

THIRD HOWELL TRIAL OPENS AT COQUILLE

Boy Accused of Murdering 16-Year-Old Girl.

TWO JURIES DISCHARGED

Indications Are That Selection of Jury Will Take Several Days, and Possibly a Week.

MARSHFIELD, Or., May 3.—(Special.)—Judge John S. Coke, in the circuit court at Coquille, today opened the third trial of Harold Howell, 15-year-old boy, charged with the murder of Lillian Leuthold at Bandon last July.

The defendant, who during the first two trials maintained remarkable self-control, seemed still to be quite himself, although he has been through the strain of two former trials and the disappointment of two juries disagreeing, the third trial having been postponed on account of an epidemic, and has been confined in jail for eight months.

Dexter Rice of Roseburg is assisting District Attorney Hall in prosecuting the case, and is paid by friends of the Leuthold family and by the county. C. F. McKnight, John D. Goss and John C. Kendall are defending, assisted by Attorney Collier of Portland, whose services were furnished by the Prisoners' Aid society.

Twelve men on the regular panel were examined and, this being exhausted, a special venire of 50 men was ordered to report tomorrow morning. One juror, A. L. Rice, farmer, of Broadhead, was accepted by both sides. Several days, possibly a week, may be occupied in getting a jury.

Last July Lillian Leuthold, aged 16, was found murdered near Bandon. She had been visiting at the home of Rev. Mr. Jennings and evidently on returning to the home of her parents was waylaid on the trail through the woods over which she usually passed. She had been shot twice, a bullet through her chest, the other being fired at close range, causing death. The body had been dragged into the brush and concealed and was found the day after the girl left the Jennings home.

The chief feature of the evidence in the case against the Howell boy is the bullet taken from the girl's head. It is peculiarly marked and the prosecution claims that it could only have been marked by Harold Howell's gun, which originally was a .22, but which had been bored out to shoot a .38-caliber bullet. The defense claims there are other bored guns and produced them in evidence in the previous trial. After several clues had been followed without result, and a special detective employed, Harold Howell was arrested and indicted for the crime.

GIANT TIMBER AMAZES

Swedish Investigator to Look Over Oregon Woods.

Oregon trees don't look much like those of his native land to Henrik Carbonnier of Hanasjog, Sweden, who is passing several days at the Benson while investigating timber conditions and methods of handling. "At home we are using our second growth," he explained, "and the largest trees are only up to 20 inches. Most of the logs are around 10 inches on the small end. Pine, spruce and soft woods make up the forests. To prevent devastation of the forest, the Swedish government has made laws which prevent privately owned land from being carelessly stripped of trees. Timbermen are required to reforestate their logged-off land unless the wood is cut so that the forests can reproduce naturally." Mr. Carbonnier has been sent to the United States and Canada by the government forestry department. He will visit the Wind River nursery before leaving Portland for the south. Next month he expects to return to Sweden.

GIRL DISLIKES MOTHER

FLOSSIE ORCHARD, 15, ORDERED TO YAKIMA.

Child Who Ran Away to Live With Father in Portland, Loses Local Case.

Flossie Orchard, 15, will return with her mother to Yakima, Wash., by a decision by Circuit Judge Taxwell yesterday granting the writ of habeas corpus demanded by Mrs. Lena East, the mother, for the return of the child from the home of her divorced father, J. E. Orchard of Portland, and her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Josephine Orchard.

"I won't go, I won't go," was the manner in which the girl greeted the decision of the judge. The court assured her that she would, regardless of her personal antipathy to her mother.

"The superior judge at Yakima gave you to your mother at the time of the divorce several years ago," said Judge Taxwell. "He is in full possession of all the facts in your case. If any modification in his order is desired you may see him about it. I would suggest that you take it up with him, for it is in his province, not mine, to decide what is best for your welfare." The court said that he did not look with favor on the girl's running away from her mother's home last November, coming to her father in Portland, and never telling her mother her whereabouts. As to the attentions from men which the child had said her mother encouraged, most of the girl's testimony had concerned affairs years past and were not held to be present evils. If they were, he held it was for the Yakima court to decide the custody of the child.

