CLIQUE CONTROL, CHARGE

Washington Republicans Dominated by Group, Says Candidate.

TACOMA, Wash. April 20.—(Special.)—That a small clique controls the republican party of Washington and that a group of paid, professional politicians manipulate the legislature at each session so that it closes with a stigma attached to it, was the charge made today by Senator Phipps, Spokane, in speaking before Tacoma republicans. He is seeking the nomination as lieutenant-governor.

He urged that independent voters be brought into the party.
