

BOOTLEGGER PICKS WRONG CUSTOMER

Whisky Offered to Internal Revenue Sleuth.

TRADE APPARENTLY GOOD

Trouble Avoided by Keeping One Brother in Jail Here and Other in Seattle.

Moral: If you must bootleg, don't do it in front of the Multnomah county courthouse.

This latest addition of "wise saws" was being pondered over yesterday by William Garman, attorney, as he rested in the courthouse jail.

Mr. Garman approached one of the internal revenue sleuths and offered him six pints of whisky at the bargain price of $5 a bottle.

"I'm at the U. S. National bank," said Mr. Garman to the friendly-voiced purchaser.

The crowds annoyed Mr. Garman, who suggested a quieter place. An automobile they drove up Fifth street.

"He's this for a quiet little nook?" said the federal investigator.

"Suits me," said Garman as he stopped at the courthouse. "Where's your coin?"

Mr. Garman produced from the pocket of his overcoat a shiny pin-like revolver Proves Fermannite.

The operator produced from his overcoat one business-looking revolver.

"Walk into my parlor," he invited.

Mr. Garman "walked" in.

"But it wasn't such a bargain, after all, thoughtfully commented the operator. "It was only diluted alcohol."

Mike Kopchik, who runs a soft-drink establishment, was arrested yesterday when he offered for sale a pint of cocaine-adjective used on the authority of the arresting officer—raisin moonshine at $5.

He already is under one federal indictment.

"He had a roll in the drawer as big as the metaphorical horse," commented the arresting officer. "Business must have been good, but the nerve of some people!"

J. Dusterhoff had a preliminary hearing yesterday before Judge Wolverton and bail was set at $1,500. He will be tried July 1.

Mr. Dusterhoff is accused of having with his twin brother, L. A., when he operated a series of stills in Portland and his brother did the same thing in Seattle, say the officers.

Twins Look Much Alike.

They are twins and so it is reported by the veracious federal officers, cannot tell each other apart.

"Why, E. J. is not even sure he's in jail," said Officer Beeman.

The twin brother, L. A. Dusterhoff, is accused of having with his twin brother, L. A., when he operated a series of stills in Puget Sound and there is a nice indictment waiting for him here when he can find time to be released and make a trip to the federal penitentiary.

It is related that the brothers were so much alike in school that their teacher tied ribbons on them. Federal officers feel that by keeping one in jail in Portland and one at Seattle there will be no misunderstanding.

BRICK MEN OPEN DRIVE

Nation-Wide Advertising Campaign to Be Carried Out.

A campaign, testing the advantages of common brick in buildings of all kinds will be inaugurated shortly by the common brick manufacturers association of America, and Ralph Stoddard, secretary-manager of the association who met with the members of the Oregon clay workers' association in the Oregon building yesterday.

Members of the national association make 4,000,000 bricks a day, said Mr. Stoddard.

Oregon members of the association declared they were heartily in sympathy with the movement.

Bids Received for Ruins.

HOOD RIVER, Wash., May 24.—(Special)—Among the bids just received by the city commission for the ruins and lot of the recently burned city hall, the firm of Svendson & Oesen, contractors, made an offer of $11,111.11. The accompanying check covering 5 per cent of the total, is for $555.55. Another bid was for $9999.99. This came from Hoskins & Jones, contractors, who said that by the sale will be added to insurance money and cash in the treasury of the city for the building of a new city hall.

Price of Bread Advanced.

VANCOUVER, Wash., May 24.—(Special)—The price of bread was advanced one cent a loaf to the bakers and retailers. The bakers raised the price one cent a loaf to the retailers and the retailers raised it to their customers. They allege that they were only making enough profit a loaf before now they will make two cents. Bread will sell now for 12 cents and 17 cents per loaf.

Houquaum Is Recruiting Base.

HOQUAUM, Wash., May 24.—(Special)—Houquaum has been selected as recruiting base for Gray's Harbor by the American Legion. R. T. Young, war hero of 14 years, unusual active service in many lands, is in charge. He is establishing subposts in other towns of the county.

25% off at Cherry's

Cherry Chat.

Cherry's is showing a charming variety of smart silk and satin dresses, priced temptingly.

There are scarcely two models alike—every one distinctly individual and with custom-made exclusiveness.

These garments are shown at a 25% discount from marked price, with the usual Cherry terms. Just a small down payment and the rest monthly.

Cherry's, 391 Washington.

SOCIETY News

THE Association of Collegiate Alumnae luncheon planned for Wednesday of this week has been postponed until Wednesday, June 2. It will be held in the Girls' Polytechnic school. Prominent women are planning to attend.

For this Wednesday one of the largest events is the card party which is to be given at Lauder Clubhouse for the fun of purchasing flowers for the sick. Corinthian Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, has arranged this delightful festivity. There is an addition to the workings of the cause, has added interest in the excellence of the programme. Following will be attractions:

Metropolitan Trio, violin, Agnes Ziegler, cello; Evelyn Prager, piano. Charlotte Kramer, dancing. Miss Geraldine Peterson, Whistling solo. Mr. Lund, Soprano solo. Mrs. A. W. Clarkson, Violin solo. Miss Marie Chapman. Piano solo. Miss Frances Hare. Soprano solo. Mrs. Fred Kribs, accompanist. Mrs. F. W. Young.

