

SIX STEAMERS AS ONE OF PORT'S BUSIEST

Six Steamers for Lumber Due in Few Days.

AMERICAN SHIPS IN LEAD

Departure of Steelmaker Marks Beginning of Period of Un-usual Activity.

With the departure early yesterday morning of the 10,000-ton Steelmaker, Portland embarked upon one of the busiest weeks in the history of the port.

Three Americans Loading. The three American steamers now loading for the Orient are the Aberdeen, the Admiral, due to sail today, and the West Keats and West Nivaria of the Columbia-Pacific Shipping company's North China line.

Two Due for Lumber. The two steamers to carry lumber to the Orient which are due to arrive here this week are the West Keats of the Columbia-Pacific company and the Olen, operated by the Steamship company.

New Service to Begin. To load lumber for the west coast of South America, the Delila and the Delila, both chartered by Dant & Russell, will be due here from San Francisco coast early in the week.
