

RODMAN CRITICISES SIMS AT HEARING

Letter Is "Very Indiscreet," Says Admiral.

OPERATION PLAN UPHELD

Chief of Operations Should Have More Power, Is Sole Recommendation.

WASHINGTON, April 7.—In testimony today at his own request before the senate committee investigating the Sims-Daniels row, Admiral Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, took direct issue with Admiral Sims' charges and criticism.

Admiral Rodman denied categorically that the navy entered the war without plans or policies; that it was unprepared to fight, or that it was a mistake to direct naval operations from Washington. The admiral said he appeared through a sense of duty and to "defend the good name of the navy," the work of which in the war he praised.

Admiral Rodman declared that never in his more than 40 years of service had the fleet been in a better state of preparedness than in the spring of 1917. Some types of vessels were lacking, he conceded, notably battle cruisers and scout cruisers, but generally speaking, the navy was ready to fight.

Admiral Rodman characterized as "very indiscreet" the Sims letter to Secretary Daniels, which brought about the present investigation and declared that Sims committed a breach of confidence in making public his intimate and confidential conversation, which should have been held secret.

He was referring to Admiral Sims' statement that Admiral Benson had told him just before leaving for London "not to let the British pull the wool over your eyes."

The charge that the navy entered the war without plans or well-defined policies was not correct, Admiral Rodman testified, adding that experience on the general board had given him opportunity to help prepare such plans, anticipating the probable advent of the United States into the war.

These plans were later modified to meet existing conditions, he asserted that the navy had many sources of information and recommendations abroad other than Benson, the witness said, but the navy had delayed the war by not accepting all of his recommendations.

Policy Charge Denied.
The charge that the navy Department should not have attempted to conduct operations from a point 2000 miles from the war zone was denied by Admiral Rodman, who declared that the "war was not fought and won in London," and that the only place for the direction and administration of the navy's policy was in Washington.

He had moved over his whole administration to London, even though 2000 miles separated it from the scene of hostilities, would have been a serious blunder," he said. "The admiral added that he thought there had been an evident effort to discredit the navy and his impression was that Admiral Sims sought to give the impression that he had most of the responsibility for running the war and that the navy department "fell down on the job" because it did not follow his advice.

On cross-examination Admiral Rodman said that the only recommendation he had to make to strengthen the organization of the navy department was that the chief of naval operations be given full authority and entire responsibility.

PRECINCT LINES CHANGED

Legal Election Difficult to Hold Under Present Conditions.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., April 7.—(Special.)—Under existing conditions a legal election in this city is practically impossible, according to men who have investigated the situation. The law provides that municipal precincts shall conform with state and county precincts in regard to boundaries. The city precinct lines do not coincide with the lines as recently drawn in redistricting by the county, and city officials say that the task of bringing them into conformity is a Herculean one.

A serious doubt is expressed by the city attorney and others as to the legality of any election held before the required changes are made.

SINN FEIN UPRISING PLOT IS CONFIRMED

Letter From German Baron Held as Proof.

BUSINESS MAN ARRESTED

Communication Interpreted by Police to Relate to Machine Guns and Artillery.

LONDON, April 7.—Recent unconfirmed reports of a Sinn Fein plot for an armed uprising in Ireland were based on fact, according to the Irish police. They state that they are in possession of information not only indicating a rising was intended, but that certain Germans in Berlin had been engaged to furnish war material.

In this connection Thomas J. Loughlin, a Dublin business man and a member of the Sinn Fein, has been arrested under the defense of the realm act.

With Loughlin's name the police linked that of Baron Levin von Horst, a former resident of the United States, who is now in Berlin, with whom it is alleged, Loughlin was negotiating.

Loughlin recently returned to Ireland from a visit to Germany. A letter addressed to Baron Levin von Horst at Berlin on March 3 and signed with Loughlin's name has come to the notice of the Irish police, who interpret the letter as proof of a proclivity to a rising and of German aid.

This letter, which is couched in the language of an ordinary business communication, contains the following:

"I have put the right people here in possession of the details you gave me on various matters and think you may be prepared for eventualities. Please write me at once when you get information from Hamburg regarding ships. This is most important and must not be overlooked, as we are now in a position to come to business."

