Honolulu Stock Market Recovers.

HONOLULU, T. H., May 14.—(Special)—The Honolulu stock market has recovered from the scare occasioned by the strike, and though the Japanese plantation laborers are still out, the fact seems to have little effect on local sugar stocks, which paid dividends amounting to $924,000 during the month of April. This is almost $150,000 more in dividends than the amount paid in April, 1919.
