

TALKING PICKETS
SILENCED BY JUDGE

Injunction Prevents Argument or Demonstration.

SHOE STORES INVOLVED

Unions Are Allowed One Patrol Who Must Remain Quiet—Appeal to Be Made.

Peaceful picketing is lawful in exceptional situations where it is obviously a right of peaceful picketing, but the acts of women pickets outside shoe stores of George L. Greenfield have been neither lawful nor peaceful, held President of Circuit Judge John McCourt yesterday when he granted a permanent injunction restraining pickets from verbal or physical intimidation of prospective patrons of the stores.

The decision permits the employment by the retail clerks' union of one picket during business hours at each of the plaintiff's stores, but this picket is not allowed to engage in any argument or make any declarations whatsoever or to make any demonstration or take any pose calculated to discourage patronage. She may, however, wear an "unfair" sign and walk along the outer edge of the sidewalk in front of the entrance to a store.

U'Ren to Appeal.
Attorney John W. Kaste, representing Mr. Greenfield, claimed that the decision was a partial victory for the unions, in that the contention that there was such a thing as peaceful picketing was sustained. Attorney W.
S. U'Ren, representing the Central Labor Council, announced that he would appeal the decision to the construction of the 1919 statute held by the unions to legalize picketing is already before the supreme court in the case of the plaintiff's granted by Circuit Judge Kavan-naugh and Stapleton, Judge Gatens dissenting, in a similar proceeding brought last fall by manufacturing jewelers of the city. At that time Judge Kavanauigh held that there might be such a thing as peaceful picketing, but that the construction of the statute placed on picketing was not peaceful, and Judge Stapleton insisted that no method of picketing was lawful.

Women Pickets Used.
The present case grew out of a strike called by the clerks local on January 19, 1920, when Mr. Greenfield refused to compel four non-union employees to join the union under threat of discharge. Women pickets were stationed in front of the Greenfield store at Fourth and Morrison streets, and on the night of January 20, 1920, they were Sample Shoe Store at Fourth and Alder. These pickets wore sashes, which are still permitted, and addressed passersby in a loud voice, advising them to go elsewhere to trade.

The defendants in the injunction suit admitted that the acts of the pickets were intended to injure the business of the plaintiff and did so, insisting that nothing was done which they did not have a legal right to do, that there was no violence or intimidation and that their acts were recognized as exempt from restraint by the 1919 law of Oregon.
The plaintiff contended that the acts were in pursuance of a conspiracy to compel the plaintiff against his will to comply with the demands in accordance with the demands of the defendants, that they interfered with the lawful conduct of business and were such an intimidation of patrons as to warrant protection of the court.
There was considerable discussion as to whether peaceful or lawful picketing could be conducted in any way or at all, in view of the purpose of every such effort to inflict injury upon the business against which it is directed.

Act Held Unlawful.
"After a careful review of the authorities, I conclude that the lawfulness or unlawfulness of the acts of conduct in any case must be determined from the character of the particular acts or conduct and their effect on the rights or property of the one complaining," ruled the jurist. "Whether the acts are given the designation of 'picketing' or
'striking' is not important. Each case depends upon its own facts."
"If the acts are unlawful, and irreparable injury will result if they are
continued, the writ should issue," he held. "That picketing is lawful if, at all effective, usually results in an unlawful invasion of the rights of the proprietor does not alter
the rule."
"No material distinction can be discerned between a picket pacing up and down the sidewalk denouncing the plaintiff in loud tones while being unfair to labor and calling upon all patrons or prospective patrons about to enter his store to desert from trading with him, and one standing in the entrance to his place of business and obstructing or preventing patrons from entering. The law is bound to protect the plaintiff against acts that directly and immediately interfere with his business; it cannot permit plaintiff's undeniable rights to be defeated by a claim of right so untenable as arises where the interference is committed by one standing a few feet from the entrance to the place of business rather than in the entrance."
"The law nowhere indicates 'picketing' is a lawful or peaceful means of conducting or carrying out a boycott; on the contrary it has received almost universal condemnation, for whatever purpose utilized. In the exceptional situations where it is lawful, it is obviously a right of constitutional utility."

