

FARMER'S DOWNFALL
BLAMED ON MOVIES

C. A. Worthington Forsakes Plow for Whisky Still.

FILM GIVES INSPIRATION

Pictures of Moonshiners Declared to Have Given Idea of How to Get Out of Debt Easily.

Movies inspired C. A. Worthington to forsake the plow for the still. At least, this is the explanation he offered yesterday to federal revenue agents, who raided his Clackamas county farm and confiscated a whisky still, a few gallons of "corn juice" and a supply of mash.

"I had seen motion pictures of moonshiners and the way they operated their mountain stills so I decided I would try it as a means of getting out of debt," Worthington told Jesse E. Flanders, prohibition agent, who conducted the raid.

And to make the raid in keeping with the movie-inspired idea of Farmer Worthington, his wife pleaded with the government agents to take her to jail in her husband's stead.

Wife Pleads for Husband.
"He is needed here at the farm to milk the cow and to do the housework," she pleaded. "Please let me go to jail because I am willing to take whatever punishment you fix for my husband."

Worthington asserted that the high cost of living had caused him to let his feet stray from the furrow.
"I have not been operating the still regularly," he said. "Whenever I would get a little in debt, I would manufacture whisky and sell it and then pay my bills. Then I'd leave the still alone until I got in debt again."

Worthington is held under bonds pending action by the federal grand jury, which convenes early next month.

At about the same hour Flanders was raiding the still in Clackamas county, two of his agents played leading roles in a surprise party tendered to W. C. Crawford, down near Gervais.

Gervais Plant Raided.
One of the largest illicit beer-manufacturing plants ever uncovered in the northwest was located at the farm home of Gervais, Ore., last night.

And evidence uncovered by the revenue agents pointed to a wholesale brewery business of large proportions, they said.

Two large vats, capable of brewing more than 100 gallons of beer at a time were found. They also located a bottling machine, a large quantity of empty bottles and such other paraphernalia as are used in all well-regulated breweries.

Crawford is said to have admitted being the brewer, but declared that he thought he was within the law because the beer would not test more than a half of 1 per cent alcohol.

After taking samples of the beer, Gervais brew, one of the arresting officers was eager to water with Crawford that his product would show at least 6 per cent alcohol.

"I never tasted beer in the old days that had a better kick than this," said the revenue agent.

The agents used axes and sledges to make wreckage of the brewery and brought a few quarts of the product into Portland as evidence. They also brought Crawford in and held him until bonds could be furnished for violating the federal prohibition law.

WOMAN IS RECOVERING

Mrs. Frankie Bjorklund Expected to Be Out of Hospital Soon.

Mrs. Frankie Bjorklund, who was found in her home at 676 Thurman streets last Friday with a bullet wound in her left lung following an attempt to commit suicide, was reported yesterday at the St. Vincent's hospital to be improving rapidly. It is expected she will be able to leave the hospital in another ten days.

August Bjorklund, the woman's husband, was found breathing his last with a bullet wound in his right temple and lying beside his wife. He died two hours later.

The death of Bjorklund still remains a mystery. Police are of the opinion that Mrs. Bjorklund fired the shot which killed her husband, but a coroner's jury failed to hold her for the crime.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL MEETS

Second Annual Legislative Institute Held at Centralia.

CENTRALIA, Wash., May 26.—(Special.)—The second annual institute of the Women's Legislative Council of Lewis county was held yesterday and today at the First Baptist church. The sessions were well attended. Among the prominent women who addressed the institute were Mrs. Josephine Preston, state superintendent of public instruction; Mrs. Ida McQueen, matron of the state industrial school for girls at Grand Mound; Mrs. Sophie L. W.
Clark, Mrs. Victoria Trumbull and Mrs. Jackson Stillough, all of Seattle, officers in the Women's Legislative Council of Washington.

A luncheon this noon at the Hotel Wilson was a feature of the institute programme.

DR. SUTCLIFFE IS DEAD

Noted Divine and Chautauqua Lecturer Passes at Cottage Grove.

COTTAGE GROVE, Or., May 26.— (Special.)—Dr. Robert Sutcliffe, noted Chautauqua lecturer and divine, died at his home here Monday noon. The funeral will be held Wednesday forenoon from the chapel. The local Masonic lodge, of which he was a member, will have charge of the services, both at the chapel and at the cemtery. Several hymns which Mr. Sutcliffe had himself selected were sung and the scripture reading was also of his selection.

FIVE SITES BEING SOUGHT

COMMISSIONER TO NEGOTIATE FOR PLAYGROUNDS.

Tracts Desired by City Are Said to Carry Assessed Valuation of About $65,500.

City Commissioner Pier was yesterday authorized by the city council to negotiate for the purchase of five proposed playground sites, carrying a total assessed valuation of approximately $65,500. In the event that the city cannot purchase at a figure believed to be fair, the commissioner is authorized to file condemnation proceedings in the circuit court.

The tracts include 14 acres adjoining the Woodstock school, assessed at $10,180; ten acres of the Ruby tract at 824 and East Gilman street, assessed at approximately $16,000; two blocks adjoining the Richmond school, assessed at approximately $5,000; ten acres adjoining the Centralia school in Brooklyn assessed at $20,000, and six blocks in the Mount Scott district extending from Fifty-sixth to Fifty-ninth avenue to Fifty-ninth street, assessed southeast and from Seventy-second street to Seventy-fourth street. This tract is assessed at $14,220.

The council, according to Mr. Pier, is making a valiant effort to establish a playground in every section of the city with the money provided in the bond issue authorized at a special election last year. No attempt is being made, however, to purchase parks with the money.

ALLIANCE TO HAVE ORGAN

Company With $50,000 Capital to Start Paper Decided Upon.

CHEWALIS, Wash., May 26.—(Special.)—Trio alliance members to the number of 50 met here to organize a company to publish a newspaper. The principal attendees were from railroad employes from Centralia with a scattering few farmers from the north end of Lewis county.

J. T. Sullivan, a former teacher in this county, presided at the meeting.
Auctioneer Lewis of Centralia, Johnathan Swayne and others urged that the paper be started at once. It was concluded to capitalize a company with $50,000 capital and start the paper.

Frank O'Day, Centralia agent for the Union Record and secretary of the Centralia labor council; E. W.
Thral, one of the bailsmen for Sheehan, charged with the Armstrong day murders at Centralia; Mothers, Downs and A. E. Sherrer of Centralia, and Ralph Swayne of Chewalis were named as committed to work out plans to launch the new organ.

Still and Liquor Seized.

SALEM, Or., May 26.—(Special.)— Federal officers last night raided the home of C. W. Coward at Gervais and seized a still and large quantity of liquor. The officers said the still had been in operation for some time.
Coward formerly lived at Albany, but later moved to Portland. He located at Gervais last winter.

Traffic Ordinance Passed.

PRINEVILLE, Or., May 26.—(Special.)—At a recent meeting of the city council a new ordinance was passed which makes the speed limit 35 miles an hour in the city limits. It also prohibits racing on the streets, and no person under 18 years will be allowed to drive a motor vehicle. Signals are to be given when backing.
