

ANOTHER SUSPECT HELD AS BURGLAR

Alleged Accomplice of Eugene Kelly Is Held.

SIX NOW ARE IN NET

Four Dealers Accused of Receiving Stolen Goods—Additional Charges Are Filed.

Harry Gardner, charged with having been implicated with Eugene Kelly in a series of recent burglaries in Portland in which loot of about $7000 was taken from about 15 homes and store buildings in various parts of the city, was taken into custody in Vancouver, Wash., yesterday by a posse of detectives under the leadership of Lieutenant of Detectives Mooney.

The arrest of Gardner following that of William Jacobson, proprietor of the second-hand store at 23 North Second street, makes a total of six men now being held in connection with the case. Of this number Gardner and Kelly are charged with larceny from a dwelling and the four others are charged with receiving stolen property.

Both Gardner and Kelly confessed to having been implicated in numerous recent burglaries, according to an announcement made by the authorities last night.

Loot Worth $5000 Recovered.

Stolen goods of an estimated value of $5000 has been recovered by the officers. Most of this was found in the shops of the second-hand store. The ownership of much of the goods has not yet been determined and it is thought that other burglaries will be charged to the two men.

Gardner was arrested just as he stepped from a pool hall in Vancouver. He had a .25 caliber revolver in his pocket.

The arrest of William Jacobson was made after the officers had found some loot in his place. A valuable violin, which was stolen from the home of John S. Anusens, 475 Vancouver avenue, on February 29, was recovered.

Jacobson was released under $1000 bail.

Other merchants and second-hand dealers who were arrested Thursday were Harry Gohlsch, 22 Burnside street; Alce Goldstein, 25 1/2 North Third street; and Nathan Carl, Third and Burnside streets. All are on bonds.

Additional Charges Filed.

Captain of Detectives Circle announced last night that additional charges have been placed against the two men.

The following are the house burglaries: John A. Anusens, 475 Vancouver avenue; W. Connors, 556 East Alder street; D. Dohm, 535 East Salmon street; and M. G. Maddox, 752 Belmont street.

The Arrests Resulted from the Discovery of a Wrecked Automobile on the Terwilliger Boulevard and a Large Quantity of Shoes which had been Stolen from a Store in Hillsboro.

Detective La Salle, who went out to work from Multnomah Thursday morning, found the wrecked machine and used the auto tag number as a clue.

William McClain, timekeeper at the Brooklyn car shops, will get a hearing in the municipal court today on charges of receiving stolen goods and contributing to the delinquency of minors. He was arrested early yesterday morning. His bail was placed at $500.

Three Boys—William Battaglio, 15, 57 1/2 Glendon street; Walter Cochran, 14, of 762 East Twenty-fourth street, and Robert Bunch, 72 East Twenty-first street—have been held by the juvenile court in connection with the case.

They are said to have confessed that McClain urged them to steal automobile accessories, which he purchased from them for small amounts.

HAVE YOUR BUNDLE READY

COLLECTION OF PAPER BY BOY SCOUTS OCCURS TODAY.

Red Cross Hopes to Realize at Least Five Thousand Dollars From Sale of Parcels.

After weeks of preparation, the American Red Cross today will launch its one-day drive for waste paper, through the agency of the Boy Scouts, aided by over 100 prominent Portland businessmen.

Collection of the paper will begin at 9 o'clock, when a battery of trucks and scouts will canvass the residence districts, picking up paper wherever it lies on front porches.

"Please get your paper in bundles on front porches by 9 A. M.," said Mrs. Dall Baehre, drive executive. "A bundle of paper on a porch will be equivalent to the display of a Red Cross service pledge and two bundles will be just twice as good."

Fifteen trucks have been promised to Mrs. Baehre by construction companies, paper companies and department stores. Each truck will be accompanied by a detachment of scouts.

Over 1000 scouts will participate in the one-day collection, which, it is hoped, will realize $5000 for the Red Cross. All this money will be spent for the Portland work of the great mercy society, principally in caring for the dependents of wounded soldiers.

Those with automobiles are asked to take their bundles to the nearest fire station or to the Red Cross shop, Third and Oak streets. Paper will be assembled by the trucks at the fire stations, from which it will be removed later by the paper collectors, who will pay cash to the American Red Cross.

"Any kind of paper will be acceptable," said Miss Helen Whitney, secretary of the Red Cross shop. "Newspapers and magazines should be tied in bundles so as to make it easy for the plucky little scouts to handle the loads."

The police have promised co-operation and will watch junkdealers who have been removing accumulations of waste paper intended for the American Red Cross.

Two Face Intoxication Charge.

