ALLIANCE SAID TO SLATE POSTMASTER

Journal Editorial Employe Is Ticketed for Myers' Job.

DURAND'S TRIP SECRET

Purport Believed to Have Been to Get A. W. Cauthorn Lined Up to Regain Assistant Position.

An alliance which is said to slate Affred W. Cauthorn, prominent Port-land democrat and editorial employe of the Oregon Journal, as the next postmaster of this city, and which will return Harry Durand to his former position of assistant postmaster, has been recently formed, according to reports emanating from Washing-ton, D. C.

Mr. Durand returned Saturday from an eastern trip, around which considerable mystery existed. Reports issued by Mr. Durand gave New York as his destination, but it is said that the former assistant postmaster found his way to Washington, where he not only negotiated in behalf of himself, but is said to have presented Mr. Cauthorn's name as the logical successor to ex-Postmaster Myers.

The same reports say that Mr. Durand was successful in convincing certain high democratic officials that Mr. Cauthorn's selection would be a popular choice in Portland and gained assurances from these officials that all possible would be done to place Mr. Cauthorn in charge of the Portland postoffice.

According to the plan, it is said,
Mr. Durand has joined hands with Mr.
Cauthorne on the distinct understanding that if the position of postmaster is given to Mr. Cauthorne, the latter will immediately return Durand to his former position.

Under the civil service rules governing the appointment of postmaster, it is possible for the appointment of any application, whom the postal offi-cials deem "capable, efficient and pos-sessed of certain proper qualifica-tions." which are reported following investigations made of each applicant by inspectors of the postal service.
So great has been the demand for application blanks by people willing to take the examination for postmaster that the supply has been exhausted and more blanks have been requisitioned. All sorts of people have applied for the blanks, and women have sought information as well as men. The weight of the examination con-sists of 20 for education and 80 for business experience. The applicant must be at least 30 years of age and must submit a new photograph. The applicant must show that he or she has had five years in a responsible position, such as president, manager, general superintendent or general manager of a firm, corporation or concern doing a large volume of business. The applicant must have been in active charge of the business and must state the nature of the employment and number of subordinate employes. A minute account of the educational qualifications is necessary, giving courses studied, degrees received and post-graduate course, if

Special inspectors will come to Portland to look into the character and qualifications of each applicant, and stresss will be laid on the executive ability and business experience of the applicants. The result of the investigation will be classified and substitute to the attorney area. and submitted to the attorney-gen-eral, who will make a recommendation from the list.
