

SALVATION ARMY RESCUE HOME DEDICATED YESTERDAY.

UNFORTUNATE GIRLS' HOME'S DEDICATED

Salvation Army Takes Over Building for Mothers.

MAYOR BAKER IS SPEAKER

Institution Will Accommodate 50 Persons and 35 Babies—Social Work Is Praised.

The White Shield Home, Mayfair and Alexander streets, which the Salvation Army has taken over for its rescue and maternity work, was dedicated yesterday.

A scriptural selection and invocation delivered by Colonel L. Brengle, and a sacred solo by Walter Jenkins opened the services.

Major Baker, in presenting the home to the Salvation Army, said: "For years—in fact, since childhood—I have watched the Salvation Army work on the streets at night, with their tambourines and their gospel hymns."

"The success of a home like this and the great good that it will do for the city of Portland will be the result of the unselfish work of those connected with its direct management.

Mrs. Colonel Mary Stillwell, who began the work of the Army here more than 23 years ago and who, for the last 15 years has been general secretary in the work for women and children throughout the west, made the dedicatory address.

The home itself is a revelation to anyone interested in the work of the Salvation Army. It is a beautiful, well-lighted, comfortable, and peaceful atmosphere of quiet and peace are probably invaluable in the work of reconstruction.

The lower floor comprises sun parlors, sewing room, dining room, kitchen, and on the upper floors are the wards, surgical rooms, nurseries, and maternity rooms and is immaculately equipped with every modern convenience.

With the admission that he was a husband and father when he married 20-year-old Bernice Tolly last May, J. E. McCleary yesterday entered a plea of guilty to bigamy.

McCleary married Ida E. Boag on April 8, 1917, and has two children, one 2 years and the other 11 months old. Because of failure to support his family he was indicted early last year, but on his promise to contribute regularly to his wife, he lived at 6703 Forty-second street, Southeast, he was paroled after sentence to a year in the county jail.

Directly after his parole, before he had paid a cent of money to his wife, McCleary took out a marriage license under the name of "J. M. Clary" to marry Miss Tolly, daughter of Frank Tolly, 419 Webster street.

The indictment for bigamy followed. McCleary has a fairly long criminal record. He was sentenced to from 2 to 30 years for forgery in June, 1914, was paroled in December, 1916, was returned to prison for the theft of some jewelry in April, 1916, and was paroled again in February, 1917.

The proposed improvements include the Toledo-Newport section of the Pacific highway at Lincoln county and the Barlow-Aurora section of the Pacific highway in Clackamas county. The former improvement will be approximately 12 miles long and the latter one and one-half miles.

PURCHASE HELD REGULAR SUPREME COURT DECIDES REDDISH GAME LAND CASE.

Justice Johnson Says State Commission Has Power to Spend Money in Acquiring Property.

SALEM, Or., April 13.—(Special.)—Purchase of the so-called Reddish game farm in Lane county by the state game and fish commission was held to be regular and within the jurisdiction of the commission in an opinion written by Justice Charles A. Johns and handed down by the Oregon supreme court here today.

Justice Johnson said he was of the opinion that the state game and fish commission, from making the initial payment of $2000 on the farm, which had been contracted to the state at a stipulated price of $1250.

In his opinion Justice Johns holds that the state has created a game and fish commission and vested in it the protection, preservation and propagation of fish and game, arising from state appropriation, license fees, and otherwise, and such commission shall have full power and authority to use so much of the state funds as may be necessary for the purchase of lands, water rights and easements and other property.

Intent to Kill, Charge Wally Wally Man Arrested and 13-Year-Old Son Detained.

WALLA WALLA Wash., April 13.—(Special.)—Gust Gunderson, alias Gus Gunderson, charged today with intent to kill Benjamin Gunderson and is held in jail here on a $2000 bond.

Benjamin Gunderson, whose home is in Russborough, Sask., told the officers a strange tale which led to the arrest of Gust Gunderson, 42-year-old son of the accused man. Ben Gunderson said he received a letter from Arthur asking him to come here with $500 and two blankets to settle his father's estate.

WATER BILL DATA SOUGHT CITY OFFICIALS WOULD LEARN OF BULL RUN CLAUSE.

Move Launched to Secure Information on Guarantee Amendments to Measure.

Efforts to learn if amendments have been included in the federal water power bill, which has been introduced to both houses of congress, to protect the water power rights held by the city in the Bull Run project, were launched yesterday by Deputy City Attorney Tomlinson.

When the bill, which is designed to create a commission vested with power to grant water power rights in the United States was first introduced, City Attorney LaRoche contacted the Oregon congressional delegation asking that protection be afforded to the city's rights in the Bull Run project.
