

KEELEY IS DEBARRED BY SUPREME COURT

Appeal of Accused Attorney Is Denied.

RECORD IS REVIEWED

Appellant, However, Will Be Permitted to Conduct Cases Now Pending Before Courts.

SALEM, Or., May 18.—(Special.)—Lee Roy Keeley, Portland attorney, was denied admission to practice law in Oregon in an opinion written by Justice A. S. Bennett and handed down by the Oregon supreme court here today. In connection with the opinion, however, it was ordered by the court that Keeley should be allowed to continue in the cases now pending in the courts of the state in which he appears on record as an attorney.

"This privilege, of course," says the opinion, "is conditional upon his conducting such litigation with reasonable courtesy and respect toward the courts and members of the bar with whom he may come in contact in disposing of such cases."

Keeley's Record Investigated.
Keeley, according to the records of the supreme court, arrived in Oregon from California more than a year ago and immediately thereafter made application to practice law in this state upon a certificate of previous admission to practice issued in the state of California. A temporary license to practice was granted and the matter was afterward referred to the secretary of the Oregon Bar association for investigation.

This investigation resulted in the secretary filing objections to Keeley's admission to practice in Oregon because of alleged misconduct on the part of the applicant. Three specific allegations were preferred against Keeley. The charges later were heard by the state board of examiners, with the result that the first two objections to Mr. Keeley's admission were dismissed for want of sufficient evidence.

With regard to the third allegation, in part, said: "We feel justified in submitting Mr. Keeley's application without certificate and transmit herewith transcript of the testimony and exhibits offered at the hearing."

Case Goes Before Court.
On February 17, 1920, the matter came up without argument before the court upon the report of the bar association, and the admission of the applicant was denied. Keeley then moved for a rehearing, and such arguments were presented upon each side.

"The admission of an applicant to practice law in Oregon is ultimately and finally for this court and is a matter of broad discretion," read the opinion in part, "and we could no doubt in a proper case disregard or suspend the rule and admit the applicant without the certificate of recommendation. But we would have to be plain in case before we would feel justified in doing so. We do not feel that this is such a case."

"The board of examiners is made up of some of the most eminent and reputable attorneys in the state. They were chosen for that position on account of their well-known fairness and justice, and their public fitness for the position. We do not think, and there is no reason to think, that any of them has the least prejudice against or desire to injure the applicant."

Examiners Are Held Fair.
"One member of the board, a very eminent lawyer of the highest repute, was challenged by the applicant on the ground of prejudice, and it seems from the report that he voluntarily withdrew and took no part in the investigation. The report of these examiners, which is admirable for its fairness and candor, and which, in fact, was virtually against the admission of the applicant, and we do not see any reason for overruling their conclusion."

"It is perhaps due to the applicant to say that we do not attach the utmost importance to the charges of moral and professional misconduct in California. . . . They were more in the nature of a rebuke, which any attorney might make, and still intend to be honorable and upright."

"As to the charges of pecuniary immorality at one time in the life of the applicant, they occurred a number of years ago, when the applicant was a young man, and there is no evidence that his conduct in that regard has not since been good."

Nature Held Intemperate.
"We think, however, that the applicant's general disposition, as disclosed by his own evidence and his conduct and expressions at the investigation, fully justify the conclusion of the examiners that they could not consistently recommend him for admission to the bar. It is very evident that his nature is a turbulent and intemperate one."

BOY GOES TO MONMOUTH

HAROLD HOWELL TO SPEND SUMMER WITH UNCLE.

Lad Appears Happy, Displaying No Signs of Confinement on Charge of Murder.

SALEM, Or., May 18.—(Special.)—Harold Howell, Bandon youth who last Sunday was acquitted by a jury in the Coos county courts on a charge of murdering Lillian Leuthold, was in Salem today on his way to Monmouth, where he will spend the summer on his uncle's ranch. The lad appeared happy during his stay here today, and displayed no signs of his long confinement in jail. He would make no comment regarding the charges preferred against him or his trial other than he was happy to be free.

Oliver O. Howell, father of the boy, spent more than an hour at the statehouse conferring with members of the industrial accident commission. Mr. Howell suffered the loss of his left hand in a mill accident near Bandon in March, 1919, and now receives compensation at the rate of $250 a month.

The three trials of his boy left Mr. Howell almost penniless, according to his friends. During the last trial he charitably inclined citizens of the state came to Mr. Howell's assistance.

WATER PLANS DISCUSSED

Directors of Tumalo Irrigation District Want Increase.

SALEM, Or., May 18.—(Special.)—Directors of the Tumalo irrigation district in Deschutes county were here today conferring with Percy Cupper, state engineer, regarding plans for obtaining more water for the project. It is proposed to secure additional supply of water from either the Crane Prairie reservoir, the Benham Falls reservoir or the Waldo drainage district. This is a Carey act project, according to Mr. Cupper, and has been under development for several years. Although various plans for obtaining more water were discussed at the conference no definite action will be taken until the Crosby report dealing with the feasibility of the Benham Falls reservoir site is received. The district now includes approximately 12,000 acres, but will be extended to take in more than 22,000 acres if sufficient water is made available.