John Mahoney and his brother Michael were arrested at Fifth and Sherman streets Thursday night and charged with being intoxicated. Both men were bruised as if they had been fighting. After their arrest, the police raided a house in the vicinity and arrested Robert Lucas and John Lucas on a charge of maintaining a nuisance.

MOVING PICTURE NEWS

Olive Thomas and Matt Moore, who is her leading man, in "The Glorious Lady," scheduled to open this morning on the People's screen.

TODAY'S FILM FEATURES.

Columbia—Constance Talmadge, "Two Weeks."
 Liberty—William Farnum, "Wings of Morning."
 Rivoli—Geraldine Farrar, "Flame of the Desert."
 Majestic—Alla Dwan production, "The Luck of the Irish."
 Peoples—Olive Thomas, "The Glorious Lady."
 Star—Special production, "Shepherd of the Hills."
 Sunset—Norma Talmadge, "The Isle of Conquest."
 Circle—Frank Keenan, "Brothers Divided."

MATT MOORE, of the famous Moore trio—Owen, Tom and Matt—appears opposite Olive Thomas in her new picture, "The Glorious Lady," which comes today to the Peoples theater.

Matt Moore is a true son of old Erin. His Irish wit and broad Irish smile have distinguished him as one of the most likable personages on the silver screen. As the duke of Lome, who weds a simple peasant girl, Mr. Moore is seen to best advantage.

A feature of the play is an old-time steepchase, known as a "point to point" race, an English classic that is foremost among the events of each year. After an exhaustive search the Fairfax and Westchester club, near the Rockefeller estate at Greenwich, Conn., was obtained for the scene.

The action of the play is laid in England and the jumping course at the club fitted perfectly into the picture. There is no spot more characteristically English in all this country than the club grounds, which include lakes, hills and a rolling country, as if they were providentially transplanted from Yorkshire itself.

To feature them as contestants in the "point to point" race with Olive Thomas riding against them, members of the club were enlisted. The idea of taking hurdle and jumps before a motion picture camera met with instant appeal and the race that resulted was an earnest and hotly contested one.

Other club members and many of society's best from Greenwich and neighboring social centers were induced to attend the race with the result that the scene is as realistic and colorful as if it had actually transpired in England.

Elain Hammerstein in "The Country Cousin" will open at the Peoples theater Wednesday.

Screen Gossip.

Bessie Love has been quite ill at her home in Los Angeles with the "prevailing malady" and her illness compelled a cessation of work on "The Millardons," her first independent production.

SOCIETY NEWS

Mrs. C. Ernest Ruppe entertained yesterday with a tea at her residence in Irvington. Honor guests were Mrs. Lambert Dunbar of Hongkong, China, who is spending a few weeks here, and Mrs. Herbert Ruppe of Calgary, Canada.

Mrs. Adam Ruppe and Mrs. Don Coe Juxheimer received the guests with the hostess.

Mrs. Edward J. Lyons, Mrs. Kenneth Coombs, Mrs. Jean Wold and Mrs. Frederick Miles presided at the tea table. They were assisted by Miss Katherine Burnside and Mrs. Rolan Bonow.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunbar are at the Portland hotel during their stay in Portland. They are both former Portland residents. Mrs. Dunbar being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Lyons. They plan to return to the orient in May.

Many prominent women are making up children like parties for the children's matinee to be given this afternoon at the Little theater as a benefit for the Drama League.

It will be a dance programme under the direction of Miss Jean Wold and Miss Katherine Laidlaw. The programme will begin at 2:15 o'clock.

The Royal Highlanders will hold their monthly social this evening at the East Side Business Men's club on Grand avenue and Alder. Dancing and cards will be the amusements of the evening.

The Junior department of the Monday Musical club will meet today at 1 o'clock at the headquarters, Thirteenth street. Those who will take part are Anita Kemp, Jean and James Werschul, Edith Bader, Margaret Fosching, Thelma Layton, Elizabeth Schultz, Tom Scheil, Miriam Clay and Virginia Troutman.

SALT LAKE, March 12.—(Special.)—The marriage of Miss Dottie L. Pell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pell of this city, and Frank H. Iverson, now living in Portland, Or., will

WOMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Several large line parties will be given Monday evening at the Peoples theater by members of the P. E. O. sisterhood. The loges of that theater have been put at the disposal of the P. E. O. women for the 3 o'clock performance by Manager Jarvuth through the courtesy of Jensen and Von Herberg. The proceeds will be used toward the $500 pledge which the P. E. O. has made toward the woman's building of the University of Oregon.

M. chapter of the P. E. O. is in charge of the affair. Mrs. E. H. Franzen is the special chairman. A short programme of classical numbers will be given by the Peoples orchestra under the direction of Philip Peis, conductor. A similar affair will take place at the Peoples theater on Thursday evening, again under the management of the P. E. O. The Drama League will give a series of benefit matinees at the Peoples theater during April, while other organizations may also avail themselves of the opportunity to aid various civic campaigns.

