

WOOD IS PORTRAYED AS CITIZEN LEADER

LEAGUE VIEWS STABLE

Senator Johnson Held Not Representative of Party or Nation. Some Slogans Scored.

Leonard Wood, soldier and statesman, republican candidate for the presidency, was portrayed to Portland voters last night at the auditorium, by Montville Flowers of California, as a citizen leader of strength identical with that which found expression in the public service of Theodore Roosevelt.

"On the league of nations," said Mr. Flowers, "Leonard Wood occupies the exact position of Theodore Roosevelt. He states the exact position of the mass of the republican party, of Roosevelt, Taft, of Lodge, and agrees with the great masses of the American people.

"Thus he maintains the faith that man under the providence of God has not come so far up into civilization of the world, only to fall and fall in the process of making and maintaining peace. His position will be the position that the republic will assume as the convention in June, upon which it will stand throughout the campaign.

"Senator Johnson does not represent the republican party or the nation in his ultra position and if he be nominated he must either reverse his position, by which he will stultify himself before the nation, or he will carry the republican party down with him. You republicans of Oregon, so far as lies within your power, will take your position tomorrow and the whole nation waits upon your sincerity and your sound judgment to give an overwhelming vote for General Wood.

"There isn't an American here tonight who believes that there is any chance of having militarism in this country. As applied to Leonard Wood this opposition slogan is a false and far cry. Do you not recall his statement on universal military training? He said: 'I am not in favor of leaving the subject of military training and preparation wholly to the people of the nation.'

"If there ever was a time in American history when we needed a man like Theodore Roosevelt," asserted Mr. Flowers, "that time is now and that man is Leonard Wood. I tell you, when Leonard Wood becomes president, America will have one of the greatest and most profound characters in all her history."

"Career Remarkable One. Speaking of General Wood's administration in Cuba, as governor-general, the speaker asserted that such was the volume of his experience that he has a record of more administrative and executive work than all other presidential candidates combined. He traced the rise of General Wood, from boyhood along the path of a career of achievement, to the point where he stands as the logical republican candidate for the presidency."

Judge Wallace McCamant, candidate for republican delegate-at-large, presided as chairman and paid a pre-tribune tribute to General Wood.

RIEGLANDS ARE DIVORCED Separation Decree Given Portland Couple at Oregon City.

OREGON CITY, Or., May 20.—(Special)—Ben Rieglund and Emil Q. Rieglund were married at Eugene April 25, 1909, and in his divorce complaint filed here May 18, he alleged that the grew cold toward him and that her manner showed a lack of love. He claimed that she had treated him to her detriment to his health and that he could not attend to his business. Their present residence is Portland.

A decree was granted Wednesday by Judge Campbell on default of the defendant and the care of their daughter was given to the mother and that of their boy to the father.

Property rights had been settled before the suit was filed. It was stated by the plaintiff.

OUTLAW UNIONS BARRED

LABOR BOARD REFUSES TO CONSIDER PETITION Body in Chicago Says It Will Hear Only Cases of Men Who Comply With Laws.

CHICAGO, May 20.—With the declaration that it would not undertake to hear any disputes except those which it is authorized to hear by law, the United States railway labor board Wednesday refused to consider a petition for a hearing presented by John Grunau, president of the Brotherhood of Yardmen's association; H. E. Reading, president of the United Engineers' association; and officers of 15 striking railroad unions.

The statement said it would only hear cases of parties who had complied with the law. The petition stated that no wage scale would be considered satisfactory "which does not meet the necessary machinery for all men and women now away from the service to be returned to their former positions, without prejudice and with their seniority unimpaired."

DECESSION IS GIVEN DARCY Portland Fighter Crowds Negro Opponent to Defeat.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—(Special)—Jimmy Darcy of Portland came fast enough tonight at the Coliseum in the last two rounds of his bout with Lee Anderson to entitle him to the decision. It was no fluke. Just a case of crowding the colored man until he had been beaten. All of which must be consoling to "Gunboat Smith," who a week ago hot-footed it away from the same Anderson as fast as his legs would carry him. Darcy was entitled to the verdict.

FULTON'S PAST NOT HEROIC Fighter, Self-Styled Faker, Is Coming Back Strong, Making Good.

Fred Fulton's past was not what a correct historian would outline as heroic. Most of those who followed his fortunes whispered "yellow" and Fulton called himself a faker. But with so many a new altogether too much for Earl Young and Referee Toby Irwin stopped the fight in the second with Young almost knocked out. Henry Gray won from George Spencer, Bert Colima won on a foul from Joe Ferro in the second. Willie Robinson beat Al Gruman in the fourth, the fight being stopped. Mickey Drexel beat Johnny Bell in the third. Artie Rose won from Renard.
