

LIFESAVING EXPERT REACHES PORTLAND

W. E. Longfellow to Deliver Series of Lectures.

RED CROSS WORK DONE

Methods of Resuscitation and Safe Swimming to Be Shown by Editor of "Aquaograms."

"Did you ever before hear of a lecturer talking in the Y. M. C. A. on a wet platform?" asked W. E. Longfellow of Washington, D. C., when he reached Portland yesterday.

Mr. Longfellow is a lifesaving expert sent out by the American Red Cross to organize resuscitation corps and teach people safe methods of swimming.

Swimming Paper Edited. Longfellow is one of the best swimmers in the country, but declares he is the only traveling swimmer who has never been champion of any city.

Resuscitation to Be Shown. The expert will be at Shattuck school at 9 A. M. tomorrow to give fire rescue demonstrations before a joint meeting of Portland firemen and Boy Scouts.

Longfellow is scheduled for a lecture this afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium at 2:30 and tonight will give this demonstration in the "Y" tank at 8 o'clock.

"It is our aim," he explained, "to provide every crowd of 100 with two or three experts. Seven years ago this country was drowning 10,000 people annually and we have managed to drop about 700 a year through educational work."

Longfellow is scheduled for a lecture this afternoon in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium at 2:30 and tonight will give this demonstration in the "Y" tank at 8 o'clock.

COMMISSION FINDS CASH

SHOWDOWN FORCES MEASURES TO REFILL TREASURY.

Result of Cancelling Items Will Be New Contagious Hospital for City.

Although the city is short in money which may be applied to emergencies, discoveries yesterday indicate that when forced to a showdown the members of the council can find numerous ways in which the treasury can be refilled.

Adoption of a plan through which sufficient cancellation of appropriations in the annual budget can be made in the various departments to transfer $20,000 to the general fund assures the immediate completion of a contagious hospital in Portland.

The proposed contagious hospital will cost approximately $50,000 and will be so constructed as to care for all contagious diseases, as is done in other cities and in the army.

Several ways in which the general fund could be replenished were suggested by Commissioner Barber, who has been becoming increasingly concerned with the financial end of city work.

ITCHING PIMPLES ON CHILD'S FACE

And Legs. Very Irritable and Would Scratch. Cuticura Heals.

"My little boy was broken out all over his face and legs with pimples. The pimples were scaly and itched dreadfully, causing him to become very irritable. He would scratch and make them bleed and his face was disfigured."

"I used a few samples of Cuticura Soap and Ointment, then purchased one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. I used the Soap and Ointment every night until he was entirely healed."

Daily use of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum usually prevent skin troubles.

MOVING PICTURE NEWS

Dramatic moment from the photodrama, "Revenge of Strangers," which will open tomorrow at the Sunset theater. It is the story of a man who is tricked by a woman into committing a crime.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES.

Rivoli—Jack Pickford, "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come." Peoples—Elaime Hammerstein, "Greater Than Fame." Majestic—Anita Stewart, "Mind the Paint Girl." Columbia—Special production, "Blind Husbands." Liberty—Doris May and Douglas McLean, "What's Your Husband Doing?" Star—Harry Carey, "Marked Men." Sunset—Vivian Martin, "The Third Kiss." Circle—Bryant Washburn, "Why Smith Left Home."

"BEWARE OF STRANGERS"

Interesting title of the Star theater special feature which will open tomorrow.

The picture has no one star but among its cast such names as Thomas Sargent, Beulah Byron, Jack Richardson, Eugene Beasler, Fritz Rudolph, Harry Lowndale, Ed Coxen and Harry Lowndale. The story is one which dovetails with the current propaganda that seeks to educate the public to the snares and pitfalls of modern criminals.

Loose settings are said to characterize many of the scenes. The show will include a Pathé review, current events, a comedy and feature Dow Wink, solist and Ray Coleman, who plays the banjo.

Houdini in "The Grim Game," with the Mack Sennett super-comedy, "Uncle Tom Without the Cabin," is the Sunset theater program for four days starting tomorrow.

All sorts of thrills and starts as well as a unique romance are shown in "The Grim Game," which was written by the American Conan Doyle, Arthur B. Reeve. Mr. Reeve is one of the world's best-known writers of detective stories and in this picture he has escaped from every jail worthy of mention in the world, including the Tower of London and the Paris Bastille. He has liberated himself from every known contrivance used by the police of the world such as handcuffs, iron ball and iron strait jacket and other implements.

