

$5000 LEFT NURSE BY THOMAS PRINCE

Ruth Emery, Gresham, Long Attendant, Remembered.

ESTATE MAY BE MILLION

Son Sole Heir-at-Law and Derives Large Part of Fortune; $71,000 Goes to Charities.

To Ruth Emery of Gresham, a graduate nurse of Good Samaritan hospital who had been an attendant of the late Thomas Prince for several years and was his bedside at Santa Barbara, Cal., on February 2, when he died, $5000 in cash was bequeathed, according to the terms of the will filed for probate in the circuit court yesterday afternoon.

Of an estate estimated to be worth $500,000 in the petition for probate but believed by persons familiar with his financial affairs to inventory nearer twice the amount, Mr. Prince bequeathed $71,000 to charity, all to institutions or cities in Massachusetts. Dr. H. E. Ong of Portland, who is named executor in the will, is left $2750. He was with Mr. Prince up to the time of death.

Son Sole Heir-at-Law

Aside from an 85-acre farm at Dundee, Or., containing the largest walnut orchard in the state and valued at about $45,000, and the handsome Prince residence at 901 Alameda Drive, worth at least $25,000, Thomas Prince, son and sole heir-at-law, receives $10,000 in cash and $100,000 in trust, the income of which he is to pay him quarterly during his lifetime. If survived by a widow, she will receive $5000 and a trust fund of $20,000. Any children would receive $50,000 in trust for life. At death of widow and children the trust fund, and the estate of the son, is to be divided among other direct relatives.

The net income of a $20,000 trust is to be divided among the following: Lucius T. Hayward of Dundee, who also shares equally with five other legatees under the will in the residue of the estate. The Worcester Bank & Trust company of Worcester, Mass., is named trustee of the estate.

William L. Ames of Worcester, a nephew, receives $5000 in cash and shares in the residue of the estate. After all bequests are paid and the trust funds set aside the bulk of the property will be divided among the following relatives: Lucius T. Hayward, Dundee, Or.; William L. Ames, Worcester, Mass.; J. S. Simmons, New York City; Olive M. Dows, Melrose, Mass.; Lucy E. Ames, Portland, Me.; and Ralph A. Simmons, Lowell, Mass.

Twenty-five thousand dollars is left the town of Kingston, Mass., the income of which is to be used in caring for the poor and sick of the city. Requests of $5000 each are left to the Masonic home, Charlton, Mass.; Wagoner's home, Charlton, Mass.; and Home for Aged Men at Worcester, Mass. The income is to be used by the town in the purchase of a new building with such spending money for luxuries as deemed prudent.

The Kingston Cemetery association is left $25,000 with authority to build a chapel, and the town of Kingston is left $5000 to be added to the Lucy Prince Ames memorial fund for the upkeep of burial grounds of the Prince family, particularly the grave of Noah Prince, father of the late Thomas Prince.

Old Veterans Remembered

The needy members and families of George H. Ward post, No. 10, G. A. R., at Worcester, are to be remembered. Mr. Prince's will was drawn August 20, 1918, in Portland, with Jay Clark Jr., Gertrude M. Nichols and Winthrop Hammond as witnesses. It was witnessed December 12, 1919, witnessed by J. K. Gill, J. H. Middleton, M. H. Clark and Charles K. Spaulding.

Thin Blood Makes Large Coal Bills

Thin-blooded people are the worst sufferers from a coal famine. They need more heat to be comfortable than healthy, full-blooded men and women. During the winter anemia victims weigh down the body with heavy clothing and hoard over the stove another source of heat. In such homes the coal bills are high.

Association Goes Limit

"Y" Building to be Turned Over to Shriners.

Organization Shows It Is Willing to Do Its Share in Housing Big Through Next June.

Announcement was made yesterday by Mark Woodruff, secretary for the general committee on arrangements for the Imperial Shrine convention, to be held in Portland next June, that the local Young Men's Christian association, through its board of directors and H. W. Stone, general secretary, has turned over its entire building for the use of visitors. This is but one of several instances, Mr. Woodruff said, which show that the organization is willing to do its share in housing big through next June.

More people, men and women, are coming to Portland to attend the Imperial Shrine convention than ever assembled in Portland before, said Mr. Woodruff, and it is necessary that all co-operate to help out.

"In the case of the Y. M. C. A.," said Mr. Woodruff, "the board of directors has gone the limit to help out, turning over the entire dormitory, with 40 rooms, to the floor, the assembly room, swimming pool—everything that can be used, which means almost anything in this case."