OREGON BILLS PROGRESS

HOUSE ADOPTS MEASURE FOR ENLARGING FOREST.

Entrymen on Portland and Roseburg District Power Sites Before 1914 to Be Protected.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 3.—(Special.)—Senator McNary's bill, passed by the senate some time ago, enlarging the Oregon national forest to include Larch mountain with Oneota gorge and Multnomah falls, was put through the house by Representative Sinnott this afternoon and will become law within a few days.

Another bill passed by the house today provides for accepting the filings of those entrymen on power site reserves in the former Oregon and California railroad grant lands and Coos bay wagon road grant who were on the lands prior to December, 1912. Their entries are subject, however, to being taken over in the event of power development, the claimants to be reimbursed for all improvements.

Still another bill passed today authorizes the secretary of the interior to sell the timber on power site reserves. Two bills introduced by Representative Hawley also were passed. One authorizes the city of Myrtle Point, Or., to purchase certain former Oregon and California grant lands for the protection of the city water supply. The other provides for the sale of isolated tracts in the grant.

The bill providing for accepting the filings of certain power site entrymen is to cover the cases of seven entrymen in the Portland land district and 11 in the Roseburg district who were on the lands long before the grant was turned back to the federal government.

ONE SICKNESS AFTER ANOTHER

When the blood becomes thin a train of troubles follows. In time almost every organ in the body becomes affected, the nerves are upset, indigestion develops and life becomes miserable because of headaches, dizzy spells, insomnia, weakness and sometimes rheumatism and neuralgia.

Do not neglect the blood but build it up with the tonic which Mrs. Charles Burwell, of No. 342 Lyon street, Flint, Mich., used and now recommends. She says:

"My blood became so weak and thin that I was on the verge of a breakdown. I had lost a great deal of strength and was very pale. My hands sometimes became numb. It was a great effort for me to move about. I suffered from headaches and dizzy spells. In spite of the medicines I took I grew worse and one sickness followed another. I worried a great deal and became melancholy."

"I had heard of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills ever since I was a little girl and when I saw them advertised finally decided to try them. Two weeks after I began taking the pills I felt so much better that I knew that I had at last found the right remedy. Gradually my strength returned. My appetite improved, the headaches became less frequent and then disappeared. My color is good now for my blood is rich and plentiful and I feel better than I have in a long time. I am sure that others who need a tonic will be benefited if they will try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 60 cents per box, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. If you are interested write today for the free book, "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.

resolution of the question, at a meeting to be held in the mayor's office this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Although it is not certain what will be contained in the report to be submitted by W. D. Whitcomb, Nelson G. Pike and Deputy City Attorney Lionel C. Mackay, it is known that because of lack of authority, it was impossible for them to obtain evidence from the books of many of the landlords.

An ordinance prepared by Attorney Mackay at the request of Mayor Baker has been held in abeyance until the committee of eight has had opportunity to review its situation.

Decision to hold up passage of the ordinance was made upon presentations made by Herbert Jordan, contractor and man interested in the apartment house business. These men insisted that they would co-operate with any committee seeking to regulate rents but also contended that a law to regulate rents would be disastrous to the apartment house business in Portland in the future.

Considerable interest is attached to the report to be submitted which may determine the future road to be followed by the rent investigators.

THE DISCOVERY OF "VITAMINES"

The study of beriberi and pellagra led to the discovery of a group of food essentials known as "vitamines." They are necessary to normal nutrition and to normal growth. They are found in the whole wheat grain. In making Shredded Wheat Biscuit all the vitamins are retained—all the elements that are needed for building a perfect body. Two of these little loaves of baked whole wheat with milk or cream (or hot water) make a nourishing, satisfying meal for a few cents.
