

Morning Oregonian

Published by HENRY L. FITCOCK, Editor. Published by The Oregonian Publishing Co., 1000 Broadway, Portland, Oregon.

Subscription Rates—Invariably in Advance. Daily, Sunday included, six months, $4.00. Daily, Sunday included, one year, $7.50.

How to Reach—Send postage money enclosed. Stamps, coin or currency are at owner's risk. Give postoffice address in full, including postal zone.

Parties for Party Members. The framers of the Oregon primary law, Mr. Hoover, made no provision for putting on the ballot the name of any man of his peculiar political detachment and personal influence.

Now Mr. Hoover says he is not a candidate. In his present frame of mind he will not make written application for ballot place.

Under our form of government, political parties are useful and necessary at the present time. Every political party has the same right to be protected.

The foregoing is written into the statutes of Oregon. It enunciates a principle that has been consistently followed in later primary law enactments.

Decision of the republican members of the house military committee to include no provision for universal military training in the army bill of this session leaves the question to be decided by the voters at the primary election.

The inexorable laws of political economy are bringing punishment on those people who have abandoned the farm for the high wages, short work days and pleasures and conveniences of the city.

The time is ripe for a reaction in favor of farm work. Some men take to growing their own vegetables and fruit, to keeping a cow and chickens in the suburbs in order to escape the high cost of food.

The tendency should now be for labor to reverse its drift by going to the farm and, as farming becomes more a skilled, scientific industry, for capital to go the same way.

those places where their labor is needed, while many of the foreign-born have gone back to Europe to fight. As the tide of immigration is now swelling, it should be guided to the rural woods, where it will be available for farm work.

COOS BAY, then, is to have no voice in the selection of the nominee of the republican party, or any other party, if the counsel of our temperamental contemporary is adopted.

If the republicans of Coos Bay are alert to the welfare of the party and of the country, they will insist on erecting the standard of the candidate.

There are two ways to obtain a place on the presidential ballot. One is by written application of the candidate himself, the other by petition of 1000 of his supporters who are registered voters of the political party to which he belongs.

Now Mr. Hoover says he is not a candidate. In his present frame of mind he will not make written application for ballot place.

Under our form of government, political parties are useful and necessary at the present time. Every political party has the same right to be protected.

The foregoing is written into the statutes of Oregon. It enunciates a principle that has been consistently followed in later primary law enactments.

Decision of the republican members of the house military committee to include no provision for universal military training in the army bill of this session leaves the question to be decided by the voters at the primary election.

The inexorable laws of political economy are bringing punishment on those people who have abandoned the farm for the high wages, short work days and pleasures and conveniences of the city.

The time is ripe for a reaction in favor of farm work. Some men take to growing their own vegetables and fruit, to keeping a cow and chickens in the suburbs in order to escape the high cost of food.

The tendency should now be for labor to reverse its drift by going to the farm and, as farming becomes more a skilled, scientific industry, for capital to go the same way.

Under our form of government, political parties are useful and necessary at the present time. Every political party has the same right to be protected.

means compulsory service. It does not mean that men shall be trained for four months, then sent home to pursue their civil vocations. It is assumed that compulsory service is militarism when adopted only in case of actual war for defense of the country.

As Fraina says that the communist party at its organization had "approximately 55,000 members," or "more than half the membership of the old party," these foreign organizations comprised almost half of its membership.

The left wing forced a referendum of the socialist party on a resolution to affiliate with the third international, that is the Moscow organization, and the vote was overwhelmingly in its favor.

A left wing conference at New York on June 27 rejected a proposal to affiliate with the third international, that is the Moscow organization, and the vote was overwhelmingly in its favor.

There is a deficiency of the kind of labor that the reds can do, and it may seem to be aggravated by the deportation of so many aliens. But the revolutionary spirit of these people is not to be deterred.

The organizations against which the attacks of the government are directed do not propose laws or even constitutional amendments to ally or discontinue or to remove mere defects in the present laws and in the relations between employers and workmen.

Frank A. Kennedy is editor of the Western Laborer of Omaha and when he says in his paper that labor unions are being "worked" for funds to aid killers of ex-servicemen he is not wrong.

A cable report from Persia tells of revolutionists driving British away from a point on the Caspian sea. That's a joke. Nobody drives British from anywhere since the days of the revolution, and that was sort of family affair.

Skunk pelts brought $12.25 each at a New York fur auction, the highest price in history. Skunk is in view of the skunk's well-known aversion to being skinned, we doubt if anyone will accuse him of profiteering.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller says tips must be listed as income. The collector is in view of the very big tax out of some of the political tips extant in this territory.

