Tanlac. I have taken six bottles now and I have a splendid appetite, and can eat anything I want without having a sign of pain or being troubled with gas or suffering in any other way. I am never bothered with constipation or my kidneys and never have a headache or any aches or pains. I have gained several pounds in weight and have regained my strength until I now do as much housework as I do in the greatest ease. The rheumatism was entirely left me and I can get about as good as ever could. Tanlac has simply given me new life and energy, and I will always praise it. Tanlac is sold in Portland by the Owl Drug Store.—Adv.

HUGE TIMBER DEAL MADE
WILSON BROTHERS OF ABERDEEN SELL LARGE INTERESTS.

Valuable Lands and Equipment in Grays Harbor Region Change Hands.

ABERDEEN, Wash., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Sale of the timber holdings and logging camps and outfit of the Wilson Brothers Lumber company near Independence to the independent logging company has been recorded.

The principal owners of the new company are said to be Krum brothers and Sprywood, known as the K. & S. Logging company of Oakville.

This is one of the largest timber deals in months. The total value in the sale amounts to 150,000,000 feet.

The consideration is not made public, but the amount undoubtedly runs into six figures. The sale and that of a sale a few weeks ago of interests in California and other places to Henry Wilson and A. E. Johnson of San Francisco, in which the Wilson estate of this city was interested, raised the holding of the estate in the lumber business to the plant in East Aberdeen, of which John Wilson is manager.

John and William Wilson will give their entire attention to the management of the mill property here.

Dalles Y Wants Location.

THE DALLES, Or., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—The search is now on for an appropriate home for a permanent Y. W. C. A. in this city. Mrs. Charles Basing, organizer for the institution, conducted by the forest service have shown that western yellow pine yields a good grade of "pitch" from which turpentine and rosin are made, though the amount of the yield of Oregon trees was very much less than those of Florida. When the demand for these products becomes keen enough it is not unlikely that the industry will establish itself on the Pacific coast, and thus may give additional value to the extensive yellow pine forests of eastern Oregon and Washington.

Dalles Has Flu Cases.

THE DALLES, Or., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—Forty-five cases of influenza were quarantined in The Dalles Wednesday, according to City Health Officer Dr. Fred Thompson. Picardier still continues. The flu this year is not so virulent as that prevalent last year, according to the professional advice. Both lung and intestinal influenza appear, and it is warned that although the cases are lighter than the previous year, all due precautions must be observed to check the spread.

PITCH PLANTS PLANNED
TURPENTINE MILLS FIND THEY NEED NEW SUPPLY.

Tests in Northwest Forests Show Yellow Pine Yields Goodly Supply of Liquid.

Another industry may be added to Oregon's list in the near future if a report just completed by Forest Examiner R. H. Weiknecht of the Portland office is to have an influence with turpentine manufacturers.

The district forester's office is hoping that its appropriation for investigation work may be large enough to enable it to carry on additional studies this year which would pave the way for the development of this new unused forest resource, pitch.

The yellow pine forests of the south Atlantic and Gulf states are fast disappearing and the industry must seek new fields. Previous experiments conducted by the forest service have shown that western yellow pine yields a good grade of "pitch" from which turpentine and rosin are made, though the amount of the yield of Oregon trees was very much less than those of Florida. When the demand for these products becomes keen enough it is not unlikely that the industry will establish itself on the Pacific coast, and thus may give additional value to the extensive yellow pine forests of eastern Oregon and Washington.