In addition to these stunts the picture contains the greatest motion picture thriller ever shown. It is a bona fide collision between two airplanes 2000 feet above the earth.

ASSAULT DEVELOPS INTO MYSTERY CASE

Albany Prisoner Expected to Prove Alibi.

MOTIVE BECOMES PUZZLE

Herbert Lingofelter, Victim, Continues to Improve; Officers Work on Many Theories.

ALBANY, Or., Feb. 19.—(Special)—The assault in this city last Friday night, in which Herbert Lingofelter suffered a fractured skull, was developing into a "mystery case" today.

Lingofelter said as soon as he was able to talk he maintained since that he recognized W. E. Weaver as his assailant, and Weaver was arrested and charged with crime. Officers who have been investigating Weaver's whereabouts on the evening of the assault have found that apparently he will be able to establish a complete alibi. Weaver is being held, however, until the matter can be checked up further.

Lingofelter's story that Weaver committed the assault seemed plausible, for the two men are said to have been having trouble. Weaver and his wife separated a few weeks ago and neighborhood gossip ascribed the cause of the separation to Weaver's alleged attempted attentions to Mrs. Lingofelter. Then Weaver went to live at the Lingofelter home until Mr. Lingofelter ordered him out after he had been there about ten days.

About two weeks ago Mrs. Lingofelter went to her former home at Reedley, Cal., to care for her mother, who ill and unable to get on her feet for Lingofelter to follow his family there as soon as he closed up some business matters here. She returned here immediately when informed of her husband's injury. She denies emphatically a rumor that Weaver was in the late afternoon when the assault she is said to have admitted to local officers that Weaver paid her some attentions the affair was only a harmless flirtation, according to her story.

There appeared to have been some sort of a motive to support Lingofelter's story that it was Weaver who committed the assault. But if Weaver proves an absolute alibi, which officers now admit may be the case, the assault becomes a mystery. Apparently robbery was not the motive for the assault, because Lingofelter's purse was in his pocket when he was found and from all indications his pockets had not been searched or anything about his person disturbed.

Problem—If the Crown Prince is worth 900 Germans, what's one German worth?

If Borax will do what it's advertised to, they ought to use some on that trial.

Lon Chaney who plays the part of "Blizzard," king of the underworld in Governor Morris' new Goldwyn picture "The Penalty," has a difficult role to perform. Blizzard is supposed to be a man whose legs have been cut off at the knees. To do the part Chaney must go with the lower part of his legs strapped back and must work on his knees. On account of stopping the circulation of his blood, he is unable to hold the position for any length of time, so a dummy is substituted for him during rehearsal and Chaney only comes on while the scene is actually being filmed. Chaney was much praise for his work as the hypocritical lame beggar in "The Miracle Man."

To erect the "sets" at the Goldwyn studios, Culver City, Cal., requires a force of 200 carpenters, 20 painters, 15 plasterers, 10 property makers, 5 paper hangers and others, under the direction of an expert builder and foreman.

Unassigned are J. W. Morgan, T. D. Walker, S. H. Pontius, Fred Rooney, Louise Barbeatz, Sophia Ann and Laura Wilder.

The conference missionaries are Miss Myrtle P. Williams and Miss Emma L. Kannan at Raghunathpur, India. Conference secretary, H. J. Pontius.

Many of them were Bible students—all are new. Many were Christians—turned from disease and sin, are restored to health and responsibility. Unquestionably there is a mighty power in this influence which has touched the lives of your fellow citizens and blessed them, which has made bad men good and good men better.

"My friends, I am aware that the foregoing statement accords to Christian Science a place as a restorative agency not achieved by any of the prevailing systems of religion and medicine."

"Now I do not speak incompetently, nor do I wish to speak impudently of materia medica. To qualify myself to practice medicine, I studied three years and graduated at a standard medical college. At no place did this course of study rise above matter. The textbook which has most to say about health and the way to restore and maintain it was omitted from the curriculum. The Bible is not studied in medical colleges. The supreme authority on cause and effect, the one exhaustive study of man and his maker, is there ignored."

The entire tendency of material medicine is away from the spiritual. However much material systems of medicine may infect ordinary religion, and the infection has already deprived the orthodox church of spiritual healing, it cannot be said that religion has affected medicine, which has steadily unreligiously, its practice requiring no Christian qualification."

