

DR. ESTHER LOVEJOY
OUT FOR CONGRESS

Ex-Health Officer Seeks Democratic Nomination.

MIND IS SOON MADE UP

"I Didn't Decide Until This Morning, So My Platform Isn't Ready Yet," Says Dr. Lovejoy.

Dr. Esther Pohl Lovejoy, ex-health officer of Portland, is a candidate for congress. Dr. Lovejoy announced at a luncheon given in her honor by the Jackson club in the Benson yesterday that she will seek the nomination for representative of the 3d congressional district in the May primaries.

"I did not make up my mind to be a candidate until this morning," declared the doctor, when she was asked by Mrs. Alice McNaught, chairman of the luncheon, what her future plans were. "I am going to have a good time running and I'm going to win, and if I don't win for myself I'll make it easier for some other woman to win later."

"I think it is a woman's job to take care of children—her own first, if she has them, and if not, then some other woman's children. I have no children. I have been deprived of that great joy, but I have tried to aid the children in France, Serbia and other European countries, and to help the children of Portland. When I was health officer I prepared a platform of the ordinance, but it was a start, and was for the betterment of children. And I wrote the first school inspection ordinance."

Platform Not Yet Prepared.
"Politics, women are told, is such a sorry mess that it is no place for them. Well, if that is so, the women should get into politics and make it clean, for women are the greatest cleansers in the world."

"A woman's job is making and looking at the lobbyists in the legislatures. They are men. They are not working to look after orphans or hospitals; they are trying to get into politics."

Having arrived at a decision to be a candidate a few hours before the luncheon, Dr. Lovejoy said she did not have time to prepare a platform. That can come later. The luncheon was attended by about 100 people, mostly women, and they took the announcement with enthusiasm. This is the first time that a woman in Oregon has aspired to a seat in congress.

Medford Woman Speaks

Mrs. Ross Wofford, Medford, democratic national committee woman, who attended the luncheon, made a speech urging party harmony, declaring the party must have the strength to fight one another, but should fight the common enemy. As Dr. Lovejoy had recounted her experiences and observations among the suffering peoples of Europe, Mrs. Schefflin declared that much of the misery is due to the failure of the United States to ratify the league of nations. Mrs. Schefflin will hold a meeting at the Multnomah at 2:30 Saturday afternoon for the purpose of organizing workers in this country. Dr. Lovejoy is national head of the American Women's Medical association and is the author of a book on war work in Europe.

PORT ANGELES WILL HELP

Telegram Promises Aid to Astoria in Naval Base Campaign.

ASTORIA, Or., March 11.—(Special.)—Port Angeles, Wash., which with Astoria has been recommended in reports to congress as a site for a destroyer and submarine base, demonstrated in a telegram from its Commercial club to the Astoria chamber of commerce this morning that she is willing to boost for the local base here.

The message from the Port Angeles club said that the members of congress from Washington state have been urged by wire to support the Astoria naval base, and also the bases at Port Angeles, Wash., and San Diego, Cal.

The Port Angeles commercial organization asks in return that the local chamber take similar action and ask congress to locate a base at Port Angeles.

The local chamber will take favorable action on the message from the Washington town, it is believed, within the week.

ABERDEEN, Wash., March 11.—(Special.)—The jury term of court for March, for which jury summons already had been issued, has been abandoned, according to announcement by Prosecuting Attorney J. E. Stewart. The jury term was called with the expectation that there would be a number of road condemnation suits.