Women's Activities

MRS. MARGARET C. MUNNS and Mrs. Margaret B. Platt, national workers of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, will pass through Portland on their return to the east from the regional conference at San Francisco.
They will be in the city only one day, February 23, and will meet the members of the W. C. T. U. and other organizations interested in Americanization, child welfare, moral education, law enforcement and kindred subjects in a conference in the social room of the Y. W. C. A., Taylor and Broadway.
The conference will open at 10 A.
M. and continue till 3 P. M. A luncheon being served at 12 in the Y. W.
C. A. dining room. At 3 a reception will follow the conference.
Mrs. Margaret C. Platt will speak at the luncheon at the Y. W. C. A.
Monday and Mrs. Margaret C. Munns will be one of the speakers at the Extra Special—Men's $4.50 Medium Weight Pajamas—Fancy Stripes—Nearly All Sizes—Special $3.05

We Give S. & H. Green Trading Stamps With Purchases Amounting to 10c or More—Don't Overlook This Cash Saving—Filled Stamp Books Redeemed in Cash at Office on 3d Floor
Free Trial Demonstration of Hoover and Sweeper-Vac Electric Cleaners—Inquire at Rug Department, 3d Floor—Portland Agency for Famous Brenlin Window Shades—3d Floor

For the Best
Lunch

in Portland come to Tea Room on 4th Floor. Service from 11 to 2:30 o'clock daily. All food prepared in our spotless kitchens.

The Standard Store of the Northwest
Olds, Wortman & King
Reliable Merchandise—Reliable Methods

Women's and Misses' Coats Greatly Reduced

$3.25 to $4 Gloves $1.59
Extra Special!

Several hundred pairs of Women's Kid and Lambskin Gloves offered at a very special price today at the Center Circle on the Main Floor.
Reliable makes—lines from our own regular stock. One and two clasps styles, in black, white and colors.

Is Your Size
Here?

—Chart to the right shows the exact number of pairs in each size and color. One of the most remarkable offerings of the season. Shop early. Sale starts promptly at 9:15.

Sizes	5 1/2	5 3/4	6	6 1/2	6 3/4	7	7 1/2
Blk	126	150	194	57	15	7
Whit	8	1	10	14	2	8	12
Tan	33	33	24			1
Gray	10	3	2
Navy	29	37	4
Brown		18	39	58	4
Mode	12	13	6
Pearl				8	8
Total	218	255	279	137	29	16	12

$3.25, $4 Gloves $1.59

Women's Coats
$24.49

Second Floor—High class Coats in many smart models for street and utility wear.
Made up in Bolivias, Home-spuns, Velours, Tweeds and Novelty Mixtures. Belted, plaited and panel effects with convertible collars. Sizes 14 to 44. Specially priced Saturday $24.49

Women's Coats
$38.98

Second Floor—This group of Coats includes many of our finest winter models.
Bolivia, Silvertone, Yose-mita Cloth, Cheviot and Velour materials. Belted, blouse, yoke and full back effects. Many are full lined. Excellent range of desirable colors. Special $38.98

New Middy
Blouses

Second Floor—Blue Flannel Middies in new spring styles at prices ranging $5.50 to $8.95 —Red Flannel Middies $6.95 —White Galatea Blouses in many different styles—some with detachable collar; prices range from $1.25 to $6.50

Crepe Waists
$4.28

Bargain Circle, 1st Floor—Extra special offering for Saturday only. Women's Waists of fine quality Georgette Crepe. Beautiful styles in beaded, braided and embroidered effects.
High or low necks. Good range of colors. $4.28 Priced special at $4.28

New Tailored
Hats

—The Millinery Store will feature a special showing of smart new Tailored Hats today at $7.50. Very latest Sailor effects for early Spring wear. Black and colored straws.
Also many other new arrivals in Tailored Hats at $10.00 to $25.00

New Spring
Neckwear

—Latest Novelties
Main Floor—NEW ROUND COLLARS with cuffs to match. Made of rows of dainty lace insertion in white and cream. Very effective for dress or blouse. Also new Round Collars with lace tabs of imitation flit or Venice lace. These range in price $1.25 to $3.50 —FRENCH ORGANDIE Vests with collars and cuffs to match. Yarn embroidered designs. Shown in various color combinations. Priced only $5.95 used for roll collars. $1.25 yard.
—NEW TAB LACES for Collars
in white and cream. Fine assortment of patterns in imitation Venice laces—also embroidered organdie material for making of collars. $1.25 to $1.95 a yard.
—We give Green Trading Stamps.
—ODD LINES NECKWEAR PLAITINGS on SALE at 1/2 PRICE.

