

ILLNESS OF PRISONER WALTERS IN TRIAL

John Lamb, Alleged Slayer, Has Heart Trouble.

TWELVE JURORS SEATED

Five Peremptory Challenges Still Remain to Be Used, One by State, Four by Defendants' Counsel.

MONTESANO, Wash., Feb. 4.—(Special.)—Illness of John Lamb, one of the 11 defendants in the Centralia Armistice day murder case, which is in progress here in the superior court of Grays Harbor county, caused an adjournment early this afternoon, with court called to convene again at 9:30 tomorrow morning.

Lamb attended the morning session with his fellow defendants and seemed in good health when they left the court room for the noon recess. He is said to have been taken ill with a heart attack after re-entering his cell. Medical attention was given him at once and it was at first thought that he would be able to take his seat in the dock at mid-afternoon.

At 2 o'clock Judge John M. Wilson, presiding, again adjourned the court at a moment, announcing an adjournment till tomorrow morning.

Lamb told Dr. F. L. Carr, who attended him that he has been subjected to similar attacks for several years past, and that they are usually of brief duration. It is expected that he will have recovered by tomorrow morning.

Jury Progress Satisfactory. Progress in selecting the jury which will try the defendants for the murder of Warren O. Grimm, one of the four American Legion men slain at Centralia, had been fairly satisfactory until the enforced adjournment. It is now considered likely that the panel will be completed before Friday noon.

The state has expended five of its six peremptory challenges today. It removed from service R. P. Ames, farmer, Oakville.

The defense has expended eight of its 12 peremptory challenges today. The eighth was utilized this morning in the excusal of William C. Farrell, mill foreman of Aberdeen, who had just been seated.

Twelve jurors are now seated in the tentative panel, subject to the five peremptory challenges remaining. Of the present personnel it is certain that six jurymen will be among those retained in the panel which tries the case.

Tentative Jury Seated. The personnel of the tentative jury is as follows: S. A. Youngs, grain dealer, Aberdeen; E. T. Torpen, retired farmer, Montesano; E. O. Robinson, carpenter, Hoquiam; Harry Sellers, telephone employe, Elina; Carl C. Fulton, farmer, Lake Quinalt; Frank Gien, farmer, Brady; E. E. Sweetser, farmer, Oakville; W. H. McMurray, teamster, Aberdeen; W. E. Immon, rancher, Elsie; F. B. Fisher, real estate dealer, Aberdeen. The latter has not been examined.

R. P. Ames, farmer, Oakville, was the target of the state's fifth peremptory challenge during the forenoon session. An indication that the prosecution considers the present panel to be a strong one was found by some observers in the fact that attorneys for the state before they exercised the challenge withdrew from court and held a conference.

Mill Foreman Ousted. William G. Farrell, shingle mill foreman, Montesano, was examined and seated as a tentative juror, only to be ousted within a few minutes by the eighth peremptory challenge of the defense. In every instance the defense has sought the removal of mill operators or employes when summoned from the venire, evidently holding that bias against the L. W. W. exists in such instances or that the opinion of such a juror might be influenced by the lumber interests.

Though Farrell declared an absence of bias against the defendants, and by passive disapproval of the L. W. W. as an organization, he determined his status for challenges when he declared that the L. W. W. practice certain kinds of sabotage. He had seen a saw broken against a file, the latter driven deep into a log, and testified that he believed this to have been sabotage and the handwork of the L. W. W.

Opinion that it would require evidence to remove Farrell from the case, because of J. C. Walker, Aberdeen, whose examination was resumed at the opening of the court. It was Walker's status as a yeoman that delayed the court yesterday pending an investigation and ruling by Judge Wilson.

W. L. Conroy, mill foreman of Aberdeen; D. I. King, sawmill fireman.

MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW

Says We Must Keep Feet Dry, Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

Stay off the damp ground, avoid exposure, keep feet dry, eat less meat, drink lots of water and, above all, take a spoonful of salts occasionally to keep down uric acid. Rheumatism is caused by poisonous toxins, called uric acid, which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine. The pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather, the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

BOY SCOUTS SHRILL WELCOME TO CHIEF

Magnificent Assembly Greeted James E. West.

LOYAL SUPPORT PLEDGED

"Gang" Gives Hearty Response to Executive as He Instills Old-Time "Peep."

A magnificent assembly of Boy Scouts, colors flying and with uniforms epic and span, greeted James E. West, national executive of this movement, when he stepped onto the platform of the municipal public auditorium last night. Not for long had the distinguished visitor been in the building when he frankly admitted he had learned something about Portland boys.

"If you have any shortcomings," he said, facing "the gang," which stood at attention, energies pent up ready to burst at any moment, "it's not poor lungs, Am I right?" "Absolutely," roared the boys.

And the national executive was "jake" with the scouts from that moment. They laughed when it was the time to laugh, were sober as the proverbial judge when that was in order and obeyed every command shot at them with military precision.

MILK BOTTLE DISCUSSED

DAIRYMEN SAY LOSSES ADD TO COST OF MILK.

Members Debate Several Phases of Business, but Cost of Material Is Chief Topic at Meeting.

Who owns the milk bottle? When a housewife pays a deposit of 5 cents on a bottle that cost the distributor about 9 cents, has the housewife a right to keep that bottle and put up preserves in it or sell it?

