HOW WAR FUNDS WERE WASTED House Committee Discovers Vant

Squander in Camp Construction. Charges of astounding waste of ma terials, of greater padded payrolls and of wholesale loafing by workers cantonments during the war, are made congressional sub-committee of vestigation, reported to the house needed. There seemed to be absolutely no check system nor method followed in the ordering of materials. Carload after carload of lumber, of hardware, of cement and building materials generally were dumped indis-criminately on the ground where the camps were to be constructed

"There seemed to be an effort made on the part of nearly everybody to destroy and waste as much material as possible. As an instance, loads of finishing lumber were dumped into mudholes for the purpose of repairing It was a common have trucks run over piles of lumbe and destroy it.
"Hundreds of kegs of halls were thindreds of kegs of haits were left out in the open and in the rain to rust and ruin. Carloads of cement were left out in the open to be destroyed by the elements.

"During the process of construction it was a common thing to saw a foot or two off a board and throw the bal-ance into the sorap heap. After a building was completed all the matething that was in the building wer thrown into a scrap pile and hauled to a dump heap where they were aft erwards burned, without any sys-contractor would be pleased, for the more money he would get out of the job by way of percentage. "A careful analysis of the testimony will disclose that from the beginning to the end there was a loss in materials of at least 25 to 50 per cent. I was a riot of waste at all camps, "At Camp Sherman lumber was burned in such quantities that the men who burned it were compelled to lay off frequently for the reason that the fires got so hot they were afraid of burning down the cantonment. Of 50,000,000 feet of lumber used at Camp Sherman, at least 12,500,000 feet were wasted. Finishing lumber in bundles that were never untied were hauted away and burned. At Camp Meade an entire regiment of 3000 men was employed for a week in carrying the waste lumber off the drill ground. "Roofing material was piled up like cordwood out in the sun and twothirds became absolutely useless, for the reason that it could not be un-rolled. Unbroken rolls of roofing were hauled away and burned. Tons of nails were hauled to the river and canal and thrown away.

"Automobiles wire hired by the day, invoiced at less than $400, for which the government paid more than win the good will of $4,000,000 $800 each as rental. One and onehalf-ton trucks were rated as three tone and five-tons trucks were rated

"At Camp Sherman they had no use at all for 250 of the teams. These but were satisfied to re-enlist. There teams were kept on the payroll, but is no question that there are still ing used.

"When work started upon these camps there was an effort made to get just as many people upon the payrolls as possible. Wages were fixed without regard to the work-men's experience or ability. It soon secame apparent that efficiency was not expected nor desired. "From 30 to 50 per cent of the labor was wasted; hundreds of men were engaged in gambling in the wheat fields, the cornfields, and in nearly every building on the grounds; the idlers on every job were so many that they were in the way of those supposed to be workings that there were so many men on the roofing job that at least one building actually colby were at least one building actually colline without lapsed by their weight. Curb on Landlords Should Reach Mallelous Renters and Dead Beats. PORTLAND, April 21 .- (To the Ediquiry may be justified because of the greed of certain landlords, and if to public censure. But I suggest that tenants who willfully deface and damage houses which they occupy, or who evade payment of proper rentals, should also be investigated. Owners are often put to large excluttered with old cans, bottles, rags and filth. Other tenants avoid pay-ment of rents under one pretext or another, and sometimes jump them without warning. It seems to me that if profiteering landlords are to be blacklisted, vicious and dishonest tenants should get similar treat-