The Community Service Girls' club will give a social dance this evening in Women of Woodcraft hall, 394 Taylor street. A committee of girls will act as hostesses and a number of prominent women will be patronesses. An invitation is extended to the men of the American Legion. To cover expenses a small charge is made.

The Tillamook club will have a dance this evening at the Multnomah hotel.

Women's Activities

Members of the new motion-picture censorship board, to be selected by the city council, will not be named until next Wednesday, it became known yesterday. The council is charged with the duty of selecting one name from a list of three submitted by the motion-picture interests and also to select a woman member of the board. These two will choose the third.

The housewives' council yesterday submitted the names of Mrs. Alexander Thompson of the city Federation club; Mrs. G. Kane of the housewives' council; and Mrs. E. H. Franzen of the Parent-Teacher association.

Many Names Submitted.

There is no certainty, however, that one of these women will be selected, as scores of names of women have been submitted to the council, all of which will be considered, according to Mayor Baker. Under the provisions of the ordinance the council is obligated to appoint a woman, but is not bound to name this woman from any particular organization or club.

Considerable criticism has been heard in the corridors of the city hall, in connection with the manner of appointing the members of the censorship board, it being claimed that all power has been taken from the council or the mayor, who in reality are responsible for the board's actions.

Mayor is Not Satisfied.

Mayor Baker, who is the author of the ordinance, is not satisfied with the manner in which it was amended, his principal objection being to the designation of sex which was written in the solicitation of women appearing before the council. He announced that he would name a woman, but believes that the inclusion of sex was a serious mistake.

It became known yesterday that Mayor Baker planned to submit the names of Norman P. Coleman, as city representative, but the demand by the woman for a representative prevented this move. Mr. Coleman is given the Oregon suffrage amendment and was endorsed by the mayor by both men and women as excellent material for the censorship board.

Until the new board has been appointed and qualified, the old ordinance remains operative. The old ordinance provides for a board of seven members, while the new board is required to have only three, the majority of which will have full power to make decisions.

INTER-MOUNTAIN CASE WILL BE SET FOR MAY.

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

Oral Arguments on Portland Side to Be Heard in Washington, D. C., on June 17.

What has come to be known as "the intermediate rate case" has been reopened before the interstate commerce commission and hearings are to be held that will give the shippers in various parts of the country a chance to be heard. This case has been referred to in Portland as the inter-mountain rate case, on which a hearing was held at Salt Lake City several months ago. After the case was tried the examiner was apparently not entirely satisfied with the sufficiency of the evidence submitted.

The interstate commerce commission has set hearings for New York, May 8, Chicago May 10 and Spokane May 17. It is possible that another hearing will be set for one of the Pacific coast cities for a date following the Spokane session. J. N. Ross and W. C. McCulloch represent the Portland Traffic and Transportation association as attorneys at the Salt Lake hearing of the case, at which were present the official representatives of the Portland district freight traffic committee.

The interstate commerce commission has taken the stand that potential water competition does not count in rate considerations, but with the re-establishment of lines engaged in transportation of freight between Portland and ports of the Atlantic seaboard, the competition is very real. Whereas the rate on steel from Iron is $1.25 now from eastern manufacturing points as compared with the rate of 75 cents in 1916, the prospects are that cargo of this

NOMINATIONS MADE FOR WOMAN CENSOR

City Council to Consider Before Selecting.

MAYOR'S PLAN DISRUPTED

Old Ordinance Remains in Force Until 3 New Members Are Chosen and Qualified.

Members of the new motion-picture censorship board, to be selected by the city council, will not be named until next Wednesday, it became known yesterday. The council is charged with the duty of selecting one name from a list of three submitted by the motion-picture interests and also to select a woman member of the board. These two will choose the third.

The housewives' council yesterday submitted the names of Mrs. Alexander Thompson of the city Federation club; Mrs. G. Kane of the housewives' council; and Mrs. E. H. Franzen of the Parent-Teacher association.

Many Names Submitted.

There is no certainty, however, that one of these women will be selected, as scores of names of women have been submitted to the council, all of which will be considered, according to Mayor Baker. Under the provisions of the ordinance the council is obligated to appoint a woman, but is not bound to name this woman from any particular organization or club.

Considerable criticism has been heard in the corridors of the city hall, in connection with the manner of appointing the members of the censorship board, it being claimed that all power has been taken from the council or the mayor, who in reality are responsible for the board's actions.

Mayor is Not Satisfied.

Mayor Baker, who is the author of the ordinance, is not satisfied with the manner in which it was amended, his principal objection being to the designation of sex which was written in the solicitation of women