F. C. Dillard, engineer for the Talent irrigation district in Jackson county, reported to Mr. Cupper late today that water is being delivered to a large part of that project. As a result, he says, the fruit prospects are better than for several seasons and a bumper crop is expected. While here Mr. Dillard discussed with Mr. Cupper plans for financing the undeveloped portion of the project.

OCHOCO BONDS CERTIFIED

Completion of Crook County Project Now Held Assured.

SALEM, Or., May 18.—(Special.)—Bonds in the sum of $100,000, voted by the Ochoco irrigation district, were certified today by the irrigation securities commission. This makes a total of $1,350,000 in bonds certified for the development of this project. The Ochoco district contains approximately 22,000 acres in Crook county, and the bonds certified today will complete development of the project. A dam 125 feet in height already has been completed and water is being placed on the land.

Hatchery Improvements to Start.

ROSEBURG, Or., May 18.—(Special.)—A. H. Berghoff, state fish and game warden, and E. K. Clanton, fish warden, today inspected the North Umpqua hatchery preparatory to starting improvements. Construction will be started in a couple of weeks, but lack of funds will necessitate only a partial completion of the plans made for this hatchery. The game and fish wardens started north after looking after state interests on Rogue river.

HUSBAND GETS SURPRISE

WIFE COMES BY APPOINTMENT BUT BRINGS OFFICER.

One Divorce Is Granted and Five More Suits Filed in Circuit Court Yesterday.

An appointment with the wife from whom he had been separated since 1915 cost Troy Coones his freedom, at least temporarily. He asked her to meet him Monday to sign a quit-claim deed to some property and she met him—but with an officer and a warrant for his arrest on a non-support charge. He was bound over to the grand jury by District Judge Hawkins yesterday afternoon following a brief hearing.

Coones told the court that his wife deserted him in 1915 to go to her parents at Berkeley and that he had sent her money regularly from Seattle. Mrs. Edna Coones insisted that the desertion was the act of her husband M. Gorton; John against Cleta Fosnot, and George against Jessie M. C. Franzen.

C. M. RYNERSON For STATE SENATOR

(The Daily News, May 7, says of him.)

There are two kinds of thinkers among labor men in America. Both are honest. One despairs of parliamentary methods and sneers at the ballot. He talks of direct action, one big union and the dictatorship of the proletariat.

The other pins his faith to the democratic idea. He is as dissatisfied as the other, but he believes he can gain his ends legally. Such a man should have the good will of those of us who do not belong to labor unions.

And such a man is C. M. Ryneron, editor of the "Labor Press" and a candidate for state senator. That Ryneron seeks a seat in the legislature is in itself proof that he believes in parliamentary methods as against violence. Predatory interests do not like Ryneron, but honest business men have no need to fear him. He has had business training, yet he is in the ranks of the workers. He is level-headed, alert and square. —Paid Adv.

They Have Found the Way to Beautiful Teeth

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

Dental science has found a way to combat film on teeth. It has been tested for years by able authorities in clinical and laboratory tests. Now leading dentists everywhere advise its daily use.

The method is embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. This week we offer a 10-Day Tube to every home in this city, and we urge every home to get it. Let it prove itself.

Tartar and Stain

are based on film. This 10-Day Tube will show you that they are avoidable. And so is tooth decay.

Film is What Discolors

You can feel on your teeth a slimy film. It is ever-present, ever-forming. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The tooth brush doesn't end it. The ordinary dentifrice cannot dissolve it. So it accumulates and may do a ceaseless damage.

Most tooth troubles are now traced to that film. And now it is known why brushed teeth still discolor and decay. The reason lies in that clinging film which the old cleaning methods omit.

Cause of Decay

That film is what discolors—not the teeth. It is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus the film is the teeth's chief enemy.

It Can Be Ended
Dental science has for years sought a way to end that film, and the way has now been found.

Pepsodent is based on pepsin, the digestant of albumin. The film is albuminous matter. The object of Pepsodent is to dissolve it, then to constantly combat it.

The way seems simple, but it is not. Pepsin must be activated. The usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth, so pepsin long seemed impossible. What has been found is a harmless activating method. Now pepsin can be applied twice daily and left between the teeth. And millions of teeth are now being cleaned as they never were before.

Watch the Effects

We ask you to watch the effects. Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the fixed film disappears.

Compare this method with the old. Read the facts about it. Then decide for yourself what is best.

Look in Ten Days

See how white the teeth are—how they glisten. You can see that the film is gone. You will know that teeth can be kept forever whiter and cleaner and safer.

Be Young In Body, Mind and Looks Despite Your Years

How often you have wished that you could indulge in the strenuous exercise of out door sports with the vigor and enthusiasm of youth! But the end of the week finds you all in—you are tired, listless and lack the energy to go out for a vigorous walk or a round of the links—or any other exercise that requires much physical exertion. Many a man, even in his middle forties, has a vague feeling that he is "getting old"—and right at a time when he should be at his very best physically. And he is growing old, not in the sense that the years are pressing heavily upon him—but in the sense that his vital forces are wasting away faster than Nature replaces the worn out tissues.

Thousands—yes millions—of people find themselves in this condition early in life. And there is no excuse for it. You can check that tendency to grow old. You can carry your youth with its joys and enthusiasm into your 70's and 80's. But you must give Nature all the help you can. The best assistance you can find—assistance of a sound, constructive character—is the use of