Moral: If you must bootleg, don't do it in front of the Multnomah county courthouse.

This latest addition of "wise saws" was being pondered over yesterday by William Garman, attorney, as he rested in the courthouse jail.

Mr. Garman approached one of the internal revenue sleuths and offered him six pints of whisky at the bargain price of $5 a bottle.

"I'm at the U. S. National bank," said Mr. Garman to the friendly-voiced purchaser.

The crowds annoyed Mr. Garman, who suggested a quieter place. An automobile they drove up Fifth street.

"He's this for a quiet little nook?" said the federal investigator.

"Suits me," said Garman as he stopped at the courthouse. "Where's your coin?"

Mr. Garman produced from the pocket of his overcoat a shiny pin-like revolver Proves Fermannite.

The operator produced from his overcoat one business-looking revolver.

"Walk into my parlor," he invited.

Mr. Garman "walked" in.

"But it wasn't such a bargain, after all, thoughtfully commented the operator. "It was only diluted alcohol."

Mike Kopchik, who runs a soft-drink establishment, was arrested yesterday when he offered for sale a pint of cocaine-adjective used on the authority of the arresting officer—raisin moonshine at $5.

He already is under one federal indictment.

"He had a roll in the drawer as big as the metaphorical horse," commented the arresting officer. "Business must have been good, but the nerve of some people!"

J. Dusterhoff had a preliminary hearing yesterday before Judge Wolverton and bail was set at $1,500. He will be tried July 1.

Mr. Dusterhoff is accused of having with his twin brother, L. A., when he operated a series of stills in Portland and his brother did the same thing in Seattle, say the officers.

Twins Look Much Alike.

They are twins and so it is reported by the veracious federal officers, cannot tell each other apart.

"Why, E. J. is not even sure he's in jail," said Officer Beeman.

The twin brother, L. A. Dusterhoff, is accused of having with his twin brother, L. A., when he operated a series of stills in Puget Sound and there is a nice indictment waiting for him here when he can find time to be released and make a trip to the federal penitentiary.

It is related that the brothers were so much alike in school that their teacher tied ribbons on them. Federal officers feel that by keeping one in jail in Portland and one at Seattle there will be no misunderstanding.

o'clock this evening at the Benson hotel, Mrs. M. Gheriche will be a soloist of the evening. Mr. Gheriche will describe the exploitation of the national forests by the government as recreational centers and the educational camps conducted in the forest protection.

This will be the last meeting of the Woman's Ad club until July unless special sessions are called during the coming month. A good attendance is requested by the programme committee.

Members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will be entertained at their annual picnic today at the home of Mrs. A. A. Bailey, 1516 Hawthorne avenue.

To the conditions of the weather luncheon will be served in the house at 12 o'clock. This will be the last meeting until fall.

American War Mothers Portland Chapter No. 2 will hold the fourth link in its annual silver tea today from 2 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Melissa Dickerson, 545 East Twenty-sixth street.

The women of the First Presbyterian church will serve the last birthday luncheon of the season today when the regular business meeting

TODAY'S CLUB CALENDAR

Women's Ad club, Benson hotel, 6:30 P. M.

Housewives' council, story-hour room, central library, 2 o'clock.

American War Mothers' tea, 524 East Twenty-sixth street, 2 o'clock.

Catholic Women's League, league headquarters, 2:30 P. M.

Corinne club, Mrs. William Killingsworth, 229 Alberta street, 2 o'clock.

Elmwood Teacher association, Elm school, 3 P. M.

Tuesday Afternoon club, Mrs. A. A. Bailey, 1516 Hawthorne avenue, 12 o'clock.

will also be held. All the women are requested to come at 10 o'clock and devote the day to sewing, as the work room will close for the summer on Friday, May 28.

At 10 a.m. today the Women's association of the First Presbyterian church will also be held on Friday, when an effort will be made to complete all the work that is on hand.

Russia Proves Friend.

—Whence came the shoes, the overcoats, the mackintoshes and the ammunitions that made possible the battles of Trenton and Princeton? We need not inquire what was necessary to remind Americans that they are a dependent people. We are so fond of expressing our independence that we often shock to many of us to be reminded of our dependence on other nations. Yet, from the beginning this has been true and has been recognized in our great public documents and in our history.

—American War Mothers' tea, 524 East Twenty-sixth street, 2 o'clock.

—In 1863 the southern confederacy seemed on the point of success and the United States blockade had just demanded the recognition by these countries of the independence of the south. And in that critical moment the Russian government sent one of its strongest naval squadrons to the northern port of the United States, from Arctic ocean. With that quiet move, the Russian government sent to France and Great Britain. We had been married 53 years. Five daughters survive. Mrs. Almira Bonner, Michigan; Mrs. Lucy Church, Connecticut; Mrs. Emma Farnsworth, Mrs. Nettie Heath, Elmira. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Elmira Methodist church. Rev. B. Waddington conducting the service.

