

Morning Oregonian

ESTABLISHED BY HENRY L. PITCOCK. Published by The Oregonian Publishing Co., 135 1/2 Street, Portland, Oregon.

Subscription Rates—Invariably in Advance. (By Mail.) Daily, Sunday included, one year, $4.25

How to Read—Send postage money order, express or personal check on your local bank. Enclose 10¢ for postage.

FOR THE WORK OF REBUILDING.

The familiar cry of Wall street manipulation will not serve to explain the continued fall in the rates of foreign exchange.

BECAUSE HE IS NOT A DEMOCRAT.

The Scio Tribune is the latest apostle of democratic light and leading to announce that "it will be glad to support Mr. Hoover (for president) no matter which party places him in the running."

THE CHANCE FOR A DULL BOY.

The average boy will derive greater pleasure if not comfort from study of the biography of the French statesman, Clemenceau, than from the examples of famous men whose youthful precocity gave them a long running start in life's race.

EXPLAINING EINSTEIN.

Even after reading Morris Cohen's explanation, in the New Republic, of that one reason why we cannot understand the Einstein theory, we are left with three Einstein theories.

WHAT THE FARMER WANTS.

Four things are required of a good farmer, according to an inscription on the programme of last month's farm and home convention of the Kentucky College of Agriculture, reported in the Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE PARISHIAN PAPER.

The Parishian paper L'Avenir announces that all subscribers will be allowed to purchase ten pounds of sugar at cost price, and since sugar is about the nearest commodity to be present in Paris, it is likely that the proprietors are doing well.

AMENDMENT TO LIST OF POETS.

LEHANNON, OR, Feb. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In the "Products of the Times" appears a list of 12 "best" American poets selected by the New York Times.

the industry to which it is to be applied, not according to the quality of the security offered from a banker's viewpoint. Then too the cost to industry would be lower and could be kept within the narrow margin which present economic conditions permit.

MAKE IT ACCESSIBLE.

The Oregon State Editorial association last year devised the ambitious project of taking the National Editorial association in a body to Crater Lake.

STARS AND STARMAKERS.

IF THERE is any chance an old phonograph record of Jessie Bartlett Davis singing "Oh, Promise Me" or "Genevieve" tucked away in some American home?

BY-PRODUCTS OF THE TIMES.

Chalice Discovered at Antioch Bears After Truthful Likeness of Christ. After almost 2000 years of hope and desire the Christian world may at last behold the features of Christ as he actually appeared upon earth.

THOSE WHO COME AND GO.

Once upon a time Crook county was pretty big, but chunks were chipped off it here and there to make other counties until finally it was confined to its present borders.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY.

AS WE EAT, EAT, EAT. Chorus for a musical comedy of today. The twinkling blue and green. Behind our chairs, in glowing pairs. The waiters stand and groom. And there we'll sit, as the moments fly.

WOODCRAFT.

In the woods where the wild flowers are sleeping. Awaiting the urge of the spring. There are flowers whose deft hands are weaving a pattern of green.

IN OTHER DAYS.

Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of February 5, 1895. Tomorrow is the date set for the joint anniversary of the Northwest Forestry and the Oregon Forestry and State Horticultural societies, to be held in the Chamber of Commerce hall.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

From The Oregonian of February 5, 1870. "The Oregonian" has just received reports the completion of the Oswego and Champlain canals, according to estimate, $2,000,000 of which has been completed in three years.

AMENDMENT TO LIST OF POETS.

LEHANNON, OR, Feb. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In the "Products of the Times" appears a list of 12 "best" American poets selected by the New York Times.

AMENDMENT TO LIST OF POETS.

LEHANNON, OR, Feb. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In the "Products of the Times" appears a list of 12 "best" American poets selected by the New York Times.

proving the physical aspects of farming. Better roads, rural free delivery, improved schools, telephone, electric lights, libraries and community development generally may have lightened labor by comparison with the day of the cradle and flail, but they have not won these concessions.

STARS AND STARMAKERS.

IF THERE is any chance an old phonograph record of Jessie Bartlett Davis singing "Oh, Promise Me" or "Genevieve" tucked away in some American home?

BY-PRODUCTS OF THE TIMES.

Chalice Discovered at Antioch Bears After Truthful Likeness of Christ. After almost 2000 years of hope and desire the Christian world may at last behold the features of Christ as he actually appeared upon earth.

THOSE WHO COME AND GO.

Once upon a time Crook county was pretty big, but chunks were chipped off it here and there to make other counties until finally it was confined to its present borders.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY.

AS WE EAT, EAT, EAT. Chorus for a musical comedy of today. The twinkling blue and green. Behind our chairs, in glowing pairs. The waiters stand and groom. And there we'll sit, as the moments fly.

WOODCRAFT.

