Because of this great publicity he has received all over the circuit, and in New York particularly, great things are expected of Ruth every time he steps to the plate. Having made his batting reputation because of his ability to crack out home runs, baseball fans always sort of look for such a performance. some southern fan kidded him so strongly the other day that he just naturally hopped into the bleachers to investigate, but discovered that he weighed about 100 pounds more than the fellow who was roasting him, so only two second base until the eighth. above his natural gait.
Personally, I think the failure of Ruth to do a lot of slugging in the exhibition game means little or nothing. He is one of those free swinghis bat from a dozen or more special sticks. The New York Yankees were indulging in batting practice, just before the game with the Cincinnati Reds at Miami a few weeks ago.

Last year at this time, as a member of the Boston Red Sox, Ruth was establishing home run records on nearly every minor league park in which the Boston Club played. Bald Johnny was strongly advised against taking on such a vigorous opponent as Ledoux in his first atmpt at a comeback. But he insisted on the venture which proved so dis-astrous.