"If you come across any government electric cable (interpreted by the police as code for machine guns and artillery) would you be able to let me have samples and details of what I mean?"

"Private Envelope" Urged.
The Dublin corporation is very short of supplies and if the stuff was suitable would be prepared to buy in large quantities. I am sending this letter via Madam, as I believe it is safer. When you write to me enclose your letter in a private envelope; that is, let there be no indication on the outside as to the source from whence it comes."

Baron Levin von Horst while under internment in a British detention camp during the war claimed American citizenship, but was said to have failed to establish it. It was understood that one of the grounds for the deportation from Great Britain last year of Miss Lillian Scott Troy of San Francisco was her business relationship with Baron von Horst.

Baron von Horst formerly lived in San Francisco.

STUDENT POLITICS HUMS

SIXTEEN CANDIDATES ENTER RACE FOR COUNCIL.

Additional Aspirants for Office May Be Placed on Ballot by Petition Within Ten Days.

Student politics became the center of interest at Reed college yesterday when the "Quest" made the first announcement of nominations to the student council. Sixteen candidates were nominated, eight to be elected April 26, four seniors and two each from the other classes. Freshmen elect representatives two months after college opens in the fall.

The president of the student body is the senior man receiving the highest number of votes. Competing for this honor are Tom Breckway of New York, Paul Workman, Eugene Vinton and Clyde Foley, all of Portland.

Katherine Kerr, Mary Elizabeth White, Florence Boyce and Julia Harrison, all of Portland, are junior women nominees who have won recognition for extra-curricular work.

William Stone of New York City, Maurice Howard, Grace Linklater and Opal Welmer of Portland, are sophomore candidates, one man and one woman to be elected. William Helms of Hillsboro, Or.; Ann Shepard, Hood River, Or.; John Hoffman White and May Borstius of Portland will represent the freshmen at the election.

Additional candidates may be placed on the ballot by petition if presented within ten days. This is the first election under the revised constitution, which was officially approved by the faculty last fall.

Paul Workman and Clifford Zollinger, juniors; Hobart Benson and Herbert Salmon, sophomores; and Charles Spackman and John Phillips, were nominated as candidates for the men's social room committee, one representative from each class to be elected.

AUTO RUNS OVER GIRL

Daughter of Wesley Prior Sustains Broken Leg.

ROSEBURG, Or., April 7.—(Special.)—Bonnie Prior, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Prior of this city, sustained a broken leg yesterday when she was run over by the car driven by County Coroner M. E. Ritter. The girl and her sister were dashed from behind a Standard Oil truck parked near the curb directly in front of the moving machine and both were hurled to the ground. Fortunately Mr. Ritter was traveling very slowly. The front wheels passed over the girl's leg, breaking the bone in two places, but was stopped before the rear wheels touched the body. The younger child was only slightly bruised.

Club Indorses Tax Bills.
BEND, Or., April 7.—(Special.)—The Commercial club today unanimously indorsed the higher educational millage bill, and the 2-mill school tax bill. The club is already on record in its favor of capital punishment, but action on other measures which will come before the people at the May primaries was deferred.

SUGAR WILL GO UP ANOTHER CENT SOON

Advance With Next California Shipment Expected.

EASTERN MARKET STRONG

Refineries Already Have Put Prices Up—Reduced Crop Estimates Coming From Cuba.

Sugar will cost Portland consumers more when the next shipment arrives from California. Refiners in that state have established new prices, one of them coming into the market at a sharp advance and the other adjusting its quotations to meet the new conditions.

The eastern sugar markets are very strong, largely owing to reduced crop estimates that are coming from Cuba.

SUGAR BOYCOTT FRUITLESS

Price Goes Up Despite Investigations and Crusaders.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—(Special.)—An advance of 11.30 a hundred pounds in the price of refined sugar was put into effect by the California & Hawaiian Sugar Refining company today. This raises the price to the consumer to 18 cents a pound, in spite of "investigations" and popular boycotts.

