

GEORGE A. WHITE AGAIN HEADS GUARD

Adjutant-General Post Resumed by A. E. F. Colonel.

CONRAD STAFFRIN QUILTS

Official Held During War Is Vacated When Leave of Absence of Predecessor Terminates.

SALEM, Or., April 15.—(Special)—Colonel George A. White, who returned to Oregon recently from France where he was engaged in active service with the United States forces, this afternoon resumed his duties as adjutant-general of Oregon.

Transfer of the records of the adjutant-general's office was made today and Conrad Staffrin, who has been in charge of the military affairs of the state during Colonel White's absence, will leave for Dallas within the next few days where he will devote his entire time to the conduct of his drug store.

Adjutant-General White was appointed head of the Oregon military during the administration of the late Governor Withycombe, and upon the outbreak of war between the United States and Germany went overseas. It was understood at that time that he would be reinstated after his return to Oregon.

Mr. White returned to the United States several months ago, and upon making application to Governor O'cott received further leave of absence that he might remain in New York, and assist in organizing the American Legion. Since arriving in Oregon a few weeks ago, he was detained in Portland because of the illness of his father.

Adjutant-General White stated this afternoon that the present employees of his office probably would be retained and that he had in mind no drastic changes in the conduct of his department.

RETURN BRINGS SATISFACTION Record, Begun in Spanish War, Includes Much Active Service.

Announcement that Colonel George A. White had again assumed his duties as head of the state service was received with a great deal of satisfaction locally yesterday. While it had been generally understood that he would take up his work where he left off to go overseas, it was not known in the guard as to the date of his return.

Colonel White's work in preparing the state troops for the war and his work in organizing the draft attracted nationwide attention. Because he kept Oregon constantly first in responding to every call of a military nature, when he had completed his work as brigadier-general because the duties kept him at home and accepted a small commission in the army in order to get active service with the Oregon troops in France. He went to France with the 1st infantry division in 1917 and served 18 months on the other side. He was promoted to lieutenant-colonel in France and was decorated by the French government for his services, being awarded the cross of the Black Star.

Although not in the army, Colonel White has volunteered for active service three times and thus has gained his military experience. In 1898 he left school to enlist as a private of field artillery, serving until the end of the war with Spain. In 1916 he resumed as adjutant-general of Troop A on the Mexican border. He was appointed adjutant-general of the state in 1915 by Governor James Withycombe.

Since his return from France last fall he has been active as one of the national organizers of the American Legion, of which he was one of the founders in France. He returned to his home in Oregon last month.

COLONEL LEAVES CAMP LEWIS James B. Dusenbury Inspector-Instructor of Guard.

CAMP LEWIS, Wash., April 15.—(Special)—Colonel and Mrs. James B. Dusenbury and their two children left Camp Lewis for Salem, Or., where the colonel has been assigned by war department orders as inspector-instructor of the Oregon national guard.

Colonel Dusenbury up to the present time commanded the 5th heavy artillery regiment stationed at Camp Lewis. He has been with this regiment since it was organized in Boston in 1917 for overseas service. Colonel Dusenbury received rapid promotion during the war, going from the grade of captain to colonel in less than one year. After the war he was with the regiment at Fort Winfield Scott, Cal., and brought it to its present station at Camp Lewis. Colonel Dusenbury was in the Meuse-Argonne, Oise-Aisne, Vesle and Marne offensives.

On Tuesday the regiment was reviewed by Colonel Dusenbury at Fort Meade. That evening the officers of the regiment gave a banquet at a hotel and his family in their mess hall. This was followed by a dance given by the officers of the 3rd artillery brigade, Wednesday evening the enlisted men of the command gave a smoker in his honor in their recreation hall.

Colonel Dusenbury graduated from the military academy at West Point in 1906. He is also a graduate of the coast artillery school at Fort Monroe, Va.

PORTLAND WOOL CENTER MARKET IS SAID TO BE SECOND LARGEST IN AMERICA.

R. N. Stanfield Declares in Short Time District Will Be Greatest in United States.

That Portland, already the second largest wool market in America and the location of the largest wool manufacturing concern west of Cleveland, O., at no distant time will be the center of the greatest wool manufacturing district in America was the forecast of Robert N. Stanfield, prominent sheepman of eastern Oregon, in addressing the Progressive Business Men's club at its regular weekly luncheon at the Benson hotel yesterday.