New Trimmed
Millinery

—Charming models for early Spring.
Large hats, small, off-the-face hats.
Prices range from $7.50 to $40.00

Millinery Salons
Second Floor

—DAINTY Embroidered Georgette Collars in many attractive styles. Finished with imitation Venise lace. White only. Prices range from $1.25 up to $2.50 —NEW NET BANDINGS with three rows of narrow net ruffles and hemstitching; these are much used for roll collars. $1.25 yard.
—NEW TAB LACES for Collars
in white and cream. Fine assortment of patterns in imitation Venise laces—also embroidered organdie material for making of
collars. $1.25 to $1.95 a yard.
—We give Green Trading Stamps.
—ODD LINES NECKWEAR PLAITINGS on
SALE at 1/2 PRICE.

Boys' Blue Serge Suits
Special at $11.85

Main Floor—These splendid Suits represent the utmost in value at the price. Made of excellent quality navy blue serge. Collar and shoulders hand tailored—pants full cut and full lined. Suits that will hold their shape to the last. Latest waistline styles with jazz pockets. Ages $11.85 9 to 18. Special at the suit

Handkerchiefs
At 29c

Main Floor—Women's pure linen Kerchiefs with white and colored embroidered corners. Large assortment of designs. Specially priced for Saturday 29c

Handkerchiefs 7c

Main Floor—Children's School Handkerchiefs in plain white with neat hem. Extraordinary 7c values. 6 for 35c; or, each 7c

Boys' Pants 98c

Main Floor—Boys' Knickerbocker Pants of good quality tweed materials. Mostly in light shades. Cut good and full and lined. Sizes 9 to 16. Special a pair

Corduroy Suits
At $7.85

Main Floor—Good, sturdy Suits of Corduroy that will give a maximum of service.
Shown in serviceable dark brown $7.85 color. Pants full cut. Sizes 7 to 16

Boys' Pants 98c

Main Floor—Boys' Knickerbocker Pants of
good quality tweed materials. Mostly in
light shades. Cut good and full and
lined. Sizes 9 to 16. Special a pair

Portland Agency for Dutchess Trousers —We now have a good supply of the famous Dutchess Corduroy Knick-ers for boys 7 to 18 years of age. Priced at $3.50 and $3.75 a pair.

Basement Millinery Special—Rough Straw Hat Braids Special 49c a Bolt regular luncheon of the Portland Women's Research club at the Benson hotel, her subject being "Community Service."

Portland Woman's Research club will entertain with an elaborate luncheon Monday, February 23, at 12 o'clock, in the crystal room of the Benson hotel. The programme arranged will include Mrs. Helen Miller Scott, who will speak on "Social Conditions of the East." Dr. William T. McEveven, whose topic will be "Interpreting the Signs of the Times," and Mrs. Alva Lee Stephens will discuss "Our Own Problems." Mrs. Margaret Munn, a prominent speaker of Chicago, will talk on "Community Service." Mrs. Robert Clark will sing several selections, accompanied on the piano by her son, Robert Clark, Jr., and on the violin by Miss Helen Hardison. A community sing will be enjoyed, led by Mr. Walter R. Jenkins.
Mrs. Edson J. Steele is chairman. Public reservations phone Tabor 791, Tabor 1265 or Main 5576.

