Pacific Coast Asks Place in New Car Service Section.

LUMBERMEN IN SESSION

West Coast Association at Seattle Discusses Ways and Means of Obtaining Transportation.

SEATTLE, Jan. 30.—A resolution insisting that the railroad organize a car service committee after passing from government control, Pacific coast shippers are represented in its personnel, was adopted at the annual meeting here today of the West Coast Lumbermen's association.

The meeting adopted a resolution, introduced by J. R. Blooded, asserting that if the railroad organize a car service section of a car-distributing committee of their own after passing from government control, the railroad should be asked to decline to join such a committee unless such representation is made.

Mr. Blooded had returned from a trip to Washington, Chicago and other eastern cities and reported that prospects for early improvement in the car supply in this part of the country are far from bright.

Another angle of the car controversy was presented by L. C. Gilman, district director of the railroad administration, who explained that the cause of the present car famine are more funds, rather than more inadequate distribution.

ful steps to put an end to any such profiteering." Mayor Baker was bitter when told that the nurses were attempting to exact the $10 fee. He said that all nurses are entitled to fair pay, but that any such charge is beyond the realm of fair practice. He intended to obtain the names of any nurses guilty of such practices, turn one copy over to the state health officer for action and the other copy to the press.

Three deaths resulted in the state yesterday afternoon. In Astoria, the third in Fossil. The Portland victim was today's body, 79, who lived at 743 Savier street.

In Portland 60 new cases were reported. These bring the total number in Portland to 221, the majority of which, according to City Health Officer Parrish, are extremely mild.

The worst situation seems to exist in Vale, where 20 new cases were reported yesterday.

LINCOLN BODYGUARD HERE

SMITH STIMMEL TO SPEAK IN ALL CITY HIGH SCHOOLS.

Former Mounted Sergeant Tells of Incidents on Trips While Guarding President.

Like extracts from a story book were the accounts given last night in the Grand Army of the Republic rooms in the courthouse by Smith Stimmel of Fargo, N. D., who was a member of President Lincoln's mounted bodyguard during the civil war.

Mr. Stimmel is an excellent story teller and he has a different and more intimate angle of the life of the martyred president to speak of. He told of his experiences while accompanying Lincoln on various official trips through Washington, of standing guard at the entrance to the White House and of being stationed in front of the presidential platform when the famous second inaugural address was delivered.

His description of the celebration in the Lincoln capital when the air-raid siren sounded like that of an alarm of fire in 1918.

Of the week which followed he has many stories, principally that of the president's assassination.

Mr. Stimmel, who was a sergeant in the guard, was one of the men who patrolled the street in front of the house where Lincoln lay dying after the shooting.

INFLUENZA VISITS CANBY

High School to Be Closed for Filialization Until Monday.

OREGON CITY, Or., Jan. 30.—(Special)—Influenza of a mild form has made its appearance in the little city of Canby, and the high school and grammar school were closed this morning until Monday.

County Health Officer Dr. O. A. Welsh was called to that city on Thursday, and after making an investigation found from 75 to 100 cases of influenza. Most of these are among the students of the high school.

The schoolrooms are to be thoroughly fumigated before the students return.

Owing to the epidemic of the "flu" the opera has been given Saturday evening by the students of the high school has been postponed until a later date.

Dr. Welsh has six cases of influenza near Oregon City, and a few in other sections of the county, but all seem to be mild. So far no deaths have resulted. Three of the cases reported by Dr. McKenney, chief of the health department, are in this city.

"Proportional representation of all elective legislative bodies.

"That the public schools be placed upon a real democratic basis by making school boards representative through proportional representation, and that the object of the schools be to teach democracy rather than to teach democracy rather than to teach democracy.

"We hereby declare for the economic and industrial equality of women, together with special protection for the mothers of our future citizens."

"The greatest difficulty the grangers have to face today is the selling of their products at reasonable prices. We have no guarantee and the hardware merchant to our section is great. If you put the single tax idea into practice, you are solving contrary to the great basic principles of the government and that will mean the defeat of your entire programme. If you wish to assist the farmers in their struggle for industrial freedom, you should direct your energies to perfection of the distribution system, and against the man who would burn our products that he might gain a greater profit from the consumer."

"If that part of the platform providing for an increasing tax on community-made values is to be incorporated into the principles for which this league stands, I want to see notice on you now that I will be unopposed in a federal court to ask for its operation in making this movement a political success."

Louis Bowerman of Portland declared that he was and always had been in favor of the single tax, and thought it a duty of the convention to amend the platform to that effect.

"Under the present system of taxation the industries of the state are being driven out of the state," said Mr. Bowerman, "with the result that this enormous contribution to the nation by the consumer. Let us remove this tax from the productive industries, eliminate the shackles which bind the consumers and let us have a free market where it belongs. A fear to express our principles seems to dominate this convention and we speak out our convictions we might as well surrender all hope of success and go home."

Appeal Is Perfected. E. J. FRASIER CASE TO GO TO U. S. SUPREME COURT.

Eugene Realty Man Sentenced to Prison for Forged Receipt in Bankruptcy Proceeding.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 30.—(Special)—Appeal to the United States supreme court was perfected here today in the case of the state against E. J. Frasier, a Eugene real estate operator, under sentence to serve from 2 to 20 years in the Oregon penitentiary following conviction on a charge of uttering a forged receipt in connection with a hearing in bankruptcy in Lane county.

At the time of Mr. Frasier's arrest more than two years ago it was alleged by the state that he had paid Dr. P. W. Harris of Eugene a bill in the sum of approximately $14, the defendant introduced in the bankruptcy court a canceled check purporting to bear the indorsement of the physician.

The case was afterward transferred to Benton county, where Frasier was convicted of forging Dr. Harris' name to the check and later sentenced to the penitentiary. Frasier then appealed the case to the Oregon supreme court, where the verdict of the lower court was affirmed.

In perfecting an appeal to the United States supreme court attorneys for Mr. Frasier allege that evidence introduced in the bankruptcy court cannot be used against a defendant in the criminal courts of the state and that the tribunal in which the accused man was tried in Benton county was without jurisdiction to make the charge.

Attorneys for Mr. Frasier include W. P. Lord of Portland and J. K. Weatherford of Albany. The state will be represented by Attorney General Brown, L. R. Ray of Eugene and Arthur Clark of Corvallis.

Shortly after the case was indicted for the offense he disappeared from his home in Eugene and his clothes were found on a beach near Seaside. It was first thought he had committed suicide, but later developed from his home at California and Mexico. His arrest followed.

ALBANY, Or., Jan. 30.—(Special)—As a result of a quarrel among a colony of Russians living south of Peoria, Sheriff Kendall is in possession of a copper kettle, said to be part of the booty which he looted out of the Willamette river last night.

The kettle, it is said, was thrown into the river after an enemy of the owner had telephoned to the officers where it could be found.

Sheriff Kendall made no arrests because evidence is said to be lacking that the still was used for whiskey-making at Peoria. It is said no illegal liquor sales among the Russians have been reported.