Action of the business men and bankers of Portland in aiding the sheepmen to organize a few years ago saved the wool industry to Oregon, said Mr. Stanfield and established this city as the logical center for the industry in the northwest. The passing of the public ranges and the necessary readjustment by sheepmen brought a crisis, he said, which was only successfully met when the aid of the Portland financiers was extended to organize the sheepmen so that proper credit could be extended. Of the total of over 40,000,000 pounds of wool produced in the Inland Empire, including Montana, 16,000,000 pounds was shipped to Portland last year, and of this amount over 7,000,000 pounds were made by Oregon and northwest woolen mills into cloth, blankets, etc. The climate, water and transportation facilities all combine to make Portland an ideal location for wool manufacture, Mr. Stanfield said, and he urged the support of Oregon woolen manufacturers. The luncheon was the first of a series of half a dozen planned by the Progressive Business Men's club for this spring and summer to be devoted to Oregon industries.

BAKER AND ALCAZAR EACH TO PRODUCE 'PEG O' MY HEART.'

Both Productions Will Be Made April 23—Verna Felton to Appear in Rival House.

More than the mere law of coincidence seems to be concerned in the simultaneous production of 'Peg o' My Heart' by the Baker Stock company and a company at the Alcazar, two productions to be made on April 25.

Both Lee Pearl at the Baker and Louis E. Christ of the Alcazar management insist on the right of priority in the contract to produce the play and at a late hour last night were awaiting New York messages which would further developments locally.

The Alcazar in carrying advertisements featuring Verna Felton, who is leaving the Baker after she plays 'Lombardi, Ltd.' and who will have a free week before she takes her new engagement in Tacoma stock. Louis B. Christ, speaking for Manager C. V. Everett, of the Alcazar, who is now in Los Angeles, said yesterday: 'We are going ahead regardless of other theater announcements and produce 'Peg o' My Heart. We have had an option on the play for several months, ever since early last season.'

'We obtained the play from the Century Play company, from which we have secured many other plays,' said Lee Pearl of the Baker players. 'It was released March 26, when the courts decided a litigation that had been in process for years between Author Manners and Producer Morosco. All of our material for the piece arrived last Monday and it will go on as scheduled.'

DECORATION PLAN URGED

SHRINERS ASK CONFORMITY TO GENERAL SCHEME. Salesmen Discovers Inducing Merchants to Accept Material of Poor Quality or Faulty Design.

In order that all decorations may be harmonious during the Shrine convention in June, a general plan has been adopted by the committee. The plan will be strictly followed in the streets that are in charge of the committee, and the request is made that harmonious colors be used on buildings and that all property owners require salesmen of decoration materials to exhibit authority from the Shrine committee.

Mayor Baker is at the head of a committee on concessions which will examine all articles or materials offered for decorative purposes and, if found satisfactory, a card will be issued to the salesman. 'My committee is not so much concerned with the revenue that may be secured from the small charge that is made for these cards as it is in protecting the merchants of the city in the purchase of their decoration materials,' said the mayor.

Beginning last evening, the programme for the various church denominations to attend the revival has been arranged. Music for the meetings is being furnished by a choir of 300 people under direction of Robert O. Lewis. Mrs. Lewis is soloist.

Grip, Influenza

Hamlin's Wizard Oil a Reliable, Antiseptic Preventive. During influenza epidemics spray the nose and throat several times a day with one part Wizard Oil and two parts water, using an atomizer. If you haven't an atomizer, gargle the throat and sniff the mixture up the nose. This treatment sets up an antiseptic wall of defense against "flu" germs. Chest colds and sore throat lead to grip. Stop them at once with Wizard Oil before they can develop into dangerous influenza. Get it from druggists for 30c. If not satisfied, return the bottle and get your money back. Ever constipated or have sick headache? Just try Wizard Liver Whisks, pleasant little pink pills, 30c at druggists. Guaranteed.

FOR BURNING ECZEMA Apply Zemo, the Clean, Antiseptic Liquid—Easy to Use—Does Not Stain. Greasy salves and ointments should not be applied if good clear skin is wanted. From any druggist for 35c, or $1.00 for large size, get a bottle of Zemo. When applied as directed it effectively removes eczema, quickly stops itching, and heals skin troubles, also sores, burns, wounds and chafing. It penetrates, cleanses and soothes. Zemo is a clean, dependable and inexpensive antiseptic liquid. Try it, as we believe nothing you have ever used is as effective and satisfying. The E. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.
