Mac take care of a couple of double dates scheduled for the coming week. For instance, two games may be played tomorrow, one at Elmonte and Pomona college. Mac received a let-ter from his uncle, Judge McCredie, who is also president of the Beavers, and the judge admonished his young nephew to give every opportunity to the cadet crop in camp. Since opening his spring camp McCredie has tried out ten youngsters with no pro-fessional league experience and four players with some experience in minor organisations. This last named quartet consists of Pitcher Juney of the old Northwestern league, Southpaw Durning of Brooklyn, Pitcher Polson of the Texas league, who came via Detroit and Infinites Stranger of the as utility infielder, as he wields a dandy pair of hands, is fast, full of pep and may learn to hit.

Pitcher Juney twirled brilliant ball against the Chicago Cubs, holding the Cuba to one hit in five inaings, and it need surprise nobody if the former Portland Colt third sacker makes good as a box artist. He has a terrific fast bail with a natural break, and has developed a change of pare. Right-hander Polson is a big fellow who looks a little like Al Sothern; his arm is not yet right, but he did very well against the Cubs.
