

McCOY'S "CALLED" FOR PLEDGE EFFORT

Judge Crawford Inquires Why Wishes Are Disregarded.

FREE DELEGATION ASKED

La Grande Democrat Warns That He Will Not Be Bound, as He Knows What He Wants.

"Neither William Gibbs McAdoo nor Herbert Hoover desire their names placed upon the primary ballot in this state. Both desire an unrestricted delegation from the state of Oregon to the national convention. Why not succeed to their desire and send to the convention an unrestricted delegation? I am unalterably opposed to an instructed delegation. But if you choose, we don't attempt to put our hands, as I shall likely untie them, writes Judge T. H. Crawford of La Grande, to Newton McCoy, on the primary ballot in this state? Have you his consent or authority to do so? I hardly think so in view of the recent statement of Mr. McAdoo."

Mr. West is Praised.
When Judge Crawford declared that he wants to be free to vote as he pleases at the national convention, if elected as a delegate, notwithstanding the democratic presidential choice of the primaries, Mr. McCoy sharply criticized the judge and pointed out that Judge Crawford offered resolutions, landing Senator Chamberlain at the last meeting of the democratic state central committee. Continuing, Judge Crawford's reply to Mr. McCoy was:

"I am proud to be classed with democrats like ex-Governor West, Milton A. Miller, Mr. Alexander and Senator Chamberlain. We all agree upon the fundamental underlying principles of democracy although we differ on some minor details. Ex-Governor West did more to elevate the moral tone of society in this state and to stamp out the curse of the liquor traffic while governor than any man who ever graced the executive chair of this state, and although he did and said things in connection therewith that I did not approve, I honor him for the good work he did. Senator Chamberlain was one of the leading senators who plied through constructive legislation demanded by President Wilson, which made it possible to mobilize the man power and material resources of the country and finance the late war and bring it to a successful termination."

Chamberlain's Work Liked.
"The war department needed producing and Senator Chamberlain did the producing, and he got results which made the war department more efficient, added to the comfort and comfort of our soldier boys, and saved the lives of many of them on the battle field of France. "I did not like the time, the place or the manner in which he did this producing, but I am thankful that he had the courage and manhood to do what he did. It was a material aid to the president in bringing the war to quick successful end, and the entire nation owes him a debt of gratitude for it."

"Yes I was somewhat responsible for the resolution referred to by you, inducing Senator Chamberlain. Ex-Governor West drafted that resolution, and I and State Senator Garland, used the blue pencil upon it, you might say edited it. We all agreed to it and proposed it for adoption. With all of his faults, and he is not without them, that endorsement was due Senator Chamberlain."

Judge Crawford further informs Mr. McCoy that he is for the league of nations and if he is a delegate to the convention, "I must know where the man who gets my vote for candidate for president stands upon this platform." In conclusion the judge invites Mr. McCoy to forget non-essentials, come whole heartedly into the democratic fold and get upon the democratic bandwagon, pulling and working for a democratic victory.

EXCHANGE NEED DENIED

CITY ENGINEER TO INVESTIGATE IN PHONE SQUABBLE.

If Company's Plan to Erect Building in Irvington is Approved Residents Will Drop Protest.

O. O. Laurgaard, city engineer, has been appointed by property owners of Irvington to determine the question of the necessity of establishing a telephone exchange at East Twenty-fourth and Stanton streets, as is proposed by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company.

Engineers of the telephone company insist that it is necessary to locate the exchange at this location if perfect service is to be given. The city council ignored the claims of the telephone company, however, and refused permit for the erection of the building.

When the city council refused to make an investigation to determine if the theory of the telephone company's engineers was correct, the citizens and property owners of Irvington who had protested against the location of an exchange within the boundaries of Irvington arranged to conduct the investigation.

Mr. Laurgaard is charged with investigating and reporting to the Irvington committee, headed by Ralph Calkins, if in his opinion the exchange could be located outside of Irvington without impairing future service, or if the theory of the telephone company is correct.

If found to be correct, the property owners, it is said, will withdraw the protest and request the council to permit the erection of the exchange.

ROAD BONDING TO BE TOPIC

Hood River Sentiment for Paving Valley Loop Strong.

HOOD RIVER, Or., March 8.—(Special.)—Road bonding will be discussed by the commercial club at its monthly meeting next Monday night. A strong sentiment exists for a bond issue for hard-surfacing a loop valley road connecting Hood River with Odell, one stretch of the loop passing through the west-side orchard district by way of Tucker's bridge and the other by way of East.

Meetings of the club, which since its organization have been held on the second Monday of each month, have been changed to the third Monday.

SOCIETY NEWS

EVERY one in town is taking a great interest in the benefit musical entertainment to be given this evening in the city auditorium for the state blind. This being such a worthy cause, the house is sure to be full of Portland's most prominent citizens. The proceeds will be used to carry on the campaign to provide a vocational institution for the blind of the state, where they will be taught trades and such of the arts and crafts as they can do, which will make them self-supporting, or at least help take care of themselves.

Patronesses for this evening are Mesdames G. L. Buland, George T. Gerlinger, Gus C. Moser, Helen J. Banghart, Eldon J. Steele, John B. Coffey, Alexander Thompson, George C. McMath, George L. They're the "second helping" kind—

There are always requests for more when you serve DEL MONTE Beans with Pork and Tomato Sauce. Their distinctive goodness appeals to every appetite, and they are as wholesome and nutritious as they are tempting to the taste.

But more than that—they're the kind of food you can afford to serve liberally in these days of high living costs—for DEL MONTE Beans are truly economical. While they contain more food value than meat or eggs, they cost much less. That's one reason why thrifty housewives are today serving DEL MONTE Beans more frequently than ever before.

Why not try them for dinner tonight instead of meat. But be sure they are DEL MONTE Beans, because they're different from ordinary baked beans—better! The DEL MONTE method of cooking with the inimitable DEL MONTE Tomato Sauce gives them a distinctive flavor not found in any other beans.