ABERDEEN, Wash., May 24.—(Special)—Mrs. Louise Fluegel, wife of Carl Fluegel, died Saturday at the home of her husband, 1223 Auburn avenue, from a complication of diseases. Mrs. Palmer had been ill but a few days and was in the city on a visit to her brother when death overtook her. She is survived by her widower, Luther Palmer of Weiser, and three sons and three daughters. The casket was shipped yesterday to Weiser by rail.

COLVILLE, Wash., May 24.—(Special)—Mrs. Louise Fluegel, wife of Carl Fluegel, died Saturday at the home of her husband, 1223 Auburn avenue, from a complication of diseases. She is survived by her husband and two sons, William and Carl Fluegel, both residing here. Mrs. Fluegel was born in 1865 and was visiting Philadelphia while visiting the Centennial exposition in 1876. After the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Fluegel traveled by horseback westward through every state west of the Allegheny mountains, finally settling in The Dalles, Ore., in 1882. They went to Vancouver, Wash., and after a short residence there moved to Colville in 1885 and have resided here continuously since.

ABERDEEN, Wash., May 24.—(Special)—Mrs. Nancy Thompson, who died at Portland during the week, was one of the pioneers of Elma. She was a suffragette and a member of the Elma club.

At 10 a.m. today the Women's association of the First Presbyterian church will also be held on Friday, when an effort will be made to complete all the work that is on hand.

Russia Proves Friend.

—Whence came the shoes, the overcoats, the mackintoshes and the ammunitions that made possible the battles of Trenton and Princeton? We need not inquire what was necessary to remind Americans that they are a dependent people. We are so fond of expressing our independence that we often shock to many of us to be reminded of our dependence on other nations. Yet, from the beginning this has been true and has been recognized in our great public documents and in our history.

—American War Mothers' tea, 524 East Twenty-sixth street, 2 o'clock.

—In 1863 the southern confederacy seemed on the point of success and the United States blockade had just demanded the recognition by these countries of the independence of the south. And in that critical moment the Russian government sent one of its strongest naval squadrons to the northern port of the United States, from Arctic ocean. With that quiet move, the Russian government sent to France and Great Britain. We had been married 53 years. Five daughters survive. Mrs. Almira Bonner, Michigan; Mrs. Lucy Church, Connecticut; Mrs. Emma Farnsworth, Mrs. Nettie Heath, Elmira. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Elmira Methodist church. Rev. B. Waddington conducting the service.

Funeral services were held in Flinley's undertaking parlors at 9:30 A. M. yesterday for Mrs. Carrie L. Hinman, 61, who died Saturday, May 18. Interment will be at Salem. Mrs. Hinman was the mother of Mrs. Ella Hooker, C. W. and F. S. Rineman and Mrs. L. Stanford. For the past 10 years she has lived with her daughter, Mrs. Stanford, in Hicksville, O., and crossed the plains 30 years ago with her husband.

Dependence Pointed Out.

Mr. Redfield pointed out that this country's dependence on Russia is evident upon other countries as it has been historically.

As an example of America's dependence on Russia, he attributed the present prices of shoes to the cessation of the Russian exports of calf hides and wheat.

The jewelry trade and the chemical trade, he said, would be most handicapped if the United States were to send platinum to the Orient.

It was that in that event, his imperial majesty would find it necessary to send the Russian fleet to the northern port of the United States, from Arctic ocean. With that quiet move, the Russian government sent to France and Great Britain. We had been married 53 years. Five daughters survive. Mrs. Almira Bonner, Michigan; Mrs. Lucy Church, Connecticut; Mrs. Emma Farnsworth, Mrs. Nettie Heath, Elmira. Funeral services were held Sunday at the Elmira Methodist church. Rev. B. Waddington conducting the service.

—Russia Proves Friend.

—Whence came the shoes, the overcoats, the mackintoshes and the ammunitions that made possible the battles of Trenton and Princeton? We need not inquire what was necessary to remind Americans that they are a dependent people. We are so fond of expressing our independence that we often shock to many of us to be reminded of our dependence on other nations. Yet, from the beginning this has been true and has been recognized in our great public documents and in our history.

—American War Mothers' tea, 524 East Twenty-sixth street, 2 o'clock.

Committees were appointed for the annual choral picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. S. M. Gilligan.

One of the pleasant days of the club year is the day of the annual rose show, which is held in June. The rose parade and evening programme are features of the day.

Committees were appointed for the annual choral picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. S. M. Gilligan.

One of the pleasant days of the club year is the day of the annual rose show, which is held in June. The rose parade and evening programme are features of the day.

—Russia Proves Friend.

—Whence came the shoes, the overcoats, the mackintoshes and the ammunitions that made possible the battles of Trenton and Princeton? We need not inquire what was necessary to remind Americans that they are a dependent people. We are so fond of expressing our independence that we often shock to many of us to be reminded of our dependence on other nations. Yet, from the beginning this has been true and has been recognized in our great public documents and in our history.

—American War Mothers' tea,