FOUR INDICTED FOR HIGH COURT "LEAK"

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—Four men were yesterday indicted for the alleged leak of a confidential order of the Supreme Court of the United States, which had been sealed in a Washington, D.C., post office.

The indictment lists as defendants John D.
Simons, a mailman of the department; John H.
Gardner, janitor of the Supreme Court; W. W.
Simons, janitor of the Department of Justice; and William J. Bowers, a mailman of the Department of Justice.

The order concerned the Supreme Court's consideration of a constitutional question, which has not been disclosed.

RAILROAD OWNERS QUIET WAGE PARLE Y

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—Railroad owners today quietly announced a reduction in wages of employees, effective immediately. The reduction was announced in a joint statement issued by the Associated Railroads of the United States.

The statement said that the reduction was due to the financial crisis facing the railroads and that it was necessary to preserve the employee-ship of the companies.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington Legislature today adjourned its session with the proclamation of a "canvass" of the secretary of state, who will announce the results of the election.

The legislature adjourned after passing the following measures:

1. A bill to extend the term of the governor to four years.
2. A bill to provide for the payment of retired teachers.
3. A bill to authorize the issuance of bonds for school purposes.
4. A bill to establish a state highway system.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Bar Association today adopted a resolution declaring its support for the Supreme Court's decision in the "Hunt" case.

The resolution said that the court's decision was "a necessary step in the maintenance of law and order in the state.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Highway Department today announced a new system of road construction.

The system is designed to provide for a more efficient use of road materials and to reduce the cost of construction.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Health Department today announced that the state has reached a new record in the control of tuberculosis.

The department said that the state had achieved a reduction of 30% in the incidence of tuberculosis in the past year.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Police Department today announced a new policy in the handling of traffic violations.

The policy provides for a more lenient approach to first-time offenders and a more strict approach to repeat offenders.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Education today announced that the state will provide free textbooks to all students.

The announcement was made by the director of the department, who said that it was the department's policy to provide equal access to education for all students.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Corrections today announced at least 10 new jobs for Correctional Officers.

The announcement was made by the director of the department, who said that the new positions would be filled by experienced officers who have at least two years of correctional experience.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Social Services today announced a new program to assist low-income families.

The program provides for financial assistance to families in need, including food stamps and cash assistance.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Transportation today announced a new policy in the construction of highways.

The policy provides for a more efficient use of materials and a reduction in the cost of construction.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Labor and Industries today announced a new program to assist unemployed workers.

The program provides for job training and placement assistance for workers who have lost their jobs.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Agriculture today announced a new program to assist farmers.

The program provides for financial assistance to farmers in need, including loans and grants.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Revenue today announced a new policy in the collection of taxes.

The policy provides for a more efficient use of resources and a reduction in tax evasion.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Health today announced a new program to assist the elderly.

The program provides for home care services and medical assistance for elderly residents.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Natural Resources today announced a new policy in the protection of forests.

The policy provides for a more efficient use of resources and a reduction in forest degradation.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Fish and Wildlife today announced a new program to protect wildlife.

The program provides for the maintenance of fish and wildlife populations and the protection of their habitats.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Corrections today announced a new policy in the handling of prisoners.

The policy provides for a more efficient use of resources and a reduction in prison overcrowding.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Employment Security today announced a new program to assist unemployed workers.

The program provides for vocational training and job placement assistance for workers who have lost their jobs.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington
State Department of Transportation today announced a new program to improve transportation infrastructure.

The program provides for the development of new roads and the maintenance of existing ones.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington
State Department of Social Services today announced a new program to assist low-income families.

The program provides for financial assistance to families in need, including food stamps and cash assistance.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington State Department of Education today announced a new policy in the funding of education.

The policy provides for a more efficient use of resources and a reduction in educational costs.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 9—The Washington
State Department of Labor and Industries
today announced a new program to assist unemployed workers.

The program provides for financial assistance to workers who have lost their jobs, including loans and grants.