Old fellows who have lived with the wives of their youth for half a century, when they are asked to give testimony in divorce cases.

Hoover will not say to the Georgians he is a democrat. Pretty soon he can tell them he's the hole in the doughnut, growing larger.

What Rich Employer Learned By Enslaving the Role of Workman. The late Henry B. Endicott wishing to learn from intimate contact his employees' personal attitude toward him, once donned overalls and had himself installed as a lathe-hand in a section of his plant where a number of new men were employed.

When he was least likely to be recognized, he found his neighbor on the right to be a fisherman with a ready wit and in a rather talkative mood. After exchanging views on factory conditions, current topics, and so forth, the famous shoe man asked his fellow worker what he thought of working in a shoe factory.

"Indeed an' he's not," the Corkonian shot back. "He's the most kind-hearted, liberal man I ever worked for, and manny's the time Orva had a good sport, his aliquid is not a Michigan delegate, composing the minority, withdrew. The majority decided to continue the fight in the old party, but called a convention of all revolutionary elements for September to organize a communist party. The socialist party split into three parts—the right wing still composing the socialist party with about 25,000 members; the communist party, composed of the left wing, with 10,000 members; and the communist labor party, with 10,000 members, which attempted to win control of the old party and refused to unite with the left wing, though it has the same revolutionary aims."

The industrial workers of the world is a hopelessly reactionary. The industrial workers of the world is a hopelessly reactionary. The industrial workers of the world is a hopelessly reactionary.

The communist party realizes the immensity of the task which it has undertaken. The communist party realizes the immensity of the task which it has undertaken.

Frank A. Kennedy is editor of the Western Laborer of Omaha and when he says in his paper that labor unions are being "worked" for funds to aid killers of ex-servicemen he is not wrong.

A cable report from Persia tells of revolutionists driving British away from a point on the Caspian sea. That's a joke. Nobody drives British from anywhere since the days of the revolution, and that was sort of family affair.

Skunk pelts brought $12.25 each at a New York fur auction, the highest price in history. Skunk is in view of the skunk's well-known aversion to being skinned, we doubt if anyone will accuse him of profiteering.

Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller says tips must be listed as income. The collector is in view of the very big tax out of some of the political tips extant in this territory.

Old fellows who have lived with the wives of their youth for half a century, when they are asked to give testimony in divorce cases.

Hoover will not say to the Georgians he is a democrat. Pretty soon he can tell them he's the hole in the doughnut, growing larger.

When he was least likely to be recognized, he found his neighbor on the right to be a fisherman with a ready wit and in a rather talkative mood. After exchanging views on factory conditions, current topics, and so forth, the famous shoe man asked his fellow worker what he thought of working in a shoe factory.

Those Who Come and Go. "Farmers are satisfied that we don't intend placing a colony of Japanese on the 15,000 or 18,000 acres which we have bought near Redmond to grow potatoes," announced George Burt, who arrived at the Imperial Hotel in Redmond yesterday afternoon for a session with the men who have objected to the big development enterprise.

The farmers passed resolutions allowing us to send potato experts there. We will have three of these Japanese experts on each place and no more. These men will see that the potatoes are properly treated before they are planted. There ought to be 600 cars of spuds going out of Redmond each year and the kind of potatoes grown there bring more money on the California market than spuds from any other place.

Dahlia is the hobby of J. E. Lewis of San Francisco, who represents a jewelry factory in Rhode Island. Mr. Lewis, who is registered at the Benson, has about 150 varieties in his garden in San Francisco, which is something of a record.

It was a pretty good apple year for Walter McDougall of Coos Bay. He arrived at the Hotel Portland yesterday on his way to Honolulu for a few weeks. Not all the apples have been as lucky as McDougall's, according to reports from that district, for there are a couple of hundred acres of apples awaiting shipment and there were thousands of boxes which were frozen and consequently a total loss.

When it comes to boosting Redmond, W. J. Weaver is on the job. Being in the hotel business, Weaver has a good idea of the amount of through travel on the Pacific highway and all last summer his hotel was filled with tourists from the Pacific coast coming from or going to California.

The millionaire head of one of America's very prominent business organizations is a virile, masculine, unfrilled member of the human species, who made his mark in the rough-and-tumble of college athletics and in the rough-and-tumble of the stock market.

