RELEASES MAR SABBATH

Manager Mac Heats Wire to Grab Talent for Salt Lake Opening Next Week.

BY ROSCOE FAWCETT. ONTARIO, Cal, March 29 .- (Spe cial.)-"Skull practice" featured the work of the Portland Coast league ball athletes in spring training here this afternoon. For the benefit of the uninitiated, "skull practice" is exercising that section of the genus home located above the collar button. It is extinct in some sports, such as is extinct in some sports, such as wrestling, but still used to some extent in baseball.

Manager McCredie spoke succinctly and to the point. He explained that there would be no stealing of second base with the bases full on his ball club. The boys also discussed hit-and-run signs, and all they will need to make them winners will be the hits when they give the signs to run.
After the skull-duggery the Beavers took a short, snappy workout at McDonald field and then called quits for Youngsters Dodge Releases. The showing young Sylvester John-son made pitching for the Yannigans against Colton Sunday is the talk of camp. Johnson stood the Colton batsmen on their heads, allowing only four hits and blanking them 6-0. Her-bert Cuyler, Los Angeles cadet outfielder, bagged four hits. Both these lads did such good work that they got by the secretary of the gate with the anointed hinges when releases were handed out last evening. It was a mean trick to hand out a bunch of blue tickets on the Sabbath, but troit camp are not altogether flatday after 48 hours in bed with the Arabian influenza. It was not Span-ish "flu," because the Spanish germs weigh only eight ounces and those that swarmed around the Portland catcher weighed 11 pounds and had striped tails. Trainer Howell, who is an expert on germs, pronounced it a sure case of Arabian influenza, probably contracted from the wild zebras that infest the orange groves Tomorrow the Beavers are sched-

nled for a game at El Monte, a town near Los Angeles, with a big-league ball park. "Suds" Sutherland will probably pitch the entire nine innings as his wing is in excellent condition as a result of his nocturnal prowling in the citrus forests

KILLEFER OUT ON ROUNDUP Angel Pilot Is After Violent Holdout Talent.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 29.— (Special.)—Manager Wade Killefer is at Lemoore today endeavoring to bring Jimmy McAuley to terms. The little Irishman obtained from Kansas City via the St. Leuis Cards is a violent holdout. Killifer is expected back tomorrow.

workouts at the Vernon park.

Killefer plans to make this final week the busiest and best of all. The redheaded pilot is after more players. He wants an outfleider and an infielder and if McAuley does not sign he will commence negotiations for a shortstop immediately.

McAuley, along with Pitchers Ray Keating and Vic Aldridge, are expected to don Angel uniforms this week.

Stubby Mack, a dead ringer to Dutch. Klawitter, former coast league hurler, will pitch for the Saints.

Howard has postponed the using of his shears until tomerow, when he expects to cut the squad down to the size it will be when leaving for Los Angeles next Sunday night. Cliff Bankenskin will get the cast-offs. Blankenship will get the cast-offs. The biggest worry about the prunings seems to be among the left-handers. A close fight is on for these positions.