In the woods where the wild flowers are sleeping. Awaiting the urge of the spring. There are flowers whose deft hands are weaving a pattern of green.

IN OTHER DAYS.

Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of February 5, 1895. Tomorrow is the date set for the joint anniversary of the Northwest Forestry and the Oregon Forestry and State Horticultural societies, to be held in the Chamber of Commerce hall.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

From The Oregonian of February 5, 1870. "The Oregonian" has just received reports the completion of the Oswego and Champlain canals, according to estimate, $2,000,000 of which has been completed in three years.

AMENDMENT TO LIST OF POETS.

LEHANNON, OR, Feb. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In the "Products of the Times" appears a list of 12 "best" American poets selected by the New York Times.

AMENDMENT TO LIST OF POETS.

LEHANNON, OR, Feb. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In the "Products of the Times" appears a list of 12 "best" American poets selected by the New York Times.

proving the physical aspects of farming. Better roads, rural free delivery, improved schools, telephone, electric lights, libraries and community development generally may have lightened labor by comparison with the day of the cradle and flail, but they have not won these concessions.

STARS AND STARMAKERS.

IF THERE is any chance an old phonograph record of Jessie Bartlett Davis singing "Oh, Promise Me" or "Genevieve" tucked away in some American home?

BY-PRODUCTS OF THE TIMES.

Chalice Discovered at Antioch Bears After Truthful Likeness of Christ. After almost 2000 years of hope and desire the Christian world may at last behold the features of Christ as he actually appeared upon earth.

THOSE WHO COME AND GO.

Once upon a time Crook county was pretty big, but chunks were chipped off it here and there to make other counties until finally it was confined to its present borders.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY.

AS WE EAT, EAT, EAT. Chorus for a musical comedy of today. The twinkling blue and green. Behind our chairs, in glowing pairs. The waiters stand and groom. And there we'll sit, as the moments fly.

WOODCRAFT.

In the woods where the wild flowers are sleeping. Awaiting the urge of the spring. There are flowers whose deft hands are weaving a pattern of green.

IN OTHER DAYS.

Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of February 5, 1895. Tomorrow is the date set for the joint anniversary of the Northwest Forestry and the Oregon Forestry and State Horticultural societies, to be held in the Chamber of Commerce hall.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

From The Oregonian of February 5, 1870. "The Oregonian" has just received reports the completion of the Oswego and Champlain canals, according to estimate, $2,000,000 of which has been completed in three years.

AMENDMENT TO LIST OF POETS.

LEHANNON, OR, Feb. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In the "Products of the Times" appears a list of 12 "best" American poets selected by the New York Times.

AMENDMENT TO LIST OF POETS.

LEHANNON, OR, Feb. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In the "Products of the Times" appears a list of 12 "best" American poets selected by the New York Times.

proving the physical aspects of farming. Better roads, rural free delivery, improved schools, telephone, electric lights, libraries and community development generally may have lightened labor by comparison with the day of the cradle and flail, but they have not won these concessions.

STARS AND STARMAKERS.

IF THERE is any chance an old phonograph record of Jessie Bartlett Davis singing "Oh, Promise Me" or "Genevieve" tucked away in some American home?

BY-PRODUCTS OF THE TIMES.

Chalice Discovered at Antioch Bears After Truthful Likeness of Christ. After almost 2000 years of hope and desire the Christian world may at last behold the features of Christ as he actually appeared upon earth.

THOSE WHO COME AND GO.

Once upon a time Crook county was pretty big, but chunks were chipped off it here and there to make other counties until finally it was confined to its present borders.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY.

AS WE EAT, EAT, EAT. Chorus for a musical comedy of today. The twinkling blue and green. Behind our chairs, in glowing pairs. The waiters stand and groom. And there we'll sit, as the moments fly.

WOODCRAFT.

In the woods where the wild flowers are sleeping. Awaiting the urge of the spring. There are flowers whose deft hands are weaving a pattern of green.

IN OTHER DAYS.

Twenty-Five Years Ago. From The Oregonian of February 5, 1895. Tomorrow is the date set for the joint anniversary of the Northwest Forestry and the Oregon Forestry and State Horticultural societies, to be held in the Chamber of Commerce hall.

FIFTY YEARS AGO.

From The Oregonian of February 5, 1870. "The Oregonian" has just received reports the completion of the Oswego and Champlain canals, according to estimate, $2,000,000 of which has been completed in three years.

AMENDMENT TO LIST OF POETS.

LEHANNON, OR, Feb. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In the "Products of the Times" appears a list of 12 "best" American poets selected by the New York Times.

AMENDMENT TO LIST OF POETS.

LEHANNON, OR, Feb. 2.—(To the Editor.)—In the "Products of the Times" appears a list of 12 "best" American poets selected by the New York Times.