There was never any doubt as to what the senate would do, in view of the wide margin by which the Cummins bill, more drastic than the compromise, was passed. The bill goes to President Wilson and the general opinion that the country "is lost unless their was that he would sign it, although labor leaders will urge a veto.

Speeches Are Cut Short.

During the several hours' debate led by Chairman Cummins of the interstate commerce committee, senators expressed varying opinions as to how the public and the railways would fare under the bill, which was warmly defended and attacked. But the intense interest which attended proceedings Saturday in the house was lacking, frequent quorum calls being necessary to get members in the chamber. Around 6 o'clock the patience of the senate apparently was exhausted after much speechmaking heavy as in 1918-1919 was the opinion But aside from this more technical and insistent demands for a vote cut of many physicians who gathered side of the event, the show is in tion of views.