In connection with the Y. M. C. A. building arrangement, Mr. Woodruff yesterday received a letter from Senator Harlan and A. N. Pickett, occupants of one of the dormitory rooms, in response to a general letter sent to all rooms by Mayor Baker, explaining how urgent the rooms will be needed for the convention. The letter replied, in part, as follows: "Our George," and read as follows: "A few days ago we received from your office a request for use of our room for visitors to the convention. We shall not only grant this, George, but we will show them that this is a 'regular city' by leaving our guests two suits of nice, clean pajamas."

HOUSER SAYS PROFIT ALL WENT TO WAR

Juggling Charge Answered by Corporation Official.

WORK IS TO BE DETAILED

Additional Funds Also Were Used in Carrying On Activities, Is Declaration in Statement.

The Spokane federal grand jury's charges of wheat market manipulation, made against M. H. Houser, the second vice-president of the United States grain corporation, are not going to rest without further answer from Mr. Houser, for he is preparing a detailed statement of the operations of his grain company during the war and this statement will incidentally show that the profits, and more too, went to various war activities.

Mr. Houser will carry his explanation into the operations of the present crop year.

"At the beginning of the crop year or shortly after Mr. Barnes was appointed head of the grain corporation," said Mr. Houser yesterday, "I wrote to him explaining the situation. For the good of the work I asked that I should be relieved of the duties of the vice-president of the grain corporation, believing that with the frame of mind of the people over the reaction from the war there undoubtedly would be a feeling that I might continue in this position for private gain."

"Entanglements" Are Evaded.

"I didn't want to jeopardize the past two years' operations by any entanglements during the coming year," but after an almost heart-breaking appeal on the part of the wheat director to continue and see it through I decided to do so. He pointed out how hard it would be for someone new who had not been in the work the past two years to pick up the duties over here, as they were so complex and so different than in the eastern sections, and being so far away from Washington and New York it would make it doubly hard. I mind that I decided to stay against my better judgment.

"At the beginning of the war, when I accepted this position as vice-president of the grain corporation, in order to maintain my grain organization, I agreed to subscribe the entire amount of profits gained by them to the various war charities, but after balances were made the amount was very disappointing, being a little over one-half of what I had already subscribed. These accounts have all been checked by a public accountant, and also by the internal revenue department. The exact amounts will be given in the next few days, along with some other data on the operations of the present crop year. I am withholding this data for the present as we are making an absolute check. It is true that we have a fair average that for all practical purposes would be sufficient, but since the charge has been made in the manner in which it has—which is practically a stab in the back, I want to have it absolutely accurate."

Manipulation Charge Answered.

"Now in a general way, with reference to the charge of manipulation, this is a most unjust and unwarranted accusation. It is absolutely absurd on the face of it. The market in the Pacific northwest on hard wheat patent flour has been cheaper by $1.50 to $2.50 per barrel all season than in any other market in the United States. Along in October when it was ascertained how short the crop through the Big Bend country was, in which section a large majority of the hard wheat varieties are grown, it developed into a scramble between the various mills and concerns to acquire supplies. This was greatly intensified by some shipments that were made to the Montana, Dakota and Minneapolis mills. In the aggregate perhaps, these shipments, on account of the great car shortage, may not have reached a great amount, but the effect was instantaneous.

Wheat Shortage Cited.

"The mills here fully realized that with a shortage in this hard wheat section there would be barely enough to go around to supply the mills' wants of the Pacific northwest, and knowing that some might get away to the east, this greatly intensified their desire to acquire supplies."

"I have just seen the article that was published in the Spokane paper, and in reading it over it seems almost perfectly correct in its conclusion as to what it is really all about. I see they even mention the name of Mr. Hoover, especially in regard to his buying into a newspaper and the credit of sending supplies to the suffering children of Europe. Therefore, it would appear that politics has apparently entered into this situation."

"Now, so far as the grand jury's worrying over the fact that someone might profiteer on the purchase and sale of this wheat, they can disillusion their minds on that score, as the grain corporation already has a supply of wheat to meet this situation which was bought at the guaranteed price."

"Another rather inconsistent aspect to this situation is that the grand jury recommends various regulations in connection with wheat prices, when only a day or two before Senator Gronna, from North Dakota, recommended that all restrictions be taken away and the grain corporation be ended. It certainly makes an interesting comparison to say the least."

MARKET ROADS ADDED

County to Spend $22,000 on Four Designated Routes.

Four roads were added yesterday by the county commissioners to those previously selected as market roads to be benefited by state and county appropriations for improvement under the new market road law. They were the Kaiser, Maplewood, Lowden and Brower roads, on which it is planned to spend $22,000 of the $109,622.50 appropriation available.

The roads and amounts to be spent on them are as follows: Skyline boulevard, $21,428.52; St. Helens road, $15,000; Bertha-Beaverton road, $62,500; St. Johns river road, $58,700; Columbia boulevard, $20,000; Kaiser road, $100; Maplewood road, $5000; Lowden road, $3700, and Brower road, $3200.