MUSICAL STOCK TO CLOSE

ALCAZAR COMPANY FINISHES SEASON IN MARCH.

C. V. Everett, Manager, Says Portland Falls to Give Support Assured by Los Angeles.

C. V. Everett, manager of the Alcazar Musical Stock company, announced yesterday the closing of that organization in the East, which will mean the transfer of the company to Los Angeles.

"We have endeavored to keep going on the promises of support held out to us by business bodies in Portland," said Mr. Everett, "but their word has not been backed up by deeds. It is too late now to give over the district further. We did the best we could, and are now in our forty-second week of musical stock that Portland apparently does not want and will not support and which Los Angeles does want and will support. When we considered closing a few months ago we had received no proposition from both Seattle and Los Angeles, but immediately refused to consider them when the pledge of support from Portland was assured us. Since then save from an occasional club or group of supporters our affairs have received no support. I have accordingly closed with the Los Angeles firm and we will open there on June 6 for a 12-week engagement. Local musical stock The Los Angeles concern wants to tie us up for even a longer engagement, but I have signed for 12 weeks with promise to consider a longer stay. I will move the company intact and in order to give the members a needed rest their season at the Alcazar will close the last week in March. I suggest that all our patrons who have season tickets make use of them as soon as convenient and help us clear our decks before Portland is assured us. We are offering several good bills in the interim. Next week we will play "Little Boy Blue" and the bill of the week after will include "The Man Who Owned Broadway," "Pretty Mrs. Smith," "The Quaker Girl" and either "The Siren" or "The Girl From Montana." We will play at the Clune Auditorium in Los Angeles. A dramatic stock company is to lease the Alcazar theater here I understand."

WOOD REUNION PLANNED

FORCES TO GATHER AT WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Reports of Organization Progress in Oregon Will Be Made and Speakers Heard.

A second formal reunion of Leonard Wood forces is to be held at a dinner in Governor Morris' new Goldwyn Hotel Benson in honor of Washington's birthday. The affair will be under the auspices of the Leonard Wood republican club, although all organizations boosting the Wood candidacy will be represented.

Reports of progress made recently in organizing Oregon for Leonard Wood will be made, and speakers will be heard on several phases of the present political situation. One of the principal addresses will be delivered by J. Y. C. Kellogg of Seattle, manager of the Leonard Wood campaign headquarters for the state of Washington. Mrs. A. J. Kloeker of Medford will represent the women's viewpoint in discussing the merits of the republican candidate for president, Justice George W. Stapleton will act as toastmaster.

Other speakers will be C. E. Cochran and C. H. Weston, president of the Leonard Wood republican club. Music will be furnished by Walter Jenkins, Harry Leach and Dr. Ella Welch. The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 o'clock.

LOGGING WORKER KILLED

Tony Vulatich, 44 Years Old, Dies at Work Near Knappa, Or.

ASTORIA, Or., Feb. 19.—(Special)—Tony Vulatich, head rigger at the Big Creek Logging company's camp near Knappa, was killed while at work there about 8 o'clock this morning. A large log had been hauled up against a stump, where it was stopped by the rigger. Vulatich then gave the signal for the donkey engine to start pulling and as the line tightened the log slipped and struck Vulatich on the top of the head, crushing his skull, and killing him instantly.

Vulatich was a native of Austria, 44 years old and so far as known left no relatives in this country. He had been in the employ of the logging camp coming here from Portland last Monday.

MEDICINE HELD WANTING

ORTHODOX HEALING SYSTEMS DECLARED INADEQUATE.

Unique Achievement Claimed for Christian Science by Lecturer at Heilig Theater.

That Christian Science occupies a place as a restorative agency not achieved by any other existing system of religion and medicine, was the declaration of Dr. John M. Tutt, in a lecture on "Christian Science: Its Restorative Ministry," in the Heilig theater Wednesday noon.

Dr. Tutt said in part: "Christian Science has come to humanity in response to its cry: 'Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.'—Restore unto me the joy of thy salvation. It has come to restore health in the place of sickness, righteousness in the place of sin, supply in the place of want, joy in the place of sorrow, understanding in the place of ignorance."

"Through the restorative ministry of Christian Science multitudes today rejoice in the health of their bodies, physically, bodily saved and spiritually awakened, are not incompetent, but representative citizens of the communities in which they live—they are your friends, perchance."
