BY LEONE CASS BAER. hit upon the subject that was uppermost in the keen mind of Mitzi when we had a mutual confab yesterday at her hotel. It was none of the inevitables, the cut-and-dried topics usually chosen by actresses to rush into print over. It was instead a bootblack in Eugene, Or. Mitzi had read about him in the morning paper which had been ordered along with her toast and coffee. Reading the newspaper is a sacred rite with Mitzi and she doesn't begin and end with skimming the headlines. Bearing witness to the fact that she digests its news and editorials thoroughly is supported. "I am an American now. I own two homes out from New York and I spend my money here in America. My darling old mother is in Hungary yet, and instead of sending money I buy a lot of groceries in New York and send them to her. It is a fine plan, and keeps the money in America, and inaugurated just for people who have folks they want to help. I just buy, say $200 worth of foodstuffs right in New York through the shipping concern, and they guarantee the food to get to my mother.

"I wo homes out from New York and I spend my money here in America. My darling old mother is in Hungary yet, and instead of sending money I buy a lot of groceries in New York and send them to her. Their life and love has been a beauther. that she unearthed the brief parasraph about the bootblack in Eugene. His name is Louis Polalis and Mitzi said some things about Mister Polalis and sallors disabled during the war. Harry Lauder, the famous Scotch comedian, already has raised about 100,000 pounds sterling in support of this fund and so far $65,000 has been paid out, part of it in the purchase of 40,000 acres of land in Queensland, New Zealand, where the balmy climate is conducive to the recovery of wounded and sick. A musical programme is being prepared and will include solos from Mrs. Eloise Hall Cook, Mrs. Harold Bayley, Miss Heien Harper, violinist: Frederick T. Crowther, Miss Reeves, danseuse, and George Graham, Scotch comedian. The Scotch bagpipe band also will furnish music.

Mitzi's ire is in inverse ratio to her diminutive size. It's a full-grown size it scornfully on the bootblack who left Eugene yesterday for his native land. "The paper says," said Mitzi, punctuating the words with measurings of scorn in her eyes, "that he has accumulated a fortune of $10,000 during his 12-year residence in the United States and now he is taking his $10,000 back to Greece. He earned it, of course, and no one will say that he earned it leasily, for shining shoes is not a pleasant pursuit, and no one pays tribute to integrity of purpose and stick-to-it-iveness more than I do.
