Candidates Face Disappointment Despite Abilities and Indorsements.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, April 21.—Backers of several candidates for places on the interstate commerce commission are preparing to be disappointed. More than a dozen men regarded as experts on the question of railroad rate regulation have been proposed to the White House for the three vacancies, two of which were created by the Esch-Cumping railroad hill in inwhite House for the infection of the common static and bill in increasing the membership of the commission from eight to ten. Failure Is Foreboded. Not only have ten senators indorsed him, but something like a score or more of house members and other prominent public officials have sent indorsements to the White House. The long delay and several strange and unaccounted for appointments made for other posts since Shaughnessy's name was first proposed have combined to cause forebodings of failure in the minds of those sup-porting the Nevada candidate.

Shaughnessy is one of the best in-formed men in the United States on the question of railroad rate making and under ordinary circumstances would appear to be an ideal appli-cant, but all recent appointments on the part of Mr. Wilson have ignored the qualifications or particular fit ness of the men nominated, it is de
