

JOHNSON LEAD ON LATE RETURNS 953

Hope of Wood Forces for State Upset.

FARMER VOTE DISAPPOINTS

5000 Ballots Probably Are Yet to Be Reported.

COOS HELPS JOHNSON

Other Counties Prove to Be for Californian to Remotest Corners and Lead Groves.

It was a favorable day for Johnson in the belated election count yesterday and as the day wore to a close the California candidate had widened his lead over Leonard Wood until it stood at 953. The count on the two candidates then stood, Johnson 42,864, Wood 41,911.

These figures include complete unofficial returns from 16 counties—Benton, Coos, Deschutes, Jackson, Jefferson, Josephine, Lincoln, Linn, Polk, Umatilla, Union, Wallowa, Washington and Yamhill—the official canvass for Sherman county and Multnomah county complete with the exception of one small precinct.

Farmer Vote Disappointing.

The returns as they came in upset the hopes and predictions of the Wood supporters. They had argued that in the Johnson counties the belated vote, being from farming districts, would be more on the Wood order and that counted the farmer vote in the Wood counties to increase the Wood lead there still more. But the Johnson counties seem to be Johnson to the remotest borders and in the Wood counties the farmer vote has not materially helped the Wood cause.

Complete returns from Coos county, where Johnson ran well above Wood, helped greatly to increase his lead, and the new figures gave him some gains here and there in various counties.

Rural Vote About Half.

How great a vote remains to be counted can only be guessed at. It is indicated, however, that the vote outside of Multnomah county did not run much over 50 per cent of the registration. On that basis about 6000 votes are still to be reported. In general, Hoover and Lowden together are putting about 30 per cent of the recorded republican vote. On such a calculation there would remain less than 3600 votes to be divided between Johnson and Wood. It would require an unusually strong Wood vote, as the voters have been running for him to overtake Johnson in 3209 votes. So the sum of the day's count tends to remove lingering doubt as to the outcome and indicates that the republicans of Oregon have instructed their delegates to the national convention to support Hiram Johnson.

Standards Are Unchanged.

Additional returns compiled yesterday failed to make any change in the standing of the leading candidates for delegates at large to the republican national convention. Wallace McClamant, Stanford Macdonald and Charles H. Carey and Conrad P. Olson continue to lead the field of 15 candidates. John L. Rand of Baker is running in fifth place. He is 1934 votes behind Olson. Although Rand is running strong in several of the outside counties where the count has not been completed, it is doubtful if he can increase his vote sufficiently to displace Olson as one of the four delegates at large. The vote so far as counted follows:

McCannet	32,898
Macdonald	28,309
Carey	27,024
Olson	27,024
Rand	25,024
Harrison	21,957
Hayes	21,957
Butler	20,796
Chambers	20,796
MacLean	20,805
Maria	19,816
Sheward	19,816
Hickey	17,188
Kellogg	15,959
Compton	11,841

For delegates from the first congressional district, two to be nominated, Walter L. Toose Jr. and Frank T. Wrightman are leading, although E. J. Adams and Joel Booth are both less than 400 behind Wrightman. The vote so far as counted:

Toose	19,931
Wrightman	14,549
Adams	13,829
Kendall	10,978

Brooks and Donnell Hold Lead.

W. H. Brooks and M. Z. Donnell continue to hold the lead for delegates from the second congressional district. The incomplete vote gives:

Brooks	4547
Donnell	3546
Cooper	3546
Curt	1600

Neither did later returns yesterday change the relative standing of the five leading candidates for presidential electors. The incomplete figures indicate the election of Joseph Hume, John F. Richardson, M. C. George, Clarence R. Hotchkiss and Charles E. Lockwood, although Lockwood is leading Walter L. Robb by only 1750. The vote so far as reported:

Hume	41,864
Richardson	41,761
George	41,855

1920 CENSUS CHANGES STANDING OF CITIES

Portland Forges Ahead of Denver, Colo.

Akron, O., Shows Largest Percentage of Growth Among 100,000 or Better Places.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—The population rank of the cities will show a large number of changes when the statistics of the 1920 census have been completed.

