

BOY WHO BEAT AT OF RICH FARMER

Murder Victim May Prove Ernest Descamps.

TWO DESCRIPTIONS TALLY

Beverton Man Last Seen at 11 A. M. Thursday; Friends at Loss for Motive.

Indications that the murder victim in the Sullivan gulch mystery may have been Ernest Descamps, a wealthy farmer living near Beverton, were revealed yesterday when Deputy Sheriff Christoffersen and Beckman, working in conjunction with Lieutenant of Inspectors Goltz, worked throughout the day on the unaccounted disappearance of Mr. Descamps, who has been missing since 11 o'clock last Thursday morning.

Examination of the dismembered portions of the human body found wrapped in newspapers in Sullivan's gulch last Saturday shows that the murdered man was of the same general description of Mr. Descamps, according to Deputy Sheriff Christoffersen, who knew Mr. Descamps. Both police and deputy sheriffs are now seeking a possible motive for the Beverton rancher's murder.

Appointments Not Kept. Mr. Descamps was a bachelor of French birth, 43 years of age, and an old-time resident of the state, and has not been seen since 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

Mr. Descamps had lived in Portland for 20 years and was a wine dealer prior to going to his farm at Beverton. He owned considerable city and farm property and dealt extensively in bonds and mortgages. He is said to have been wealthy. He also dealt on the stock exchange and devoted a part of Thursday morning to reading quotations in the Board of Trade building.

Absence From Exchange Puzzles. The fact that he was operating on the stock exchange in matters where he required his daily attention is given by friends of the missing man as certain proof that he has met with foul play.

George Paschel, who was a business partner of Mr. Descamps in a local hotel property, and N. E. Ingham, another partner, were in conference yesterday with police and deputy sheriffs in an effort to get some possible clue which might clear up the disappearance.

None of the friends of Mr. Descamps could offer a clue as to a possible motive for his murder. Mr. Descamps was a man who did not confide his business dealings with anybody and if he had bitter personal enemies his friends professed not to know of it.

PORTLAND MAN HAS GAINED 15 POUNDS. Louis Frenette Is Enjoying Better Health Than in Twenty Years.

"Tanlac has certainly proved to be the 'Friend in need' in my case and I can't talk to anyone long without telling them of the good it has done me."

Louis S. Frenette, who made the above statement, lives at 116 South Jersey street, St. Johns, Portland, Or., and has charge of the cooking rooms of Swift & Co., in Portland. In relating his experience with Tanlac Mr. Frenette reports a gain of 15 pounds in weight at one of the benefits he has derived from its use.

"For several years," he explained, "I had suffered from rheumatism and a general run-down condition and was in such a bad shape at times I could not get around to do any work. The pains in my back and shoulders were so bad that it almost run me distracted to stoop over and straighten up. I had no appetite and what little I did eat seemed to do me no good as I lost weight and strength all the time. My joints and muscles were so stiff and sore that it was impossible to get up in bed and my sleep was broken that I always got up in the mornings with that awful tired feeling that was not in my mind, but in my shoulders that hurt me so bad every time I breathed I could hardly stand it. I had no energy and was in such a bad fix that I could not do justice to a day's work.

WRIGHT, 60, GETS 10 YEARS IN PRISON

A. A. Wright Pleads Guilty to Wronging Daughter.

FIVE OTHERS SENTENCED

Young Robbers Receive Terms of Varying Lengths From Judge McCourt.

One ten-year sentence in the state penitentiary, three terms of two years each and two of one year with paroles attached were punishments meted out by Presiding Circuit Judge McCourt yesterday afternoon on pleas of guilty. The heaviest "jolt" was given a man of 60 years, young men of 19, 20 and 27 years receiving two-year terms and the paroles going to boys of 19 and 23.

Except for a trait of degeneracy which led him to cause the downfall of a daughter when she was only 14 years old, A. A. Wright, aged 60, father of five, sole support of his family and a widowed sister 70 years old, had been a good husband. This was the statement of Deputy District Attorney Hammarley in presenting the indictment to the court, and corroborated by Attorney Frank Hilton. Against the fact that he had worked industriously for 20 years in support of his family, without a vacation, there was his own daughter whose life he had ruined.

Welfare of Girl Paramount. "Arguments urging leniency have some weight—there is no question but that the family is in dire need," commented Judge McCourt in passing sentence. "But the safety of this girl is another consideration. It will require at least five years' separation from her mother to rehabilitate her. It is unfortunate, but he has forfeited all right to leniency from this court. His family will be infinitely better off without him. The judgment of the court is that he be confined in the state penitentiary for a period of ten years."