There are about 60,000 acres of irrigated land tributary to Redmond and when the big project is completed, as we hope it will be in a few years, there will be a lot more water, says George E. Dobson, banker of Redmond. The town has a population of about 300 and is in the center of an agricultural section of Deschutes county.

Frank Brown of Salem is at the Hotel Washington. There are three Frank Browns in the city, but the one who is at the hotel is the one who is at the hotel.

He held a child's rattle tightly in his hand. Every few minutes he would raise himself from his sleep sufficiently to shake the rattle and then go back to sleep.

Ida M. Tarbell, magazine writer, was a visitor at the Hotel Portland for a few hours yesterday morning and checked out for the south. Miss Tarbell, years ago, specialized on two subjects, one being John D. Rockefeller and the other was Abraham Lincoln.

What's the matter with this town that a fellow can't get a room in the hotels without waiting? demanded an arrival at the Hotel Portland yesterday. "Where are all the people coming from?" he asked. "I'll have a tent and camp in the woods if conditions don't get better."

Secretary Baker is packing his kit bag, too, it is said. Nobody blames him. Denver plumbers are asking $9 and one wonders why the moderation. A dry spell of three weeks in California is plenty for Portland.

Speech by Lincoln Not "Lost". Enslaving of Washington Found in Biography Published in 1896. HEPBURN, Feb. 25.—(To the Editor.)—In The Oregonian recently was an article headed "Lincoln Speech Lost 78 Years Recovered," in which article on Lucien Hugh Alexander of Philadelphia, giving to the Associated Press an account of his discovery of a "lost" speech made by Abraham Lincoln in 1842, outlining George Washington's career.

Mr. Alexander claims to have run across this lost speech in a copy of the Sangamon Journal of date March 24, 1842, which he purchased in the library of congress while engaged in historical research work. He also states that Hay and Nicolai, the two Dahlemisses, "and so have all of Lincoln's biographers, so far as I can discover."

He has been asleep at least 25 years or it may be that he is an attaché of the Bakers department. Again it may develop that he is one of the most active spirits in the federal reserve bank department, where he has been working for some time after applying for it if he has not worried himself to death by that time.

It was a pretty good apple year for Walter McDougall of Coos Bay. He arrived at the Hotel Portland yesterday on his way to Honolulu for a few weeks. Not all the apples have been as lucky as McDougall's, according to reports from that district, for there are a couple of hundred acres of apples awaiting shipment and there were thousands of boxes which were frozen and consequently a total loss.

When it comes to boosting Redmond, W. J. Weaver is on the job. Being in the hotel business, Weaver has a good idea of the amount of through travel on the Pacific highway and all last summer his hotel was filled with tourists from the Pacific coast coming from or going to California.

The millionaire head of one of America's very prominent business organizations is a virile, masculine, unfrilled member of the human species, who made his mark in the rough-and-tumble of college athletics and in the rough-and-tumble of the stock market.

There are about 60,000 acres of irrigated land tributary to Redmond and when the big project is completed, as we hope it will be in a few years, there will be a lot more water, says George E. Dobson, banker of Redmond. The town has a population of about 300 and is in the center of an agricultural section of Deschutes county.

Frank Brown of Salem is at the Hotel Washington. There are three Frank Browns in the city, but the one who is at the hotel is the one who is at the hotel.

He held a child's rattle tightly in his hand. Every few minutes he would raise himself from his sleep sufficiently to shake the rattle and then go back to sleep.

Ida M. Tarbell, magazine writer, was a visitor at the Hotel Portland for a few hours yesterday morning and checked out for the south. Miss Tarbell, years ago, specialized on two subjects, one being John D. Rockefeller and the other was Abraham Lincoln.

What's the matter with this town that a fellow can't get a room in the hotels without waiting? demanded an arrival at the Hotel Portland yesterday. "Where are all the people coming from?" he asked. "I'll have a tent and camp in the woods if conditions don't get better."

Secretary Baker is packing his kit bag, too, it is said. Nobody blames him. Denver plumbers are asking $9 and one wonders why the moderation. A dry spell of three weeks in California is plenty for Portland.

More Truth Than Poetry. By James J. Montague. MAKE YOUR OWN MORAL. The Tiger's heart is mean and base; He has a coarse and brutal face; He prowls of nights and growls and lies; When things don't go to suit him, And that is why his days are few— He only lives a year or two; Then angry moans he at his den And pitilessly shoots him.

The high license doctrine did not die with prohibition enforcement. It has only been transferred to automobiles. The Sure Way. Lynch a few lawbreakers and lynch will stop.