Several cities have moved up into the 100,000 class, in which there were 50 municipalities in 1910. Some of the cities of that class, whose 1920 populations have been announced, have outgrown other in the same class, while some having less than 100,000 ten years ago have taken rank well up among the country's 50 largest cities.

Akron, O., has shown the most growth among the larger cities. It has passed eight cities having 100,000 or more in 1910, whose 1920 populations have been announced.

The rank of the various cities cannot be determined until statistics for all have been announced. New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, first, second and third cities of the country, will continue to rank in that order, but the rank of other cities is uncertain.

Portland, Or., passed Denver, Colo., Washington, D. C., passed Newark, N. J., Cincinnati and New Orleans. Newark, N. J., passed Cincinnati. Camden, N. J., passed Albany and Spokane, Nashville, Tenn., and Albany, N. Y., passed Spokane, Wash.

Cities of 100,000 or more population in 1920 which have been announced with their 1910 rank and 1920 population include:

OUTERS FACE DEATH ON BLAZING LAUNCH

TACOMA PARTY, ADRIET, FINALLY SUBDUES FIRE.

Women Wait Signal to Leap Into Water; Engineer Receives Severe Burns.

TACOMA, Wash., May 24.—(Special.)—Sixty Tacomans, members of the Mountaineers' club, narrowly escaped death yesterday morning, near Port Ward, when they were trapped a mile from shore on a blazing launch, with a heavy wave tossing the craft dangerously about and waves entering the craft.

Strapping life preservers about them, the women members of the party crowded on the forward deck and awaited a signal to leap into Puget sound. The men, also wearing life preservers, fought off the flames that threatened to consume the little launch Posberg.

The sudden ignition of a can of gasoline with which Engineer Demming was attempting to prime the engine after a big wave had washed into the engine room and stopped the motor, started the fire. The flames from the gasoline spread to the clothing of Demming.

Attempting to fight them off, eyewitnesses who told the story in Tacoma today, say the engineer ran towards the forward deck of the craft. The blazing gasoline started to spread to various parts of the ship and it appeared to those who described the accident today that the entire launch was being consumed by fire.

After several thrilling minutes, during which it was feared the engineer would be burned to death and the launch destroyed, the fire was controlled.

The launch was only slightly damaged and proceeded under its own power to Port Ward, where Engineer Demming was taken to hospital and his burns dressed. The launch then proceeded to Chico, where the mountaineers left it for a hike.

ARMENIA MANDATE WANTED BY WILSON

Congress Requested to Authorize Action.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Authority to accept for the United States a mandate over Armenia was asked of congress today by President Wilson. The executive said he was conscious he was "urging a very critical choice," but that he did so "in the earnest belief it will be in the wish of the people of the United States that this should be done."

The president's message was read in both houses, but was discussed in neither. Each referred it to its committee on foreign relations.

Some senate republicans predicted that the message would lie in the senate committee indefinitely.

Chairman Lodge, of the senate committee, had no comment to make. In the past, he has declared emphatically his opposition to such a mandate.

HI'S MANAGER ELATED BY OREGON RESULT

SIGNIFICANCE IS PUT ABOVE WINNING OF DELEGATES.

Johnson Not Only People's Choice, but Also Only Candidate of Ability Held Showing.

CHICAGO, May 24.—Senator Hiram Johnson's headquarters issued the following statement on the Oregon presidential primary:

"The Oregon-victory has much more significance than the winning of delegates. It means that Senator Johnson has beaten the field and has upset the combined efforts of his opponents. Both the Lowden and Hoover forces threw all their strength to Wood and it was 'anything' to beat Johnson.

"With practically no newspaper support and with a meager volunteer organization, the entire opposition, with its highly-organized and sumptuously-financed forces, was repudiated by the plain citizens of the state.

"The state of Oregon has translated into fact the proposition that Hiram Johnson is not only the choice of the people, but is the only candidate worthy of serious consideration by the republican party to carry the pivotal and doubtful states."