Obituary.
ROSEBURG, Or., Feb. 20.—(Special).
—Lafe L. Lewis, aged 50, for many years prominent in business circles of Roseburg, died at his home in this city late last night. He was born at Brookway, this county, of pioneer parents, June 26, 50 years ago, and Mr. Lewis had lived in this vicinity all his life, much of the time being a resident of Roseburg, where for the last 10 or 12 years he engaged in the restaurant business. He was affiliated with the Moose and Eagles lodges. He is survived by a brother, C. P. and one sister, Susie Lewis, both residents of this city.
SALEM, Or., Feb. 20.—(Special).
—Charles Spencer, aged about 70 years, and for some time past janitor at the public library here, died at his home yesterday following an operation for cancer. Mr. Spencer is survived by his widow and several children.
THE DALLES, Or., Feb. 20.—(Special).
—Mrs. Luella Thompson, aged 44, wife of C. H. Thompson, wealthy fruit and wheat rancher of Wasco county, died last Wednesday in this city. Mrs.
Thompson has resided here for more than three years, coming to the west from Kentucky. She has always shown a progressive spirit and with her husband operated a large fruit ranch and a wheat field. The deceased was a member of the Methodist church.
In addition to her husband, the following brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. H. A. Vollstedt and Marvin Tate, both of Portland; Mrs. W. L. Swearingen and Bryant Tate of The Dalles.
The deceased had no children.
KELOSO, Wash., Feb. 20.—(Special).
—Crumline L. Fowler, who was born at Presport, Covell county, May 23, 1864, passed away last night at his home near Presport. Mr. Fowler's grandfather took up a donation land claim just south of Kelso, on the west side of the Cowlitz. He had resided in or around Kelso all his life. In 1888 he and Miss Nellie Bone were married at Kelama and his widow and eight children, five daughters and three sons, survive to mourn his demise. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fowler of La Du, and five brothers and sisters also survive.

Lake Land Bids Asked.
KELAMATH FALLS, Or., Feb. 20.— (Special).—The United States real-estate service announces that bids will be received, up to 2 P. M. March 5, for the leasing of 3000 acres of reclaimed marsh land on the north and east shores of Tule lake. There are 33 separate lots offered, ranging in size from 64 to 152 acres. No person can bid on more than one lot. The land is suitable for grain and hay raising and is ready for immediate cultivation.
Eugene Girl is Chosen.
EUGENE, Or., Feb. 20.—(Special).
—Miss Margaret Tiffany of the Lincoln school of this city has been named as a committee of the Oregon Educational association to handle the publicity for the proposed 2-mill tax for the support of elementary education in this state. The committee will meet in Portland once every two weeks from now until the election in May. It is announced.

Why does Butter Nut Bread make such Fine Toast?
"Butternut Bread certainly makes fine toast. Such crispy freshness. Notice the golden brown color it takes when toasting."
U. S. BAKERY
PORTLAND, OR.

After a careful review of the
authorities, I conclude that the law-
fulness or unlawfulness of the acts
of conduct in any case must be determined from the character of the
particular acts or conduct and their
effect on the rights or property of
the one complaining," ruled the
jurist. "Whether the acts are given
the designation of 'picketing' or
'striking' is not important. Each
case depends upon its own facts."
"If the acts are unlawful, and irre-
parable injury will result if they are
continued, the writ should issue,"
he held. "That picketing is lawful
if, at all effective, usually results in an unlawful invasion of the rights of the proprietor does not alter
the rule."
"No material distinction can be dis-
cerned between a picket pacing up
and down the sidewalk denouncing
the plaintiff in loud tones while being
unfair to labor and calling upon all
patrons or prospective patrons about
to enter his store to desert from
trading with him, and one standing in
the entrance to his place of business and obstructing or preventing
patrons from entering. The law is
bound to protect the plaintiff against
acts that directly and immediately
interfere with his business; it cannot
permit plaintiff's undeniable rights to
be defeated by a claim of right so
untenable as arises where the inter-
ference is committed by one standing
a few feet from the entrance to the place of business rather than in the
entrance."
"The law nowhere indicates 'picket-
ing' is a lawful or peaceful means of
conducting or carrying out a boy-
cott; on the contrary it has received
almost universal condemnation, for
whatever purpose utilized. In the exceptional situations where it is lawful, it is obviously a right of constitutional utility."

