

SENSATIONAL SUGAR PROBE IS IMPENDING

Indictments for Profiteering in Oregon Likely.

ASTORIA IN LIMELIGHT

Grand Jury to Take Cognizance of Several Alleged Bootlegging Cases in City.

Investigation into the sugar situation, which may lead to sensational disclosures and bring about indictments for profiteering, will be undertaken by the federal grand jury which convenes next Monday morning.

That a sweeping probe into the price of sugar in this city, which has that evidence tending to show profiteering and illegal manipulation already has been uncovered yesterday from an authoritative source.

Jury to Probe Astoria Affairs.

In addition to its official inquiry into the sugar situation, the grand jury will take cognizance of what is declared to be a sorry state of affairs in the city of Astoria where for several months past it is alleged the illegal sale of liquor has been carried on extensively.

Federal investigators several weeks ago conducted a series of bootlegging raids at Astoria, which resulted in the arrest of 14 proprietors of so-called soft drink establishments and the confiscation of enough alcoholic beverages to put half of the county's population in a state of intoxication. These 14 dealers will undergo grand jury investigation, and if the evidence warrants it, will be held for further prosecution in the federal court.

Bootlegging Cases to Come Up.

More than 50 additional bootlegging and moonshining cases will be investigated during the month, making the present work of the grand jury the heaviest to date. Federal liquor violations are concerned. Both Austin E. Fiegel, Jr., and Charles W. Roemer, assistant United States attorneys, have devoted a greater share of their time all during May in the preliminary investigation of prohibition violations and each has a large number of cases to present to the investigating body for final action.

Another inquiry which is considered of more than passing importance by federal officials is in connection with the sale of a large number of altered war savings stamps which were stolen from banks at Dayton and Harrisburg. These stamps were sold both in Portland and in San Francisco, and information in the possession of Assistant United States Attorney Veatch indicates that a ring of widespread ramifications has been carrying on the sale of these stolen stamps.

Two brothers, Morris and Dale Silverman, are now under arrest in connection with the sale of these stamps, and evidence against them will be the basis of the grand jury investigation. Other arrests and indictments may follow as a result of the official probe.

Counterfeiting Case Listed.

One counterfeiting case is also to come under scrutiny of the jury. Albert L. Goodrich, marine engineer, who has confessed to "raising" $1 bills to $20 and $50 bills, is expected to have an indictment returned against him, and he already has announced his intention of pleading guilty.

Before he was caught, Goodrich succeeded in passing a large number of these spurious bills on local business firms. His only excuse was that he was "hard up."

7 Districts to Vote on Merger.

EUGENE, Or., June 4.—(Special.)—The taxpayers of seven school districts in the western part of Lane county will vote at the annual school meeting in each district June 21 on the question of establishing a union high school at Florence.