Russell Higginbotham, aged 27, partner in two highway robberies, Charles Landale and Robert Hall, who were sentenced last week to eight and six years in the penitentiary respectively, was sentenced to two years' imprisonment. This followed pleas for leniency made by Attorneys Chris Bell and C. O. Schneider, the latter of whom had served with the same company with Higginbotham during the war, and by Lieutenant Colonel Robert C. Yennay of base hospital unit 46.

Higginbotham and the others were implicated in the Nob Hill and Nau pharmacy robberies early in January. "Youths Get Two Years." Ben Perlman, 19, and Everett McDonald, 20, who pleaded guilty to holding up Thomas A. Williams, a store at 847 Williams avenue January 9, 1920, were sentenced to two years each. McDonald was paroled on an assault charge, but will serve six months ago and Perlman expressed three hold-ups during the fall.

H. B. Woodruff, 33, who stole two suits of clothes from the Broadway Dye Works, said that a broken home and drink had caused him to succumb in a moment of weakness to the temptation which he knew to be wrong. He was allowed to plead guilty to simple larceny and sentenced to a year and paroled on condition that he make good the loss.

"They used to hang a man for stealing a cause out in eastern Oregon," said Judge McCourt, "but now they can steal a $2000 automobile with impunity," objected Judge McCourt, when leniency was sought for Roy Whipple, 19, who stole a machine to drive to Vancouver, where he had served 90 days for forgery. "Too many are being sent out to get more than a slap on the wrist."

A year in the penitentiary with parole was pronounced on the condition that $185 be paid the owner of the automobile for damage to the machine and $25 to the state for the expense of the boy to earn the money by hard work.

ROSEBURG, Or., Feb. 9.—(Special)—Chester Ray, a youth giving his age as 17 years, was brought to this city yesterday from Reedsport and placed in the county jail where he will serve a sentence of 20 days imposed upon him by the Reedsport justice of the peace. He was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

YOUTH PUT IN JAIL. ROSEBURG, Or., Feb. 9.—(Special)—Chester Ray, a youth giving his age as 17 years, was brought to this city yesterday from Reedsport and placed in the county jail where he will serve a sentence of 20 days imposed upon him by the Reedsport justice of the peace. He was arrested on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses.

SETTLERS BUILD SCHOOL. Big Creek Families Maintain Standard Course Without Tax. EUGENE, Or., Feb. 9.—(Special)—Living a dozen or more miles from a wagon road and with no taxable property in their district, the homesteaders on upper Big Creek, in the extreme northwest part of Lane county, have surmounted all these difficulties and are maintaining a public school of standard form. Six or eight families have gathered together and set about with the erection of a schoolhouse.

There were no sewers within many miles of the site proposed for the school and even had there been, it would have been impossible to bring the lumber in, there were no means of transportation except by horseback over narrow mountain trails. The settlers felled cedar trees, split them and made enough boards for the site. They built a shanty for the roof and manufactured the benches in the same manner.

Miss Myrtle Kolker, of Eugene, a graduate of the local high school, is teacher in this district. As there is no tax money available in the district, Miss Kolker is paid partially out of the county school fund and partly from private subscriptions.

DEPUTY IS EXONERATED. New Sheriff Declares Assistant Did Not Know of Shortages. CORVALLIS, Or., Feb. 9.—(Special)—W. T. Taylor has been declared deputy sheriff to succeed himself by the new sheriff, S. N. Wardell. Mr. Taylor was deputy sheriff under Sheriff Gellatly.

In a sworn statement published today, Mr. Gellatly made it clear that Mr. Taylor was not only in no way responsible for any shortages incurred, but that it was impossible even for him to have had any intimation of the shortages. There was a shortage of the last few years, but he never had access to the bank statements.

CITIZENSHIP DENIED PAIR

ALIENS AND SLACKERS RAPPED BY JUDGE EAKIN. Applications of Two Natives of Finland Rejected With Prejudice at Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., Feb. 9.—(Special)—Persons who endorse revolutionary ideas, and aliens who are slackers during the war, need not apply for admission to citizenship, was plainly indicated in the circuit court this morning when the applications of natives of Finland were denied by Judge Eakin. The applications were denied with prejudice which means they cannot be renewed for five years, and in the meantime the applicants may be taken up for deportation. In making his ruling the court said: "America wants no man as a citizen whose first act is one of disloyalty to the government of which he seeks to become a subject. This court will never knowingly admit any such persons to citizenship. The experience of the last few years has shown we have enough disloyal citizens and we want no more of them."

O. Wilson, city health officer. More than 100 cases were released from quarantine yesterday in the city and City Health Officer Parrish predicts that the disease has reached its crest in this city and will soon show a decline.