After a careful review of the
authorities, I conclude that the law-
fulness or unlawfulness of the acts
of conduct in any case must be determined from the character of the
particular acts or conduct and their
effect on the rights or property of
the one complaining," ruled the
jurist. "Whether the acts are given
the designation of 'picketing' or
'striking' is not important. Each
case depends upon its own facts."
"If the acts are unlawful, and irre-
parable injury will result if they are
continued, the writ should issue,"
he held. "That picketing is lawful
if, at all effective, usually results in an unlawful invasion of the rights of the proprietor does not alter
the rule."
"No material distinction can be dis-
cerned between a picket pacing up
and down the sidewalk denouncing
the plaintiff in loud tones while being
unfair to labor and calling upon all
patrons or prospective patrons about
to enter his store to desert from
trading with him, and one standing in
the entrance to his place of business and obstructing or preventing
patrons from entering. The law is
bound to protect the plaintiff against
acts that directly and immediately
interfere with his business; it cannot
permit plaintiff's undeniable rights to
be defeated by a claim of right so
untenable as arises where the inter-
ference is committed by one standing
a few feet from the entrance to the place of business rather than in the
entrance."

After a careful review of the
authorities, I conclude that the law-
fulness or unlawfulness of the acts
of conduct in any case must be determined from the character of the
particular acts or conduct and their
effect on the rights or property of
the one complaining," ruled the
jurist. "Whether the acts are given
the designation of 'picketing' or
'striking' is not important. Each
case depends upon its own facts."
"If the acts are unlawful, and irre-
parable injury will result if they are
continued, the writ should issue,"
he held. "That picketing is lawful
if, at all effective, usually results in an unlawful invasion of the rights of the proprietor does not alter
the rule."
"No material distinction can be dis-
cerned between a picket pacing up
and down the sidewalk denouncing
the plaintiff in loud tones while being
unfair to labor and calling upon all
patrons or prospective patrons about
to enter his store to desert from
trading with him, and one standing in
the entrance to his place of business and obstructing or preventing
patrons from entering. The law is
bound to protect the plaintiff against
acts that directly and immediately
interfere with his business; it cannot
permit plaintiff's undeniable rights to
be defeated by a claim of right so
untenable as arises where the inter-
ference is committed by one standing
a few feet from the entrance to the place of business rather than in the
entrance."

After a careful review of the
authorities, I conclude that the law-
fulness or unlawfulness of the acts
of conduct in any case must be determined from the character of the
particular acts or conduct and their
effect on the rights or property of
the one complaining," ruled the
jurist. "Whether the acts are given
the designation of 'picketing' or
'striking' is not important. Each
case depends upon its own facts."
"If the acts are unlawful, and irre-
parable injury will result if they are
continued, the writ should issue,"
he held. "That picketing is lawful
if, at all effective, usually results in an unlawful invasion of the rights of the proprietor does not alter
the rule."
"No material distinction can be dis-
cerned between a picket pacing up
and down the sidewalk denouncing
the plaintiff in loud tones while being
unfair to labor and calling upon all
patrons or prospective patrons about
to enter his store to desert from
trading with him, and one standing in
the entrance to his place of business and obstructing or preventing
patrons from entering. The law is
bound to protect the plaintiff against
acts that directly and immediately
interfere with his business; it cannot
permit plaintiff's undeniable rights to
be defeated by a claim of right so
untenable as arises where the inter-
ference is committed by one standing
a few feet from the entrance to the place of business rather than in the
entrance."

After a careful review of the
authorities, I conclude that the law-
fulness or unlawfulness of the acts
of conduct in any case must be determined from the character of the
particular acts or conduct and their
effect on the rights or property of
the one complaining," ruled the
jurist. "Whether the acts are given
the designation of 'picketing' or
'striking' is not important. Each
case depends upon its own facts."
"If the acts are unlawful, and irre-
parable injury will result if they are
continued, the writ should issue,"
he held. "That picketing is lawful
if, at all effective, usually results in an unlawful invasion of the rights of the proprietor does not alter
the rule."
"No material distinction can be dis-
cerned between a picket pacing up
and down the sidewalk denouncing
the plaintiff in loud tones while being
unfair to labor and calling upon all
patrons or prospective patrons about
to enter his store to desert from
trading with him, and one standing in
the entrance to his place of business and obstructing or preventing
patrons from entering. The law is
bound to protect the plaintiff against
acts that directly and immediately
interfere with his business; it cannot
permit plaintiff's undeniable rights to
be defeated by a claim of right so
untenable as arises where the inter-
ference is committed by one standing
a few feet from the entrance to the place of business rather than in the
entrance."