The New York market climbed to $16.65 for raws today, according to a report received by Frank H. Connolly, secretary of the Retail Grocers' association and this, he says, will make the price to the New York consumer 23 cents a pound.

The California & Hawaiian Sugar Refining company today delivered the last sack of refined sugar sold at the 14-cent basis.

It will take two weeks to refine and deliver the new allotment to the trade, according to officials of the California & Hawaiian refinery. It is believed the price will move up to $16, on a par with the Western Refining company's quotations, when the supply offered at $15.30 is exhausted.

The increase comes, notwithstanding the fact that imports of sugar to San Francisco from the Hawaiian islands within the next three days will aggregate 14,400 tons.

Boulder Injures Workman.

THE DALLES, Or., April 7.—(Special.)—A huge boulder which was dislodged from the mountain side above him as he worked on the Columbia river highway near Rewena this morning knocked George Poropat unconscious. He was rushed to the local hospital. This afternoon's report from the hospital is that he will recover. His right arm was broken.

PAROLE ATTEMPT FAILS

Douglas Prosecutor Blocks Efforts of John Karis, Convict.

ROSEBURG, Or., April 7.—(Special.)—A number of persons in Portland to secure the parole of John Karis, recently convicted here and sentenced to 20 years at hard labor for his share in the sensational robbery at Scottsburg several months ago, have been blocked by the district attorney of Douglas county, who has recently laid the case before Governor Olcott.

Greek friends of the convicted man also wrote to District Attorney Neuner asking him to use his influence in securing parole. Mike Zelok, a leader in the expeditionary force at Vladivostok had amounted to $2,823,960, Canada contributed 4214 officers and men.

Oregon to Hear Bishop Sumner.
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, April 7.—(Special.)—Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner will make his annual visit to the University of Oregon campus Thursday, Friday and Saturday, April 15, 16 and 17. He will address the regular university assembly on Thursday on the topic, "The Supreme Question of Life's Vocation." He will also address other meetings on the campus and in Eugene.

MRS. JULIA OPDYCKE DIES

Resident of Portland Since 1883 Passes at Age of 86 Years.

Mrs. Julia Elizabeth Opdycke died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. C. Lohmann, 474 Hall street, at 2:30 A. M. Tuesday. Death was due to complications incident to old age. Mrs. Opdycke would have been 86 years old on July 19. Her husband was 93 years old yesterday. The aged couple celebrated the 65th anniversary of their wedding on March 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Opdycke came to Portland in 1883, and have since resided in Sallowood or Yorkland proper. A year ago they came to live with their daughter, Mrs. Lohmann, at 474 Hall street.

Mrs. Opdycke is survived by her aged husband, W. L. Opdycke, and five children—H. Eugene Opdycke of Schenectady, N. Y.; Clifton W. Opdycke of Placerville, Cal.; W. D. Opdycke of Seattle, Wash.; Emma O. Melrath and Mrs. H. C. Lohmann of Portland. There are also five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held today at 2 P. M. at Portland crematorium. Rev. C. E. Chan, will preach the funeral sermon, and there will be brief services by Sallowood chapter, Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Opdycke was a member. Miss Metta Brown will sing "Lead, Kindly Light," and Abbie With, accompanied by Miss Margaret Lamberson on the organ.

AD CLUB FOILS ITSELF

ACTION ON DAYLIGHT SAVING PUZZLES EXPERTS.

Members Favor Sunshine Saving, but Seem to Have Voted Against It at Meeting.

Members of the Portland Ad club are thumbing the scales of Roberts' rules of order, the Marquis of Queensbury rules, Hoyle and the other eminent authorities on the subject of the Ad club at a stormy session yesterday noon at the Benson hotel. The club is in a deadlock as to whether it should favor daylight saving. There is no doubt about one thing, and that is that the club members fully intended to put the club on record as favoring daylight saving. But it seems that the actual action of the club, taken in the heat of debate on the subject, resulted in placing the Ad clubbers in opposition to the more-sunlight.

The name about when a resolution upon the matter, introduced by the resolutions committee, after being laid upon the table and taken off numerous times during the past month, was brought up for final action.