Merely Evening Up. Europe complains that the United States does not take enough interest in her. But she is not at present taking any interest out of them. Self-Deception. By Grace E. Hall. How oft—alas! how oft—we love a fancied being created of our thought.

Bravery of Our Volunteers Does Not Vitate Principle. PORTLAND, Feb. 26.—(To the Editor.)—Some time ago I read in somebody's toes when I said that only three volunteer regiments participated in battle during the Spanish war.

When it comes to boosting Redmond, W. J. Weaver is on the job. Being in the hotel business, Weaver has a good idea of the amount of through travel on the Pacific highway and all last summer his hotel was filled with tourists from the Pacific coast coming from or going to California.

The millionaire head of one of America's very prominent business organizations is a virile, masculine, unfrilled member of the human species, who made his mark in the rough-and-tumble of college athletics and in the rough-and-tumble of the stock market.

There are about 60,000 acres of irrigated land tributary to Redmond and when the big project is completed, as we hope it will be in a few years, there will be a lot more water, says George E. Dobson, banker of Redmond. The town has a population of about 300 and is in the center of an agricultural section of Deschutes county.

Frank Brown of Salem is at the Hotel Washington. There are three Frank Browns in the city, but the one who is at the hotel is the one who is at the hotel.

He held a child's rattle tightly in his hand. Every few minutes he would raise himself from his sleep sufficiently to shake the rattle and then go back to sleep.

Ida M. Tarbell, magazine writer, was a visitor at the Hotel Portland for a few hours yesterday morning and checked out for the south. Miss Tarbell, years ago, specialized on two subjects, one being John D. Rockefeller and the other was Abraham Lincoln.

What's the matter with this town that a fellow can't get a room in the hotels without waiting? demanded an arrival at the Hotel Portland yesterday. "Where are all the people coming from?" he asked. "I'll have a tent and camp in the woods if conditions don't get better."

Secretary Baker is packing his kit bag, too, it is said. Nobody blames him. Denver plumbers are asking $9 and one wonders why the moderation. A dry spell of three weeks in California is plenty for Portland.

MAKE YOUR OWN MORAL. The Tiger's heart is mean and base; He has a coarse and brutal face; He prowls of nights and growls and lies; When things don't go to suit him, And that is why his days are few— He only lives a year or two; Then angry moans he at his den And pitilessly shoots him.

The high license doctrine did not die with prohibition enforcement. It has only been transferred to automobiles. The Sure Way. Lynch a few lawbreakers and lynch will stop.

Merely Evening Up. Europe complains that the United States does not take enough interest in her. But she is not at present taking any interest out of them. Self-Deception. By Grace E. Hall. How oft—alas! how oft—we love a fancied being created of our thought.

Bravery of Our Volunteers Does Not Vitate Principle. PORTLAND, Feb. 26.—(To the Editor.)—Some time ago I read in somebody's toes when I said that only three volunteer regiments participated in battle during the Spanish war.

When it comes to boosting Redmond, W. J. Weaver is on the job. Being in the hotel business, Weaver has a good idea of the amount of through travel on the Pacific highway and all last summer his hotel was filled with tourists from the Pacific coast coming from or going to California.

The millionaire head of one of America's very prominent business organizations is a virile, masculine, unfrilled member of the human species, who made his mark in the rough-and-tumble of college athletics and in the rough-and-tumble of the stock market.

There are about 60,000 acres of irrigated land tributary to Redmond and when the big project is completed, as we hope it will be in a few years, there will be a lot more water, says George E. Dobson, banker of Redmond. The town has a population of about 300 and is in the center of an agricultural section of Deschutes county.

Frank Brown of Salem is at the Hotel Washington. There are three Frank Browns in the city, but the one who is at the hotel is the one who is at the hotel.

He held a child's rattle tightly in his hand. Every few minutes he would raise himself from his sleep sufficiently to shake the rattle and then go back to sleep.

Ida M. Tarbell, magazine writer, was a visitor at the Hotel Portland for a few hours yesterday morning and checked out for the south. Miss Tarbell, years ago, specialized on two subjects, one being John D. Rockefeller and the other was Abraham Lincoln.

What's the matter with this town that a fellow can't get a room in the hotels without waiting? demanded an arrival at the Hotel Portland yesterday. "Where are all the people coming from?" he asked. "I'll have a tent and camp in the woods if conditions don't get better."

Secretary Baker is packing his kit bag, too, it is said. Nobody blames him. Denver plumbers are asking $9 and one wonders why the moderation. A dry spell of three weeks in California is plenty for Portland.