Such questions as these came up for discussion at the joint convention of the Northwest Milk Dealers and the Northwest Milk Producers' associations in the Multnomah hotel yesterday.

The address of A. C. Fieweger of Oakland, Cal., on "Cleaning Up the Bottle Situation" started the discussion. The bottle question was named as one of the problems involved in the price of milk distribution. Mr. Fieweger said that he had demonstrated in Oakland that any driver can pick up 95 per cent of the bottles on his route while making his deliveries.

F. B. Flood presided at all the sessions yesterday and at the "Milk Situation" which was a dance in the ballroom of the hotel with the guests attired in costume. The convention will continue throughout today.

Alma D. Katz, president of the Dairymen's league, gave an interesting address on "Co-operation." P. M. Mrs. Morton Myers of Hartington, Wash., reported on the success and growth of the Oregon Dairy council and its educational work.

Mrs. Lottie Stearns of Milwaukee, Wis., told the milk dealers to let the women know why the price of milk was more now than a few years ago.

W. T. McDonald of Victoria, B. C., and W. V. S. Robb of Seattle will speak.

TONGUE POINT ALL RIGHT

PORTLAND OPPOSITION ABANDONED, SAYS McARTHUR.

Matter of Securing Affirmative Congressional Action Beseet With Delays and Difficulties.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 4.—Representative McArthur is in receipt of a letter from a prominent business man and public official of Astoria in which the charge is made that influential Portland interests are secretly opposing the plans of the navy department for a submarine and destroyer base and aviation station at Tongue Point.

"The charge is absurd," said Mr. McArthur today. "Portland is not opposing the Tongue Point project, but a yeoman that delays the court yesterday pending an investigation and ruling by Judge Wilson."

MRS. GREEN HAS GAINED 19 POUNDS

Says Tanlac Is Grandest of All Medicines—Feels Better Than in Thirteen Years.

"My weight has actually increased nineteen pounds, but I am not much surprised, for I have been eating heartily three times a day and picking up ever since I finished my first bottle of Tanlac," said Mrs. M. E. Green, 914 West 59th street, Los Angeles, California, in relating her experience to a Tanlac representative a few days ago.

"My neighbors all know what Tanlac has done for me, and what I think about it," she continued. "For I have told them and I think everybody should know about this grandest of all medicines.

"About four years ago I began to feel run-down and have had a steady decline ever since until I took Tanlac, and since then I am just like a new person. I was in such a weakened condition that it was all I could do to keep up my household. I had no appetite, couldn't eat much, and it was just now and then that I could get any sound sleep. Many a night I couldn't sleep a wink and felt so tired in the morning that it seemed I would be compelled to go back to bed.

"So much was being said about Tanlac that I determined to try it. I had a good appetite and began to feel stronger by the time my first bottle was gone. So I just stuck right to Tanlac, and now I sleep soundly every night, eat hearty every meal, and feel better than I have since I came to California thirteen years ago. My whole system seems to have improved and even my kidneys, which were out of order for years, are now in almost perfect condition. It is no trouble now for me to do my household work, for I am feeling fine, and am so delighted with what Tanlac has done for me that I am talking about it every chance I have.

was resumed yesterday, it was believed, when Bert Schlessinger, San Francisco, opened his attorney-general, appeared before a federal grand jury, which reconvened at 10 o'clock. Mr. Schlessinger later called before the grand jury as agent of the department of justice, into the jury room.

Mr. Foster has been conducting an investigation of alleged stock market frauds here for the last two months.

PAVING ROYALTY REFUSED

WARREN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY'S DEMANDS REJECTED.

Resolution Adopted by State Highway Commission Ends Long Dispute.

If the Warren Construction company wants to collect royalty from the state for the bituminous pavement which has been laid, the company will have to bring suit. This is the attitude assumed by the state highway commission at a meeting held last evening in Chairman S. Benson's office.

The commission adopted the following resolution unanimously: "After carefully considering the opinion of the attorney-general and believing it is for the best interests of the state, it is agreed that no royalty will be paid until the commission is ordered to do so by the court."

The highway commission has laid about 1,000,000 yards of patented pavement and by the time the patent on the pavement expires in May, it will have laid approximately 1,500,000 yards. The paving people claiming the patent made an offer last fall which virtually amounted to a compromise for 10 cents a yard, or $150,000.

As viewed by the commission now, if the patent owners feel that they are entitled to a royalty, it is up to the company to bring suit rather than for suit to be started by the commission. It is estimated that the probable cost of a suit will be between $20,000 and $40,000.

Another important decision of the highway commission yesterday was the selection of the location of the last link of the Columbia river highway. This link is between The Dalles and Deschutes. The commission selected the river route.

At today's meeting, bids will be opened at the court house at 10 o'clock, on the Young's Bay bridge.

Merrill Reed, proprietor of a lifeboat construction plant at Vancouver, Wash., was fined $40 in the municipal court yesterday by Judge Rossman on a charge of violating the prohibition law by having liquor in his possession. Reed was arrested January 28 at Broadway and Everett streets by Patrolman Meehan after his machine had collided with an automobile driven by a Japanese. Two bottles of liquor were found in the rear of his car. Reed declared the liquor belonged to a mysterious passenger whom he had picked up a short time before. The passenger, he said, disappeared just before his arrest, leaving the liquor behind. "It doesn't seem likely that a man would do that," said the judge in passing sentence.
