Sheriff Gets New Shoes From Maker.

Answer to Question as to Taxes on Land in Linn County Brings Results.

ALBANY, Or., May 27.—(Special).—C. M. Kendall, sheriff of Linn county, has a new pair of shoes because he replied jokingly to what he regarded as a joke. A few weeks ago the sheriff received a letter from James E. Busley, a shoe manufacturer of Chicago, regarding the taxes on a piece of land the latter owns in Linn county. It seems Mr. Busley had never seen this land and had received varying reports regarding it. In his letter he remarked that he would give a new pair of shoes to anyone who would tell him the truth about the condition of the land and its value. Sheriff Kendall gave the shoe manufacturer the desired information as a matter of official courtesy. He supposed the shoe offer was a joke and merely the common expression of the writer as to how badly he wanted this information. So after he wrote the letter he, to carry out the joke, wrote this P. O. S.: "My size is No. 11, medium width." All this happened a few weeks ago and the sheriff promptly forgot it. The shoes, correct size and well made, arrived yesterday.
